Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	As procurement/ financial support for council staff is already stretched and non-financial staff training is very basic, any new systems will have to be very smooth and simple to use, and there'll need to be very clear written guidance for non-financial staff, and clear points of contact we can rely on.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	reducing the number of systems would be beneficial as it seems we utilise multiple systems that don't interact effectively.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	If this means that the council services are more efficient and cost less to deliver with no unnecessary spending, then I am all for this idea. I would ask that change management is implemented and realistic timescales in doing this to minimise any major effects to customers.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think this is a good opportunity to modernise systems which can be more efficient but more importantly provide a better customer service.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Cost reductions are necessary but to the detriment of those vulnerable in our community for example the reduction to virtually nothing in community education	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance. There are rigorous internal scrutiny arrangements in place to assure the quality of our services and we are also subject to external audit and inspection.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Long overdue streamlining so excellent move. Way too many collecting wages for saying 'that's not my job, I need to pass you to someone else to complete your query' tick box type support	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance. There are rigorous internal scrutiny arrangements in place to assure the quality of our services and we are also subject to external audit and inspection.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This sounds like an option that must be taken forward to increase flexibility and agility in delivery for the future.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Technology could save tens of thousands. Hundreds of vans every week wasting fuel, traveling to hand in time sheets. Email sheets or use app. Use more careline tech, rather than care homes.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Consolidation of services would be beneficial and bringing like services together could improve processes reduce costs however reduction in staff may have an adverse effect also dependent on the proposed technology upgrades.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	In theory 'the greater use of technology' sound good, but we are already in the situation that IT Services are clearly stretched and providing an inadequate automated 'self service' that clearly is not adequate; We could save huge amounts of money by relaxing our procurement procedures and being empowered to go externally for provision of services and materials the frameworks system does not give us best value;	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is bound by regulations contained in the Public Procurement Legislation which set out the procedures to be followed at each stage of the procurement process leading to the award of contracts within certain spend thresholds.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I like the sentiment, reduction in staff numbers is a concern as this is economic activity. From a personal perspective it very much depends on the specific services that I am interested in.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I agree with this as long as the impact to the customer is minimal.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Supported, technology should allow for efficiency.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council's ambition is to use digital technology to open up new opportunities for our customers and encourage efficiency and innovation.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It is alright to have integration and to modernise but that should not mean quality of service declines. Most services now have no-one to answer direct calls, they are picking up voicemails and passing to relevant areas (or not the correct area) This causes delays and distress to callers, having a team that answers calls right away is so much better, constant complaints with regard to not getting through, having to e-mail etc, this is not good customer service	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council can be contacted in person through our officers, by telephone via the contact centre and online through our website or via email. This range of options offers customers choice and we endeavour to deliver a high quality customer service experience across every channel.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It makes sense to use as few systems as possible. Staff can be flexible in what they are working on and there should be savings in ongoing support and maintenance. However, updating systems can be expensive in the first place. Anything that is externally contracted should be constantly under review but you need to look at what it is, whether it is really needed and can the service be delivered inhouse at a lower cost or more efficiently (even if it means employing someone to do it e.g. legal services, IT support)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	PCOS is surely due for review - schools (and very likely many other sectors of the council) can purchase equipment and resources at a fraction of the price at supermarkets and retailers like Argos and B&M if you give them the means to do so - massive potential savings!	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is bound by regulations contained in the Public Procurement Legislation which set out the procedures to be followed at each stage of the procurement process leading to the award of contracts within certain spend thresholds.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think this seems like a sensible measure	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	That is good news that we are using the facilities to save money as I believe we do need to have cut backs in some areas but also we need to keep our colleagues as well	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Agree with this measure	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Following on from COVID and the changes to staff working e.g., Hybrid etc then look at reducing the number of offices that the Council have sell them bring in money from there sale and reduce outgoings over the long term on maintenance heating etc of these.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I agree with this suggestion. Noted re impact on customers but this is to be expected given the level of cost cutting involved.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The principle is clear. Not clear what the impact on customers would be?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance. There are rigorous internal scrutiny arrangements in place to assure the quality of our services and we are also subject to external audit and inspection.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	School transition and employability services to integrate, in line with external funding streams. Avoid duplication, maximise staff skills and resources and ensure streamlined, client centric client journey.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Make sure any new systems actually do the job that the previous ones did.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Any impact on customers should be explained unapologetically. Success stories should be heralded and put out there alongside anything adverse.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use all responses to the consultation to support the review of priorities and commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Hopefully staff reduction is through natural wastage and not redundancy.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Modernisation is a positive change and benefits all.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Some examples here of what this might look like would be helpful. I imagine it would be easier to streamline some services through greater use of technology than others.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Sounds good if implemented correctly with minimal impact to customers. From personal experience you could already do much better with same budget so there is room.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thankyou for your comment
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	agree that any duplication in any service departments require updating for the best use by the public. You need real people to deliver customer service not automation which appears to be the route we're going down. Some services at this point are way understaffed hence all the overtime being carried out every day and at breaking point / mental health detrimental for some staff working loads of extra hours beyond their normal hours burnout and lack of concentration / tiredness would be an issue as mistakes will be made and then you have all the rework to resolve. Reducing staff numbers again and again doesn't help staff moral and the further loss of experience is a negative and if new staff are taken on then you have all the time and cost of training them to full speed which in our area would take months if not years to manage all the legislation changes and numerous parts surrounding the actual job. Bad enough managing the job in front of us but adding further jobs on and onto everyone you end up with the service being diluted and probably more faceless	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Hopefully customers will still have the option for face to face contact	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Great increase in digital services but customers / employees must still be able to speak to actual people when required, not only through digital channels.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Expansion of online portals would improve access to local services, especially for those already working busy working normal office hours.; Rationalising estates through hybrid working could achieve cost savings whilst affording more flexible working options to existing WLC staff.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Excellent idea.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The use of technology is a positive step forward. It needs to be clear and straight forward to engage with, along with timely response rates and helpful answers to queries.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Stream lining and integration of services is good, to reduce duplication and out dated working practices.Customer facing is paramount though and the ability to contact the council should not be reduced. Remembering not everyone has the ability to text/email/webcam, etc so face to face contact is paramount. System redesign, etc should be aimed at improving efficiency and not causing more delays due to complexity.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Agree	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Services still need to be available to people who do not have online access	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The principle is fine, but lacks detail to provide any valuable comment. Frontline services tend to be impacted by changes in support services as they end up with having to do the work someone in support services did. Improving technology is not entirely a perfect solution and can cost a lot of money to implement and maintain. These approaches have to be properly risk assessed and costed in terms of potential consequences.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	investigations should be made into whether support functions can be more efficiently and cost--effectively provided by external organisations rather than by the council itself.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council places significant emphasis on effective internal and external integration and will continue to look for opportunities to integrate systems or processes to achieve efficiencies. The council has an existing shared service agreements with some public sector partners and will continue to develop opportunities for further shared service arrangements with other public bodies.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Streamlining and amalgamation of services may reduce 'top heavy management' and surely all council services should be from within with no external contracted services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Seems logical. Concerns would be that service levels from WLC have drastically reduced with minor or no cutbacks. Now with cutbacks I would imagine service levels from WLC would be nearly non existent.