1 INTRODUCTION

- 1.1 Legislation governs the decision-making processes of the council. In terms of sections 56 and 57 of the Local Government (Scotland) Act 1973, all decisions which are to be binding on the council must be taken at meetings of the full council, a committee or sub-committee of the council, or be taken by individual officers exercising authority specifically given to them by the council.
- 1.2 Section 50G(2) of the 1973 Act also requires the council to publish a list of all the powers delegated by the council to officers where such powers are to last for longer than six months. This Scheme has been produced to comply with these sections of the 1973 Act.
- 1.3 The council has reserved few powers to itself and has agreed extensive delegation to committees and to officers. The matters reserved to the council are listed in section A (paragraph 1) of the council's Scheme of Administration. The matters reserved to committees are mainly the strategic, policy and regulatory issues requiring to be decided by the council, while the day-to-day operational matters of running the council's services are delegated to officers.
- 1.4 The approach in this Scheme to setting out the delegations of authority to officers is to require the delegations to be given to the council's senior officers who are the Chief Executive, Depute Chief Executives and Heads of Service. These officers can, in turn, delegate any of their delegated authority to other officers under their direction, as detailed in paragraph 5.7 of this Scheme. Other than where a delegation is starred (see 7.1, below), In the absence of a Head of Service the relevant Depute Chief Executive and Chief Executive may act. In the absence of a Depute Chief Executive the Chief Executive may act.
- 1.5 The officers' delegated powers are divided into those dealing with services delivered directly to the public or businesses and the West Lothian community (public services) and those which are corporate functions of the council. Corporate functions include those services, such as payroll administration and information technology services, which are delivered internally within the council in support of the council's public services. Corporate functions also include those functions which affect the council as a whole or a number of different services across the council such as preparing and reviewing the council's Corporate Plan. In addition, this Scheme lists the statutory responsibilities of particular officers where legislation requires the council to appoint an officer to carry out a specific statutory function.
- 1.6 In terms of the council's Code of Corporate Governance, this Scheme of Delegation to Officers requires to be reviewed once every administrative term, that is once every four years. The Chief Executive, as Clerk to the Council, is authorised under Standing Order 33 for the Regulation of Meetings to amend this Scheme of Delegation to Officers in order to reflect any decisions of the council and any new legislation which affect this Scheme. The procedure followed by the Clerk to discharge this duty is set out in the Appendix 1 of this Scheme.
- 1.7 References to legislation have been inserted in this Scheme where the council is required by legislation to make appointments, such as proper officers, for specifically defined purposes, or where legislation authorises the council to take specific action affecting individuals' rights, such as issuing fixed penalty notices. Legislation giving the council general enabling powers to carry out functions has not been included in the Scheme. Any reference in this Scheme to legislation should be taken as including any amendments, replacements and re-enactments of such legislation currently in force.

1.8 Within the Scheme of Delegation to Officers, the following terms mean:-

1.8.1 "Depute Chief Executives"

- Depute Chief Executive (Heath & Social Care Partnership) (joint appointment with Lothian Health Board)
- Depute Chief Executive (Corporate, Operational and Housing Services)
- Depute Chief Executive (Education & Planning Services)

1.8.2 "Heads of Service":-

- Head of Finance & Property Services
- Head of Social Policy
- Head of Corporate Services
- Head of Housing, Customer & Building Services
- Head of Operational Services
- Head of Education (Learning, Policy & Resources)
- Head of Education (Curriculum, Quality Improvement & Performance)
- Head of Planning, Economic Development & Regeneration

1.8.3 "Delivering and reviewing" a strategy, scheme, plan or other similar document referred to in this Scheme includes the preparation and drafting of such documents, consulting on them, and implementing, delivering and reviewing them, but does not include approving them or approving any revisions of them of a material nature. Those matters require the approval of full council or relevant committee, as appropriate, unless specifically delegated to officers in this Scheme.

2 GENERAL TERMS

The matters in this scheme are delegated to council officers. However, the following rules apply to all delegations.

2.1 Policy

2.1.1 Officers must use the authority delegated to them according to the policy of the council, its committees and sub-committees. The relevant committee will decide new policy, subject to the terms of Standing Order 35 for the Regulation of Meetings.

