What can you do for me?

I can help think of ways to make things better for you in school. You may want help with things like learning, behaviour, making friends in school or discussing something which is upsetting you.

We will agree what information needs to be shared and we will work together to help make these things better.

Where will you visit me?

I may come and see you in class or at home. I may also see you out of class so that we can have a chat or do some activities together.

We may also have a meeting together with other people in your life.

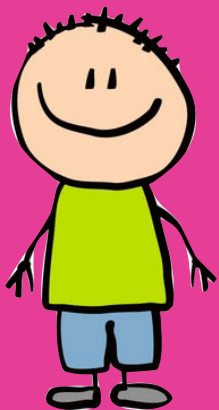

What is an Educational Psychologist?

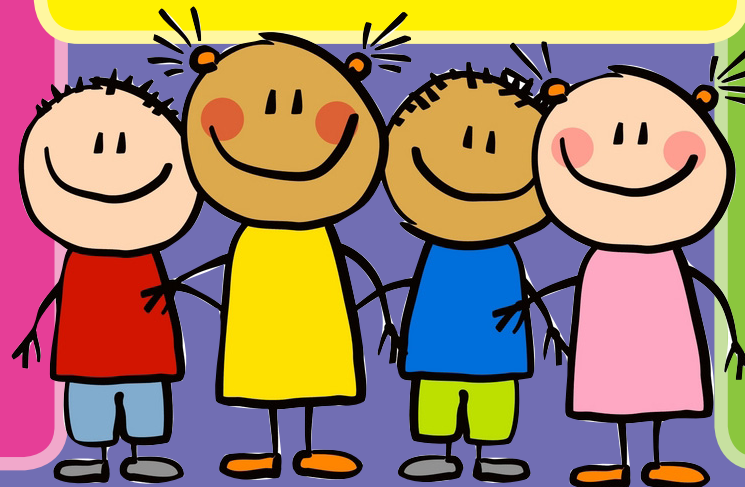

I am someone who visits schools to work with teachers, parents/carers and pupils.

I will try to help people think of ways to make school life better.

Why are you here?

I am here because the school, your parents/carers, or you have asked for some help to support you in school.

What happens next?

After we meet together, everyone involved will come up with a plan to make things better.

We may meet again in the future to see if this plan has been helpful.