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Above seems reasonable	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Like this idea	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Services need to be accessible by everyone, so whatever means they are then delivered, need to be done through such ways as people can access them and this does not have a detrimental effect on the services they receive.; To make a full comment, I would personally want to know what services would be affected and the impact this would have on the services and outcomes to the community	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Less management supervisor roles and more workforce output	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	As long as the changes/impact on the customers are clear (to the customer) and practical (for the customer) then in principle, a saving of £1.2 million is welcome and in line with good management practice.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Good	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This is a great idea and will save the council a good amount of money and will make the council more efficient.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	yes thats the way to go ,but also need human input!	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council places significant emphasis on effective internal and external integration and will continue to look for opportunities to integrate systems or processes to achieve efficiencies. The council has an existing shared service agreements with some public sector partners and will continue to develop opportunities for further shared service arrangements with other public bodies.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Business efficiencies are often overstated when claiming savings due to inertia. I'm saying that, process efficiency and reductions in system duplication are always welcomed.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	As long as the staff reductions are achieved by natural wastage and people are redeployed, no redundancies.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Agree to redesign services to improve efficiency. However, using technology to replace human contacts does not always achieve this outcome for all. There are people who do not use technology as much as others, due to a variety of reasons including affordability or capability or just by choice.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to ensuring that a range of options are available to customers to interact with council services, including face to face, phone and online, and customers will be able to choose the most appropriate route for them.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think so long as any changes are communicated clearly to customers most people will understand why changes are need. I think any changes need to take into account any customers who don't have access to the internet.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to ensuring that a range of options are available to customers to interact with council services, including face to face, phone and online, and customers will be able to choose the most appropriate route for them.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Yes	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	sounds good	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	If this means that the council services are more efficient and cost less to deliver with no unnecessary spending, then I am all for this idea. The council places significant emphasis on effective internal and external integration and will continue to look for opportunities to integrate systems or processes to achieve efficiencies.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Focus on reducing/eliminating top-heavy management structures	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I have yet to see the council successfully reduce services in this manner. Absolutely trim the fat and modernise, however this must be done correctly of you are looking to achieve an agile function as a result.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Sounds sensible and a good idea to save additional costs	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Rather than having multiple "managers" - streamline from the top down rather than disposing of front line staff - people who do the REAL work	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This seems reasonable. The savings should be made at Head Office level.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Savings through streamlining services is important but will this have an impact on small businesses that rely on council contracts. Small businesses closing then impacts West Lothian and a lot of families.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Services should mostly be provided inhouse and occasionally by others. External contractors seem to be a way of life within the council when people already employed within the council's workforce already have the skills required to carry out the work. That would save money and protect jobs within the council.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Would agree with consolidating services and reducing staff numbers, as long as it was managerial staff and not frontline staff who would still be expected to provide a service.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	If you reduce staff numbers, go for the higher-level managers.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Perhaps it would be best to reduce the top tier of staff on the highest salaries who are not productive.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This sounds good as long as it does not exclude the "non digital" service users	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Agree be more efficient and where customers can self; Serve	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I agree all LAs could become more efficient and cost effective with new IT systems and processes. But this needs to be part of a coordinated plan and not a one-off, IT-based quick fix.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It is also important to remember the needs of people in the community who cannot use technology but still need to access services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Also consideration of how services are used by more senior residents who don't cope too well with technology needs to be looked at too.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Making efficiency services via redesign and using more technology is good. Impact on customers though isn't actually specified what the impact would be on customers so difficult to comment on that	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think this is okay, as long as it makes allowances for the many elderly and vulnerable people who cannot afford or do not know how to access services online. There has to be a safety net so no one goes without because they cannot find someone to ask	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	So long as customer disruption is minimised and more digital and automated services should be provided.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I agree in principle with redesign, greater use of technology and integration.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	If the systems/technology that are implemented are suitable for the tasks being undertaken and appropriate to the services they are supporting then this would be beneficial. If they are not, then this could just result in additional work and lead to staff being tied up with updating systems rather than carrying out the main parts of their role	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It is difficult to provide substantive comments on this proposal as there is little concrete detail. The aim of the proposal seems reasonable, particularly relating to the greater use of technology and there are good examples of this currently in use, e.g., the booking of a bulky uplift can be made using an electronic form. However, if an increased use of technology is to be made, please do not forget those who do not have access to the internet or who find technology challenging (not always the elderly). There are times when people wish to, and need to, speak to a human being.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The use of up to date systems would be an ideal implementation. However, these systems need to be fit for purpose otherwise everyone will suffer. Rolling out underfunded systems which have been hastily implemented will have dramatic outcomes.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Seems reasonable to reduce costs by using technology and being more effective in services	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Agree, with technology always advancing the Council need to continue to update systems and streamline processes.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This seems reasonable, but we must keep schools and educational programmes intact.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Increased efficiency is needed- stop duplication of services- use technology wisely. Consolidation of debts with rigorous audits and checking that work has been carried out to the right standards. No more duplication.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council continues to investigate ways to consolidate and better coordinate activities to allow streamlining of operations and removal of duplication. This will help ensure that activities are completed and managed in the most effective way.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Sounds okay, but it will impact on face to face contact thus distancing the council from its clients and tax payers.; How will accountability be achieved?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council can be contacted in person through our officers, by telephone via the contact centre and online through our website or via email. This range of options offers customers choice and we endeavour to deliver a high quality customer service experience across every channel. The Council regularly publicly reports on performance across the key service delivery areas.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	In the drive for "efficiency", please do not lose sight of sensible and reasonable standards of service and the need to be able to speak to someone. The excellent customer service currently provided by the Council should not be undermined.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will always seek to maintain or improve its standards and will keep a variety of contact options open for customers. Customers can meet staff face-to-face in various offices or partnership centres or by telephone through our customer service centre
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	If functions are over staffed or inefficient in their service delivery then this cannot be tolerated and must be reviewed.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Some services seem to consistently review their processes however some services seem archaic and not forward thinking in relation to modernisation without recourse.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	If there are services with excess staff then of course it would make sense to make reductions, there would however need to be a discussion on how the services look like going forward as clearly if less staff less ability to undertake the work in its current format.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Spending £21.3 million to save £1.2 million seems wrong as it will take the savings nearly 20 years to pay back the spending, making the council more agile should no be at the cost of your customers i.e. the residents. Savings should be made to streamline and help residents experience of the council services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is looking to deliver £21.3 million of savings through modernisation. At the moment it is estimated that £1.2 million of the total savings of £21.3 million can be delivered through service redesign, integration and modernisation
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I support service modernisation providing the project is carefully managed so that the planned benefits are delivered.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Efficiency & effectiveness is good, but 'impact on customers' is always a red flag. To the cynical it means what can be cut without people noticing too much. Councils are a vital form of administering local services and all redesigns etc should be afforded the utmost care & consideration.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	makes sense but has to be aligned with accepted changes in service standards/reduced performance (ability to maintain with reduced resources has declined)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Fine, as long as the third parties adhere to and have sufficient controls in place for data privacy. Will these third parties be based within the UK or abroad as different legal requirements are applied depending on party location.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council has a standard set of contractual terms and conditions for procurement which covers many aspects including data protection
