

Welcome to Eliburn Park ...

... a large, green haven in Livingston, where people can relax, play sport, meet friends, walk the dog, have a picnic, play in the playpark, go fishing and observe the local wildlife... this is one vision of the park for the future!

You may have heard that there are plans afoot to provide park facilities to the north of the reservoir in Eliburn, to ensure that it lives up to its 'District Park' status. Have a look at the plan over the page to see what's proposed. As Chair of the Local Area Committee for North Livingston, and an enthusiastic local resident, I'm certainly excited about these proposals and hope you'll take this opportunity to get involved too ...

Councillor Andrew Miller
Chair of Livingston North Local Area Committee

Fantastic Playpark!

As part of the park proposal, there is a plan for a large, new playpark.

This will provide something for everyone, from 3-18yrs old (and over!).

To see more detail, explore the website: www.eliburnplaypark.com where you can also give us your views on playparks in general and how you and your family use them.

There are questionnaires for both adults and children, so take a peek and let us know what you think.

If you want to view more detailed proposals of the whole site, see the plans on the council website www.westlothian.gov.uk in the planning → development control section.

Become a Friend of Eliburn Park

Would you like to be more involved in the future of Eliburn Park? Now you can show your support by becoming a 'Friend' of Eliburn Park.

A 'Friends of the Park' group generally works in partnership with the local Council, playing an active role in helping to develop their park. They may fundraise for extra improvements, plant things, create information about the park, monitor wildlife, work with local schools or put on events (e.g. gala days), etc, depending on the interests of the members. Being a member could mean anything from simply being updated about what's going on, to taking part in events, organising events or joining the steering group.

To register your interest, or for more info, contact Becky Plunkett, Community Greenspace Officer, on 01506 776 542 or becky.plunkett@westlothian.gov.uk