2.1.2 If there is a question on whether a decision taken by or action authorised by a committee, sub-committee, Depute Chief Executive or Head of Service sets up or alters council policy on any matter, it will be decided by the Chief Executive in consultation with the Leader of the Council and appropriate Executive Councillors or Committee Chairs.

2.2 Consultation with local members

2.2.1 Subject to any stipulation to the contrary in this Scheme and paragraph 2.2.3, in using the authority delegated to them, officers must consult local members if they think that a proposed decision or action is likely to affect directly the constituency interest of local members in a Ward. This does not apply to proposed decisions or actions that have a general effect throughout the area of the council.

2.2.2 Subject to any stipulation to the contrary in this Scheme and paragraph 2.2.3, if a local member objects to the proposed decision of the official, then the matter must be sent to committee for a decision.

2.2.3 The rights of local members under paragraphs 2.2.1 and 2.2.2 above to be consulted and to object in respect of an officer's delegated authority regarding ward specific matters does not apply to the disposal of individual cases or applications under statutory schemes or council approved schemes or policies such as council benefit claims, sequestration of debtors or pupil placement applications, except where the council has decided otherwise, e.g. some planning applications, or where statutory procedures allow public objections, e.g. some licensing applications.

2.3 Statutory requirements, codes and standing orders

Officers will use the authority delegated to them in compliance with:-

- all statutory requirements affecting their services specifically as well as legislation affecting the council corporately (such as race, sex, disability and age equality, health and safety, disability discrimination, assessment of plans, programmes and strategies for strategic environmental implications)
- statutory Codes affecting the council as well as other Codes adopted by the council (such as the Local Code of Corporate Governance, the Code of Conduct for Employees, and the Prudential Code)
- the procedural requirements of the Standing Orders and Financial Regulations of the council.

2.4 Politically controversial

Items which are politically controversial are not delegated to an officer. The relevant officer, in consultation with the Chief Executive and the relevant Executive Councillor or Chair of the relevant committee will decide whether an issue is politically controversial.

2.5 Disputes

The Chief Executive, in consultation with the Leader of the Council and appropriate Executive Councillors or Committee Chairs, will decide all disputes on whether an issue is delegated to a particular committee or officer.

2.6 Conflict of interest

2.6.1 In using the authority delegated to them, officers must comply with the terms of the council's Code of Conduct for Employees regarding how any conflicts of interest arising out of any private interests must be treated.

2.6.2 In particular, when using their delegated powers, officers:-

- must not allow any private interest to influence their decisions,
- must not use their position to further their own interests or the interests of others who do not have a right to benefit under the council's policies, and
- must not involve themselves in any decision on allocation of council services or resources from which they or their families might benefit. They should ensure that any such matter is referred immediately to their line manager.

2.6.3 Similar rules about conflicts of interest are contained in the Councillors' Code of Conduct. Members must not seek preferential treatment for themselves, their families, friends, colleagues or employees because of their position as a councillor or as a member of a body to which they are appointed by the council, and they must avoid any action which could lead members of the public to believe that preferential treatment is being sought.

2.6.4 Where a member or officer of the council is related to someone applying for employment with the council, any such member or officer must ensure that they are not involved in any aspect of the appointment that might give rise to a conflict of interest.

3 ROLE OF DEPUTE CHIEF EXECUTIVES

3.1 The role of Depute Chief Executives is to ensure that resources are customer-focussed and effectively integrated and co-ordinated across all service areas and with other government agencies and voluntary organisations, as appropriate, to reflect the corporate priorities of the council and to maintain a shared vision for the economic, social and environmental well-being of the community of West Lothian.

3.2 The prime emphasis of the Depute Chief Executives' role is on strategic planning and innovative thinking, aimed at ensuring that the council remains capable of achieving its short and long-term service and business objectives through effective people, resource and financial management and a continuous drive for best value.

3.3 Depute Chief Executives should provide leadership, guidance and general management direction to Heads of Service within the service grouping for whom they are responsible. Depute Chief Executives retain overall responsibility for capital and revenue budgets within their particular service grouping and are also responsible for ensuring that Heads of Service are held accountable for the effective general management, allocation and control of resources within their respective service areas.

- 3.4 One of the Depute Chief Executives, appointed by the Chief Executive on a rotating basis, will act as acting Chief Executive in his or her absence with all of the Chief Executive's powers and responsibilities.