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Cut top paid managers! To many Chiefs not enough Indians in the council	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It's disappointing that the council haven't spoken to staff about staffing reductions before publishing this online. I would have thought that given feedback from employees that this approach would have been seen as detrimental. We are seeing lots of key staff leaving the council, not least because of the return to office work, but also because they are now doing the job of many staff under stressful conditions. This reduction is short sighted and will only bring a short term solution to budgetary issues. There are far too many levels of management in the organisation and a reduction in these levels would be more beneficial and bring a greater saving than cutting staff. There are management positions that are simply not required and this council are very top heavy.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Cut the staff at the top, rather than staff at the bottom	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	agree but what about looking at procurement the council pay companies way over the odds for things	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is bound by regulations contained in the Public Procurement Legislation which set out the procedures to be followed at each stage of the procurement process leading to the award of contracts within certain spend thresholds.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	We need to reduce the number of systems that the council uses, consolidate where we can and share systems with other councils if possible	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Using technology is ok if the technology provided is up to date & can cope with the programs that need to be used.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It would make sense to utilise technology but it needs to be a good reliant system not the cheapest option.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Increased use of technology may reduce cost but will it still be easy to access essential services?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Understand reasons behind this but would have concerns around increasing technology at the expense of reducing opportunities to speak to someone rather than using electronic communication	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This makes sense and will work well as long as the systems implemented are fit for purpose and simple for users.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Going digital if possible is the best way forward with the current age we are in.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Removing paper forms, digital solutions across all services that automate things would make a massive difference!	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Tech moves so fast that constant digitisation is required	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I can fully understand why the council would want to re-design their services with the use of technology to increase efficiency, but I think we must not forget about many of the older generation who still rely on hearing an actual person's voice when telephoning when making enquiries.; This situation was highlighted recently when my mother who is 89 tried to contact the council. She was bombarded with various options e.g press 1 for council tax etc and was constantly reminded that it is quicker to go online. How can we expect our older members of society to feel included when this is being pushed at them continually.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The use of technology is great, however please make sure that the use of technology for any services is accessible to all - not just those with the latest devices or fast internet. Do proper user testing of any service, design the service and any user interactions with that system with the user at the heart; and complete proper cross-device testing on any tech solutions to make sure it will actually work for your customers. ; ; Consolidating systems to reduce overheads and make processing simpler sounds great.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Whilst this is understandable suggestion customer needs have to be considered as many do not have access to IT or have the skills to engage with WLC via this method.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	this sounds fine, but i would like the council to ensure that for people with disabilities/difficulties in using the internet, that there are even a small team of council employees who can assist with that support, in whichever area the savings are looking to be made.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I believe that the greater use of technology is a really positive step forward for the future. This means that services will be greatly improved and become more efficient. We need to ensure that important services for vulnerable people are not lost just to save money.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Using technology to increase efficiencies is a positive way to move forward. However, this must be offset by sufficient access to face-to-face services for the many council customers who cannot/will not make use of technology.; Tech-based solutions must also be fit-for-purpose and well-tested to ensure that they work first-time for customers.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Definitely agree with this - technology is always evolving and there are so many ways to use it in the working life	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Digital is a must in education but schools must be measured differently to encourage collaboration rather than competition in their approach	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This seems a reasonable means of saving money as long as the technology is user-friendly and easy for all to use.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Will staff be re-trained in the new technologys, particuallary IT staff, there is much of cloud based work, as an IT professional with over 30 years experience, I have learned not to liste	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Staff training will be built into deployment of all new technologies
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Makes sense so long as the council doesn't isolate those residents without digital skills	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Further use of technology should also account for the elderly and other groups with limited access to such technology	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	There is nothing wrong with services being more agile etc. So far, the effectiveness of using digital technologies is being hampered by a lack of these digital technologies - or the associated hardware, particularly in schools- and a lack of skills/training in their use.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Ongoing professional learning for staff will continually enhance the offer to pupils.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Do not use external consultants for this exercise.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think there is definitely a way to improve the efficiency of services to save money, Please be aware that this should not limit access to facilities and services, but improve how they are managed.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will investigate ways to consolidate and better coordinate activities to allow streamlining of operations and removal of duplication. This will help ensure that activities are completed and managed in the most effective way. Given the scale of the financial challenge, the council will have to review all services based on the impact they have on priorities, whether they are statutory or non-statutory services. It is proposed that future spending will be aligned agreed priorities.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The use of 3rd party's have, in my experience, never worked properly. They bid lower then provide an extremely poor alternative. In the long run the council normally has to come in, spend more money to put it right. This is normally to the detriment of tax payers.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council's best value framework determines whether services should be delivered internally or outsourced, and looks to deliver best value across all expenditure. The council must consider both internal and external provision to ensure best value. In some circumstances it may be better value to deliver through external provision.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Using external companies should be kept to a minimum. Surely the council has most specialities employed within. It is well known that extra l companies charge top prices for council work.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal. The council must consider both internal and external provision to ensure best value. In some circumstances it may be better value to deliver through external provision.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Services need to be modernised, such as the homelessness and housing services. It takes too long to progress requests and it's frustrating for customers	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is continually exploring ways to improve service delivery and customer response times
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This seems reasonable as long as there continues to be access to a human for elderly and those with cognitive disabilities.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council continues to offer different kinds of access for customers. This can be speaking to someone in person through an office, by telephone through the contact centre or digitally through our website or other online portals.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	While the services need modernising, the population is WL is ageing and the demands on the services are increasing. ;	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Savings are required but it should not impact level of service and should be addressed as streamlining.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	There is so much wastage that should be sorted out first , I know budgets have decreased so this is a time to make things more efficient before spending more of taxpayers harder earned cash .	1. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I understand that cuts are needed but these need to be considered carefully as everyone is feeling financial pressure and I am hopeful these cuts will not impact further.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Modernisation is a positive step and could help with effectiveness, sharing of information and communication between services. However this doesn't provide enough information on where this would be considered.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This seems a logical efficiency provided there is still sufficient central support for the services who require it.	1. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Modernisation is good for a lot of people who are able to navigate their way with technology but there still needs to be provisions for those that cannot manage. ; Consolidating services/reducing staff numbers often means reduced services in more remote areas - again this should be considered carefully. There are groups of vulnerable people already feeling isolated and lonely. If face-to-face services are being removed, there should be more staff available to answer phone calls/emails/letters.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Whether it's reducing staff or reorganising roles, there is definitely the opportunity to make each role more valuable to the council.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I love that you are looking at ways to be more streamlined and to be able to provide the best service you can, however, do not sacrifice the wonderful staff you have. I know as a customer as well as an employee i would hate to have to speak to a computer with no human interaction and this would make me feel as if i am not important and not willing to be helped.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.

