Minimising poverty, the cycle of deprivation and promoting equality

People living in poverty and deprivation have significantly worse life outcomes than those in average households, and this is often determined at a very early age by family circumstances.

This means there is a human cost as individuals do less well at school, are more likely to be unemployed or in poorly paid jobs and will generally have poorer health and shorter lives. The financial cost is significant also, with people having a greater reliance on public services throughout their lives.

West Lothian Council has taken a number of key actions to deliver positive outcomes, and in support of the Anti-Poverty Strategy, including:

- Undertaken Employability Programmes to assist unemployed people into work
- Increased the range of additional training and employment opportunities to help young people find and sustain a job