YCYS 2028 Consultation Comments and Responses from Officers (Phase 2)

WL2028 Theme	Phase 2 Proposal	Respondent Comment	Comment Categorisation	Officer Response
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I would agree that internal systems could be reviewed and made more efficient, with minimal impact on customers. Better sharing of systems between departments and more autonomy to officers would also help in this regard	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Positive; To take this forward will require significant day to day intervention from senior leaders within the council. Previous efforts to achieve similar efficiencies have fallen short mainly due to momentum for existing processes and procedures within individual service areas.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Service redesign is an ongoing process and I support everyone's efforts towards the goals...; I have seen steady improvement in systems over my period here.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The council will also review a small number of externally contracted services, with a view to achieving cost reductions. - this should be seriously addressed and contracts should be correctly tendered.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Efficiencies suggested make sense however, reduction of staff numbers is a concern if it meant redundancies.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Many services can be streamlined and we should absolutely be utilising online services more. However, this should not come at the cost of hardworking individuals who have worked to get these systems online in the first place. We need to keep in mind the age range of the community and many in WL are of elderly age, utilising online services will not be an efficient or effective move.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Good to see that our council is working towards greater efficiency.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Centralising systems to become more effective and cut through nonsense procedures is a good thing and will aid in saving cost and time years down the line. ; Please don't reduce staff unless their role is completely redundant. People make these systems work smoothly. Putting the work of several individuals onto one person is also not the answer.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The scale of the further reductions required over the next five years will be challenging and the council will seek to use the existing range of workforce management and organisational change policies to deliver the required reductions in staffing numbers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Absolutely should be done. All public sector organisations in Scotland should be streamlined, less hierarchical and processes improved. Less talking, more doing. Measured on output and results, not the number of meetings and talking shops.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Sounds sensible although I hope the reduction in staff would not result in compulsory redundancies and that I could still speak to an actual person when I needed to.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Agree that modernisation of services is a good idea however I'd like to understand what impact customers should expect. Will reduction in staffing mean redundancies? Or re-training for support on other services?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reduction in staff head count and efficiencies need to be focused on back office internal council functions as much as possible with little to no impact in public facing services.;	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Good, but compulsory redundancies should be avoided as far as possible.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Another round of redundancies - what happens to these employees? How do they make a living while the council makes savings? There will be more impact to the customer - which means a worse service for the money we put in. Using contractors rather than paying employees, surely you are paying them more than you would employees? Maybe we should realign the management at the council - usually top heavy and on the highest salaries.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This could only work as long as the merging of existing departments doesn't overload the remaining staff.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Provided no compulsory redundancies are made, providing efficient & effective services is what is needed.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I agree that using technology is going to cost less in the long run and could improve on services but the fact it could lead to job losses isn't good.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think this is the most appropriate place to start trying to make savings as I think savings should firstly be made within the council's own internal business policies and procedures before asking residents to accept service cuts	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	reducing staff must also include management, less staff means less managers.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Use robust technology for all areas of customer service, but make sure that customer interaction is acknowledged and actioned.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Sounds like a good idea to make best use of technology.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	WLC should be a laptop based organisation, reducing the need for desktops;	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Investing in new technologies is paramount to increasing efficiency	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	greater use of technology to increase efficiency and effectiveness is a good way to go but you must make sure the correct system are used.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Loss of jobs at a financially disturbing time is a frightening prospect. Perhaps cut backs that still ensure employment even less hours be an option as redundancies can be costly, will impact some of your staffs families into poverty however needs must as certain areas of council services are a must for investment and improvement so I realise this is a difficult balance. Investing in technology is absolutely vital in the modern age though to streamline services and be cost effective.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Hopefully any use of technology will be well tendered and still have the right amount of human interaction.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	While the implementation of efficient technology is generally welcomed it should be remembered that not everyone has access or can utilise technology and we are still in an era where face to face interaction is required. In time this will continue to reduce as generations pass but please remembers there will always be vulnerable people who require a personal interaction.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Less systems cost less money to maintain.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Greater use of technology is good as long as there is sufficient availability for access to services for clients who are unable to use or access technology.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Its not clear what the redesign would involve nor its implications for service delivery. Improved use of technology and AI should of course improve overall productivity of services, but it inevitable involves use of the capital budget. With an estimated budget of £400m or so. A 10% per annum overall saving for the Council, generating around £200m of savings should be sufficient for the Council to avoid a debilitating 18% increase of Council Tax for individual households over the planning period spanning a Cost of Living crisis.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Technology is a big area that is being used to support services, this should never take away from vital face to face support that is necessary to combat loneliness and isolation. the use of technology within the council infrastructure is good.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Advances in technology should be used to increase efficiency and working practices modernised to also increase efficiency .	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Have to make sure redesign is adequately thought through and that technology introduced is appropriate for the task. Don't want to spend more on technology and then find there is no reduction in staff, or even worse it leads to an increase.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Better systems is a must, everyone must adapt to technology or loose out.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	With the cost of living continually on the rise some people might not be able to have access to technology as their income may have to go on their high energy bill. The council would have to take that aspect into consideration also.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	New technology should be used to improve efficiency, however don't forget that customer facing staff are critical to ensure councillors and executives don't lose touch with public concerns or aspirations.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Ok to make technology changes but staff need to be able to have face to face with people who do not have technology skills	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I agree that the council needs to modernise its approach to systems. There are far too many. Many managers seem reluctant to move with the times. Service design and modernisation of processes does not automatically mean there will be a negative impact on customers. If done well, it should enhance the customer journey.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Personally wouldn't affect me so all good although what about the elderly who rely on face to face, all government log in and passwords are too overly complicated for most people, I have to go through 2 log in screens just to pay my childminder which is my weekly chore	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The above paragraph is vague and does not give any examples. There are still many people who are not able to use on line services for various reasons, many of them elderly. This needs to be factored into the plans as they should not be excluded from using the council services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	When redesigning services please consider though who do not engage in online activities, services and these methods of communication as we run the risk of isolating these individuals more and more. From a service user point of view it is often far easier and more satisfy to engage with a real person when services go wrong(we still need good customer service).	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Agree with this as long as there is still actual people to talk to incase technology fails or can't help. Also for the elderly who struggle with technology	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The decreasing of the number of systems used by the Council and the integration of the services will most definitely improve the level of services we provide for the community.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	More on teams would be useful and more accessible.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Using technology and innovation is always a good thing to achieve efficient and effective workflows in all areas. But it does come with its challenges, and the implications and the risks should be carefully reviewed before making such decisions.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	More digital info and access must be the future.Transparent information on costs of contracted external services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reducing systems makes sense as you would save on the cost of service and maintenance.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reducing support staff isn't a good idea. It just puts more pressure on those that are left. I would agree with consolidating systems and resources though. I would also reduce high end management roles rather than support staff.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Good idea; perhaps integrated systems using tech need a person or two to oversee?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reduction in number of systems would be a good idea as the council currently has a large number of bespoke systems in each service area but investment in an integrated system would be required to streamline a system that can be utilised by all service areas and would be easier to maintain and plan for routine upgrades and costings.;	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Sleeker systems that allow information to be logged and information readily available for customers when they require an update. Joined up working would benefit customers and staff. Focus on the customer and staffing and reduce time wasted trying to suit all requests from departments. Design systems with those using the systems and value their opinion.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	As a trained financial person, undoubtedly, if you have multiple systems on top of multiple systems that can't talk to each other and requires extensive and specialist training to use, then, this needs dealt with. This may lead to potential staff savings but be mindful that reducing staff numbers may result in significant loss of knowledge.;	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Also new computer packages that were introduced to cut costs and streamline work should be investigated to see if they are living up to the full potential that was promised when introduced and if not then investigated why and work to get them working at full potential. i.e Itrent system.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Becareful and have a back up system as computer systems fail or can be hacked.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Do the council still use outside contractor's? If so could this not be done in house ...	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council's best value framework determines whether services should be delivered internally or outsourced, and looks to deliver best value across all expenditure. The council must consider both internal and external provision to ensure best value. In some circumstances it may be better value to deliver through external provision.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Services should be provided in house whenever possible as sub contracting is a costly measure and ultimately lacks vision of sustainability within the authority.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council's best value framework determines whether services should be delivered internally or outsourced, and looks to deliver best value across all expenditure. The council must consider both internal and external provision to ensure best value. In some circumstances it may be better value to deliver through external provision.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I agree that any savings can be offset by a more efficient way of delivering services in many areas, However i would not like to see vulnerable people being affected by any cost savings in the community.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	As the council will have less overall resources, the number of services delivered will have to reduce with services being reviewed based on the impact they have on priorities. This will include changes to service standards and the way remaining services are delivered. It is proposed that future spending will be aligned to agreed priorities.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I presume this is office workers as systems do not clean streets,empty bins or teach,feed or cross children at school . Not averse to this as ling as we as the customer do not suffer	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This does sound like a good saving as the council does have a lot of red tape and is very top heavy	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Agree - there is further work which can be done across this area. However, consideration should be given to ensuring adequate resource (funding for systems along with staff resource) is in place to drive efficiencies forward.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council has made significant investment in the IT infrastructure and will continue to allocate appropriate resources to introduce new technology where appropriate. The council's ICT Strategy seeks to deliver change in line with advances in technology and changes in council priorities, whilst still having a clear framework within which to operate.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This seems reasonable. it is difficult to assess without knowing the impact on customers.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Agree with this measure however it may disproportionately affect people with a disability/ additional needs or those living in poverty.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to tackling discrimination, advancing equality of opportunity and promoting good relations both within our workforce and the wider community. We have a duty to consider how we can work to tackle discrimination and accelerate progress towards equality for all.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	You need to state what the impact to customers would be. The use of teams internally is a good idea but there needs to be a face to face service for customers.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I understand money had to be saved but to the detriment of the people. We already see a reduction in services especially the road cleaning and blocked drains which are not being cleared. This results in flooded roads and footpaths.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to deliver its core responsibilities including its statutory duties and obligations. However, it is important that these duties are undertaken effectively and efficiently and any reviews will seek to ensure that this is the case.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It is already difficult to get any response to non-standard enquiries. By all means streamline bulk transactional stuff but keep a human interface for non-standard issues. It is especially annoying when a call from the Council is unavoidably missed and there is no facility to phone back other than through the constantly understaffed single contact number.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This appears to be a prudent approach - providing that reductions in staffing were achieved naturally, with the council retaining its no compulsory redundancy commitment.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The scale of the further reductions required over the next five years will be challenging and the council will seek to use the existing range of workforce management and organisational change policies to deliver the required reductions in staffing numbers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	without seeing what the changes are it is difficult to see how efficient/effective they will be or their impact on customers. the more self-serve the processes are the more it will free up staff to deal with those who need to speak to a member of staff	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Services and development teams within the wider council service in the civic centre should be reduced before and in school re-structuring is considered. The core priority of education is our pupils and we should therefore plan changes which will not directly impact their learning negatively. We should not be reducing PSW allocation or increasing class sizes.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The changes to Devolved School Management will increase the autonomy of Headteachers and teachers to make decisions at a local level to benefit pupils in their school. The Council intends to implement the proposal whilst still fulfilling its duty to meet the needs of every child.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Agree with streamlining and digitalising services however concerned about cuts to staffing. The council is one of the main employers in West Lothian and I am concerned about job losses. Also concerned that job losses mean remaining staff become stressed with overwork.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The scale of the further reductions required over the next five years will be challenging and the council will seek to use the existing range of workforce management and organisational change policies to deliver the required reductions in staffing numbers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Completely in favour of more cost effective use of services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I find accessing council services unnecessarily complex in terms of which departments hold which information and provide the accompanying service. This cost saving measure sounds like it will improve this issue. I think this is a positive proposal	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The current workforce of mixed tradesmen appears excessive considering that there appears to be a van for each employee on the payroll. Look seriously at reducing the number of tradesmen and more importantly vehicles and fill the gap with privately sourced tradesmen at competitive pricing	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I recognise the need to cut costs but am concerned that those who most rely on council will still be able to access it - ie that the support is available and that it is easy to find out about + apply for.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It's usually cheaper to have everything in house and you also have greater control and no dispute over who has responsibility. Customer facing staff members are vital, I hope that when looking at efficiency you will look to thin out management levels as you can't get fewer people to do more and expect to keep morale and service levels high	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	While consolidating and saving money we must still strive for a customer facing environment for customers as not all customers use online facilities and can find them obscure and confusing	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I am happy for this to happen if it means keeping these services but bringing them together.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council places significant emphasis on effective internal and external integration and will continue to look for opportunities to integrate systems or processes to achieve efficiencies.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I agree that there should be some sort of modernisation and integration however I hope the council will keep face to face appointments as well as telephone consultations. At present trying to get through to West Lothian Council by telephone is frustrating as there are always long queues.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Great idea, but could the WL Council re-purpose the staffs rather than pursue staff reduction.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reduce unnecessary bureaucracy as well as redesign processes to allow reduced staff required	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Staff reduction would be ok but currently staff have increased workloads as when staff leave WLC their tasks get divided up amongst the remaining staff as no budgets to employ replacements and the salaries are used as cost savings.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It will be good to see if it actually happens and they spend the money wisely but already my service has had its renovations delayed.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This makes sense. It would be helpful to understand more about what the impact could be for people. This would help manage expectations about what will be possible for the council to deliver moving forward.; Local authorities have had their budgets squeezed, by government and now horrendous inflation, for 15 years. The low hanging fruit for savings has long been picked and cuts are all the councils can do now so it's picking the least bad options.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This is supported but there is continued growth in work requirements and demands in these areas through ever increasing Scottish Government returns, audit requirements and additional support to frontline service delivery and customers so important that this is taken into account when agreeing savings in this area.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This sounds like a sensible saving, streamlining of platforms and greater use of IT should help to reduce costs with minimal impact.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think people like to see people, speak to people face to face, I do think things can be streamlined using better technology but the infrastructure is not there in some buildings.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I agree with this as long as the impact to the customer is minimal.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think this seems like a sensible measure	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This would potentially be a beneficial move. When dealing with the council it is not always clear which department deals with what issues and some complaints or concerns are lost through passing of information from one to another. If the right departments are amalgamated then this would minimise the confusion and get enquiries to the right people quicker. I am not fully aware of what is externally contracted so can't comment on that.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Agree	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I believe the above, if actioned, would save money which can be utilised for other purposes within West Lothian Council agenda.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	As long as services are not negatively impacted this seems fine.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This is an excellent idea, keeping as much as possible in-house could be a potential saving in some areas.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This sounds great and where possible we should be	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Seems sensible to review the internal processes to see if efficiencies can be used. This option provides no detail of the likely impact on a west lothian resident, therefore very difficult to provide meaningful feedback.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Updated and efficient systems seems like a wise and effective way to maintain a good standard of service.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Good to consolidate and use better technology to be more cost effective	1. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	As long as it improves core services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	We have no choice but to modernise the service and move with the times, life has changed so much over the past few years, very much digitalised.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I am aware the local authority is using automation in certain areas, and I think this is a good cost saving.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I would just like to comment that I don't envy the Council having to make these cuts and they will not be popular. It would be worse if Scotland was Independent!!! I cannot believe the state of the country just now under Scottish Government. If they would concentrate on the day job!!! I am very depressed with this consultation. If cuts are needed then so be it. IO know WLC are looking aheads but what a mess!!!!	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It makes sense to take advantage of technology to change services in order to save money. Has to be balanced with accessibility needs, however, to ensure council services are fully accessible.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Support this	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Seems reasonable	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	excellent	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Agree with these measures	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Consolidating the number of IT systems is the only reference that has some meaning. Would be useful to know what systems, or what a review would do, how it would be achieved etc. However, this is common sense to use the best suitable IT systems available to the council as surely if IT is properly implemented it in itself will deliver savings let alone the contractual cost reductions. Therefore, Im not sure why this is in the consultation as this should be happening as part of routine business.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Will some level of face to face service still be maintained across the authority for those unable to access digital services?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Efficiencies should be sought through consolidation of systems and reductions in duplicated services provided by different areas.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Agree with this approach however please ensure there are always going to be ways for the more vulnerable to use services through access to people not just technology.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The council has too many systems and could reduce these greatly by focussing on core systems such as its CRM system and Office 365, providing employees with less duplication of work.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think there needs to be a good balance between modernising and I am absolutely all for embracing new technology and ways of working but it needs to be clear that staff members (people) still have a key role, there are real people to speak with if and when needed and that the changes support everyone in West Lothian, particularly the elderly.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Depends on what services.; Think more should be done online.; Reducing staff numbers is not a good idea - especially if that means not being able to talk to someone face to face.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It is obvious that efficiency savings can be made when we see staff being sent out in 20plus mile per hour winds with leaf blowers, 5 staff to plant a small replacement tree and grass cutting in snow. Poor judgment by someone . No coordinated approach to drainage maintenance causing flooding, and deterioration of our roads infrastructure to name but a few. Proactive rather than reactive.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Further redesign of functions makes financial sense but this requires individuals with high levels of skill to achieve successfully. Having the right people, with the right skills will be essential to enable this activity and there is a question mark over whether such skill exists within the local authority. There is a real risk of excessive workload for those in new amalgamated roles leading to absences and further weakening service delivery.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Is this something that the council thinks the community will understand? Designing services to meet community needs in the most cost effective and efficient way is something that should be done no matter whether it is part of a consultation or not, it should be a structured programme of continuous review and strict governance review to ensure outcomes. What services will be redesigned? What will the redesign process look like, for example will it include community and staff engagement to redesign the service based on service needs etc? What will be integrated? Integration of what?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes. The council will engage with customers when redesigning the services they provide to them.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	All services should be encouraged to think about redesign and automation in order to deliver efficiency. My service has worked with the Transformation / digital team to redesign some processes and enhance our use of technology, and I would encourage all others to think about doing the same.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes. The Corporate Transformation Team is an enabling service which can assist services with modernisation and service redesign processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Assuming this is a cost saving per year and not over the three year period this is admirable.; ; To complete this, it has to be certain that the integration will help reduce cost as well as improve the efficiency. Otherwise, people will be frustrated that services are not happening as expected.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance. There are rigorous internal scrutiny arrangements in place to assure the quality of our services and we are also subject to external audit and inspection.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This would provide significant savings.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Integration and greater use of technology should allow for reduction in staffing with minimum impact	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think redesign of services and service delivery models is an activity which should be undertaken on regular basis.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Yet more costing measures. Anything to improve operations is good. I am still trying to get the Council to help me get my Autistic child back to school and the council services for doing this are pitiful.; ;	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	If there has been a failure of service on our part and you are dissatisfied please use the formal complaints process to escalate this issue. Each complaint is fully investigated, reviewed by Senior Management and improvement actions are taken, where appropriate. The Council has a formal Complaint Handling Procedure, which all staff must follow, this is monitored by the Scottish Public Services Ombudsmen, who also deals with escalated complaints where a customer is dissatisfied with the council's response.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	In the private sector the modernisation of the organisation is common place and is done on a regular cycle as part of a ceo's job. That is why they get the largest salaries. ;	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Scottish Government funding will be insufficient to match the cost of providing council services, and therefore it is necessary for the council to identify ways it can save money through modernisation and new ways of working
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Agree with all except the outsourcing of key jobs within	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I agree but staff burden should not be excessive. Reducing external contracts is worth looking at.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It could be possible to make more savings by outsourcing services and reducing vast amount of staff. Technology is a losing battle the systems we have are not fit for purpose and some of the system's integrity is negligible. System outages far too often. I.T. don't appear to offer robust system checking services and I.T. rely on the user to tell them when things aren't working. Tenant facing systems are definitely in need of modernisation tenants portal causes more issues than it helps.; ; Double/treble/quadruple handling of cases/jobs is evident. Unfortunately, At times we deserve our reputation. We need to speculate to accumulate here we need to pay more for people on the ground to become an organisation people want to work for again increase our reputation for customer satisfaction and get issues dealt with at first attempt.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council has made significant investment in the IT infrastructure and will continue to allocate appropriate resources to introduce new technology where appropriate. The council's ICT Strategy seeks to deliver change in line with advances in technology and changes in council priorities, whilst still having a clear framework within which to operate.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I agree with outside contractors not receiving contracts in my opinion they do not do as good a job for a lot more money	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	merge similar services together and look to reduce top tier management	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	merge similar services and it will reduce workers and save money	1. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Good plan - there is far too much wastage in the pay or Sector	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.

The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	As hard as it is staffing levels are one way to cut the budget and maybe pointless exercises such as electrical checks need to stop if people owned houses they wouldn't have these anyway	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Instead of farming out contracts surly its cost effective to use your own workers to do this work.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Redundancy packages for staff with long service.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The councils are all top heavy in every department. This level of management would never be tolerated in the private sector.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Use less contractors or shop around and use the cheapest and most effective companies.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is bound by regulations contained in the Public Procurement Legislation which set out the procedures to be followed at each stage of the procurement process leading to the award of contracts within certain spend thresholds.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This in theory is a good move however you will need to ensure that training is provided for the staff left to do the jobs! I do think that cutting costs higher up the tree is more effective as the lower paid workers tend to be the support staff who are actually the ones that do the majority of the admin work.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Agree, The council should maximises it's use of technology to benefit staff and customers alike. Any redesign however should not adversely impact on other council departments therefore changes made need to have a full understanding of any consequences or changes elsewhere.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Always best to have integrated systems which can be used council wide, this will result in better results and lower costs	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Embrace technology however staff levels have to be sufficient to provide the current level of service - less staff = poorer service. Important to get value for money with any outsourced services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This proposal sounds rather vague, I'd like to understand more specifically what you mean by 'internal business' and 'redesigning services'. Having said that, modernisation through more technology (provided it will stand the test of time) will make processes more efficient.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This proposal makes sense. Businesses should utilise digital technology to its full extent, where and when it is most appropriate.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It is important to meet statutory (legal) requirements especially in many of the services that the Council offer and these should not be compromised. Using extended technology is a good way forward, though not everyone that WLC looks after will be computer literate and have access to a computer to access the services. There would have to be some provision for these people.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Technology is a good way to reduce staffing for manual repetitive duties (such as invoice reading software). This could possibly manage cashflow more efficiently.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Move more services online	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	There are too many systems being used which is not only time consuming but is not cost effective	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I do have concerns re reducing frontline Services as not all digitally included, and this could impact on potentially vulnerable clients. Additional of technology would help to reduce as long as alternate frontline service still available. Services have been overwhelmed under the Cost of Living Crisis so reduction to services does not seem best time to introduce cuts to services..	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This would only be achievable with the appropriate infrastructure in place to support service redesign. For example, Clickshare technology available in all Council buildings to facilitate hybrid meetings to promote efficiency, more responsive agile solutions for web content to encourage a digital first channel shift, more automated functions/bots to direct customers to online information and solutions, better telephone systems to appropriately direct calls to relevant services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Cheapest IT does not mean more efficient or effective service- needs to be systems /services that are viable and reliable	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Invest in the best systems available that can be future proofed. Don't go for the cheapest.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	its important to remember about people who still needs traditional service and face to face contacts	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I believe it would be a good idea to integrate the use of technology to increase efficiency and effectiveness however I would hope the reduction on staff numbers would still provide a suitable level of support to our customers.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	All systems need updated at least a few hours a week my pda will not work did maintenance on system over the weekend and it would not work till nine on Monday	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Efficiencies gained using better use of technology will be useful as long as the technology and support to that technology is good enough to limit any negative impact on services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Supportive. I've thought the online reporting tool of road pothole issues excellent and the response is virtually immediate. ; My only concern is that people who don't have access to technology still are able to access services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Agree but there should also be ways that clients can still access services who have learning disabilities or are older who don't/can't use technology.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	WLC should be moving forward with technology	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Think it is beneficial to consolidate the services, if this means that departments are talking to each other more. ; ; However not everyone can use technology and this will be bad. Need to make sure people that can't use technology that the options are still there.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I accept that staff numbers will have to reduce and agree that efficiency can be improved by use of technology and more efficient systems. However it is critical that people can still email to contact a real person rather than automated replies/ only sending to pre written responses which is highly frustrating and often of no use	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Moving to use technology to increase efficiency may not suit all stakeholders and relies heavily on ALL having access to technology.	1. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I would welcome innovation and better use of digital solutions as long as it didn't mean just removing the work from one service and integrating it into the work of other team and service managers. it has to add value and help save time. It would also be helpful if it was able to link with external data gathering systems or use similar parameters to avoid duplication for users.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Since the council deploys a very large number of IT applications, it would make sense to rationalise these where possible.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Modernisation is good and will help us be ready for the future but please also be aware many of our service users will not be able to use technology or access this. The current cost of living crisis means a lot of people will not be able to afford smart devices or Wi-Fi or the fares to travel to centres.	1. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	However, in general yes redesigning services should happen with better use of technology however statutory services should also be appropriately funded to deliver their statutory functions. Any redesign of such statutory services should also be done by someone or a team of people who understand what the main statutory functions are and what cannot be changed legally by either getting in specialised consultants or	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Finding way to work smarter will help. In addition to the above, better comms systems, review or working practices (systems and procedures) can all help to reduce costs. Reviewing working practices and stopping doing things that are no longer necessary.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	on the face of it, it seems to make sense. i would hope that the impact on customers will be minimal as over the last few years customers have received less from the business and paid the same.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	While I understand the need for these savings, I am concerned that customers will not be able to contact Officers when they need to in a manner that is easy for them.; £1.2million is an enormous sum of money, how many staff will be lost, and what are the external services you are reviewing?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Sounds OK - my only question is how much do the remaining externally contracted services cost / could they be taken in-house to save more?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Redesigning anything is only valuable IF it works long term. Make sure it does, fed up with Civil organisation "redesign"	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Streamlining is fine - hope customers will be made aware in advance how this will affect them	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I am aware of the need to modernise services and can't see any other solution	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	All for redesign and innovative thinking - Be bold!!	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I am hoping that this modernisation will not leave existing West Lothian staff without jobs. I would like to think people would be redeployed within the new council structure.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	We should look to streamline services where possible to improve efficiency as the Council is largely inefficient.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Every council needs to modernise	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	External contracted services on some occasions end up costing more than in house, how will this be measured	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance. There are rigorous internal scrutiny arrangements in place to assure the quality of our services and we are also subject to external audit and inspection.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I support the ideas of service redesign and greater integration. There is a danger though that we 'spread' ourselves too thin and that we grow the publics expectations, and we are unable to meet this demand for our services in the future.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Whilst it is admirable to try and make services more streamlined, the reality is that the council undergone efficiencies and redesigns in the past that means we are already lean and deliver in the best way. In order to achieve this level of service we have to reduce the scope of services delivered, concentrating on real statutory services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Any removal of duplication of services & effective use of available resources would be good. Sad if it impacts jobs	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Use of externally contracted services implies adding profit to external, (private), companies and merely indicates that better WL Council management should achieve the desired cost reductions. DO NOT USE EXTERNALLY CONTRACTED SERVICES - EVER!; "Management" is repeatedly shown to fall far short of its name. I continue to have to deal with WL bureaucracy that indicates levels of management that are not worthy of the name. Does this go right to the top? No doubt it will be the people that actually do the practical and physical work who will pay in any jobs reduction. This £1.2 million cost reduction is unspecific.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is bound by regulations contained in the Public Procurement Legislation which set out the procedures to be followed at each stage of the procurement process leading to the award of contracts within certain spend thresholds.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I agree with consolidating services and systems but why reduce staff before that is in place? Surely it would be better to plan and implement that properly before considering staff reductions. Surely there shouldn't be any need to impact customers at all.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	If the changes have been designed to make the service more streamline I would support it. However losing staff at this point is never great.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	streamlining procedures and staff inefficiency would be a plus, there's nothing more frustrating for a resident asking for something to be done and being told something to the effect of " sorry council employee x isn't available and there's absolutely no one remotely qualified to help you "	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council has clear policies and procedures in place to support the effective management of our workforce. Many of our staff regularly go above and beyond for customers in the services that they deliver. Where any of our employees have failed to meet the expected standards, managers are required to take action, in line with our policies and procedures, to support, train or counsel staff in order to help them improve.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Hi am pleased to see the council is trying to figure proof it's services. However I am assuming that this may result in staff. Cute as efficiencies are put into place. I am correct if so .how will the cuts happen. If it will be by staff being located into different areas of the council. Have staff been told about how the changes will possibly affect them.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This appears sensible but it should be ensured management type posts are reduced alongside the lower level jobs in proportionate numbers	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Without saying what the impact on customers potentially is, it is difficult to meaningfully comment on this proposal, however if this leads to greater efficiencies without a major impact then it is worth considering.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	As long as it's not sub contractors coming in	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is bound by regulations contained in the Public Procurement Legislation which set out the procedures to be followed at each stage of the procurement process leading to the award of contracts within certain spend thresholds.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I agree with the modernising of services and infrastructure however this should not result in job losses.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Yes I agree money needs to be spent wisely and possibly streamlined as long as no more services are cut	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Restructuring is important (although often difficult) for many organizations. The larger the organization - the less efficient you become. Yes, restructure accordingly.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I fully support these measures and would encourage them to be expanded where possible.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Contracted Services seem like a good idea in term of cost saving. However, from the experience on contract Project Manager, it would take a little while for any new contractor to get use to with the process and how thing work. As a short-term employee, contractor seem to not be invested in the business which have impact on the quality of work which will not become apparent until after they have left the business. This would add additional cost to the council to resolve any issue.; My suggestion would be the council creating a specialist team who can be flexed as required instead of using contractor.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Not a lot to argue against here if you can do it so be it ; Management tiers in Departments should be three at a maximum	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think the reduction of staff numbers is inevitable. The council just has to ensure they happen in the right place. Council services need to be prioritised and only those functions and services which are essential need to be continued.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Stop tendering work out work to outside firms services are not the same with outside contractors	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is bound by regulations contained in the Public Procurement Legislation which set out the procedures to be followed at each stage of the procurement process leading to the award of contracts within certain spend thresholds.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Should review the outgoing cost of external contractors when wlc employees are leaving to work for these contractors on more money. How are the companies managing to pay higher wages	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is bound by regulations contained in the Public Procurement Legislation which set out the procedures to be followed at each stage of the procurement process leading to the award of contracts within certain spend thresholds.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I would definitely look at all externally contracted services and seek fair and fixed price work contracts and not waste so much on inflated and unreasonable quotes.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is bound by regulations contained in the Public Procurement Legislation which set out the procedures to be followed at each stage of the procurement process leading to the award of contracts within certain spend thresholds.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Good idea. Could this expenditure be reduced further? ; For example, cut politically motivated 'services' to the bone - including all Gaelic translation. No one in West Lothian NEEDS to speak Gaelic - why should I pay through my taxrs for this?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use all responses to the consultation to support the review of priorities and commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Don't fully understand but would support the review of externally contracted services to achieve cost reductions	1. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	If done properly with good management and clear plans this is sensible. WL Council should consider removing any silo working, critically review bureaucracy impediments and not be constrained by misguided views that some things cannot be changed. A root and branch review should be conducted by there should also be an ongoing commitment to review every three years or so to ensure the council services still provide value for money and deliver the needs of the people of WL, particularly the most vulnerable.	1. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I agree with modernisation of services and using appropriate technology to streamline interaction with the public.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Whilst understanding the need to use all types of technology I remain concerned for small groups without ability to use these being marginalised	1. The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I suggest care if paying for new technology involves losing hard working long serving staff. Experienced and enthusiastic staff are your best resource.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Consolidation of systems could bring potential benefits, however consideration must be taken to ensure that preferred systems are fit for all types of purposes / services that could be using them. There is a danger that preferred systems are used and various services and processes are forced into using that system that isn't quite right for the particular process. There may also be issues with the fact that these systems are contracted and may have contract expiry dates in the near future. Is there a risk that any re-tendering of these systems cause more upheaval to transfer large numbers of processes / functions to another system?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Good idea, as long as consideration is given to retaining some access for customers to council staff for advice etc rather than just relying on electronic contact	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I would hope that there would be a focus on external cost savings first and streamlining IT systems.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Little impact on communities and technology should make things quicker.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	New technology is not free, what are your estimated IT costs for implementing any new system? Whilst beneficial in long run will savings be materialised this year if outlay greater?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Technology is inevitable. If it saves money then it may be the best way	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Greater integration and shared technology needed. Too much duplication and wasted manpower	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This is ok for me as I have internet & access to a computer & technology however not everyone has this some access so as long as the local Library is available for people to use I think this would be ok	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Implement effective and efficient technology systems instead of overpriced systems that don't do the job.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	A vague proposal so difficult to comment. However, it's always worth looking at ways to make systems more efficient. Technology doesn't and shouldn't always replace good people though.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think technology should be optimised to create efficiencies and cost reduction.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Modernisation is fine through digital technologies however you need to be mindful many people need face to face or someone to speak to ; ; Bring more contracts back in house and retrain existing staff to deliver to protect posts ; ;	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Living in an age where everything is done online I highly; Commend this, (apart from the job losses), but you do need to ensure that customers who cannot/ do not like to use online systems	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I like the sound of this. Use of technology and service design should be a way of making services more efficient whilst improving service for the customer.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Better use of technology and brining contracts in house where possible is a good idea. Need to ensure there is relevant support for customers in making use of technology	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	There are still a lot of elderly people who prefer to speak to someone in person. Not everyone has access to a computer etc. Technology works great for those who know how to use it !	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I support this as long as there is an alternative in place for people who cant/won't use online or other technology services	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	With long-term investment in robust and intuitive digital services, I see no issue with the above proposal.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	- Agree with the review of externally contracted services.; - Face to face customers service is crucial and makes difference essentially for elderly people.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Services should be strongly encouraged to modernise and digitalise their processes. There is still too many services working in ways that are costly, inefficient and result in delays and poor outcomes for customers. This should be an imperative.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	a lot of issues could be reported on line or have queries raised. However not everyone has access to internet or are comfortable using a "hit no ?" key . Therefore hopefully the option to speak to a human would available.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Of all areas called out here, I believe the "number of systems" should be looked at as a priority. We have many duplicate systems in use across the council and services tend to buy their own solutions without checking if we already have a product in use in another service that would achieve most, if not all, of what is required. Due to contract obligations this would obviously take some time to produce a benefit but long term would reduce costs massively as well as allow IT to have more knowledge of a smaller number of systems in use across the council instead of being spread thinly across a vast number of them.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I don't want to see a move to digital by default without putting in place the support mechanisms to help those with low digital skills / no access to technology (and I don't mean the underfunded library services that currently exist, put digital skill training in place in libraries).	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Review all systems/applications used by the council to share more data internally, try to cut down on duplication of information/data. does the council have more that one application that is able to do the exact same thing.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Using technology is great, however, there doesn't seem to be any alternatives for for customers who are not good with this. Too many of council services rely on everyone using online, this needs to made easier for older/disabled users.; Your phone system is unhelpful.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Supportive of things that encourage greater use of technology	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Technology should already have resulted in change - it should now be the go-to option for everything, unless there are legitimate reasons for doing otherwise, such as connectivity or particular needs.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The way forward is further use of technology , however there should still be someone in each department who is accessible via a telephone , as not everyone has access to technology	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	As long as these technologies are already in place and no further money is going to be spent	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	While I understand technology is the direction most councils are heading . However the is is not for everyone . Some struggle with this method . I suffer from anxiety and to try and go online to find help support etc is very frustrating and I end up giving up and then can find myself ignore important issues like rent arrears etc . Some older generations need to be able to physically speak to some one and they don't know how; To use technology	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Depending on the increased of technology to increase efficiency and effectiveness then additional technical resources may be required to support and maintain the technology implemented	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It makes sense to integrate teams where possible and reduce the number of systems.	1. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Great idea if it will modernise, streamline and make services more accessible to customers. However please remember the elderly may struggle with services that are only online.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Some systems require modernisation as they don't all work cohesively, therefore integration would also help with this aim.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Using technology more is great if it increases efficiency, but staff will still be needed for those who struggle with technology.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	If the impact is minimised then it is important to maximise use of new practices and technologies to reduce costs.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Of course it makes sense to use technology and automation to help but existing online services (like Ipayimpact and my gov account are really not intuitive.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Modernising systems can only be a good thing for greater efficiency.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Whilst I agree that some services can be streamlined by utilising technology and online services I think it is imperative that a person approach is still available. Not all staff are proficient in IT or using technology and this can be very off and can prevent people from completing their tasks making us less effective.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Support modernising with technology. Council would benefit from more services being able to be completed online as opposed to in person or by phone.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Using technology can be great for the majority of people but some people may need extra support to access services in a non tech manner.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Schools would struggle	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reducing external contractors seems like a sensible decision.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council's best value framework determines whether services should be delivered internally or outsourced, and looks to deliver best value across all expenditure. The council must consider both internal and external provision to ensure best value. In some circumstances it may be better value to deliver through external provision.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	External contractors should be minimised where possible - don't let cuts in the council end up feeding private companies	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council's best value framework determines whether services should be delivered internally or outsourced, and looks to deliver best value across all expenditure. The council must consider both internal and external provision to ensure best value. In some circumstances it may be better value to deliver through external provision.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I absolutely agree with modernisation, it is the best way to save money	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	There is an obligation on the council to operate as efficiently as possible but also to maintain robust controls and provide 'customers' with a good level of service	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance. There are rigorous internal scrutiny arrangements in place to assure the quality of our services and we are also subject to external audit and inspection.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I totally agree that we have to modernise the service, unfortunately this will have impacts. The country is in some mess just now!	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	improving internal efficiency and streamlining finance functions to realise cost reductions, with minimal impact to service users seems like a good idea	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think that service redesign/modernisation can be beneficial, however, staff 'on the ground' who know current systems, it's pros and cons, what works and what doesn't need to be listened to. Consultants may need to be brought in to co-ordinate systems changes but I've worked in big organisations that pushed forward big changes to systems where the consultants offered 'shiny baubles' but end product wasn't fit for purpose. Do not dismiss anything as 'just' operational!;	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Sounds like a plan that any modern business would implement when there is a budget deficit. WLC should be no different	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The service does need modernised but this needs to be done in a way that it doesn't have to much impact on the residents of west lothian	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Modernizing the service is a good start as well as reducing the number of outdated and old systems the council uses. However, based on my experience reducing the number of employees may not be ideal. I would suggest re-training the employees and widening their abilities to be able to use them in different fields where there are shortages. If women of the employees are crosstraining you could create multi-function jobs and use these to fill in the gaps if needed. Maybe concentrate on retaining your employees who are delivering above average and offer them permanency instead of giving them no future options which will eventually make them leave.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	As long as it's not sub contractors coming in	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Unnecessary duplication of work would also make this saving. There are multiple services es that form the same function but could be consolidated into one team, reduce management costs and increase reach across the council. Training modules that are designed to be mandatory but a repetitive are a waste of staffing hours when those competencies could also be combined.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	If services are maintained on a more efficient way, then fine.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	People, process, technology. Ensure business process aligns to the objectives and fits the optimal use of the technology and people are adequately trained. Go for it;	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Modernisation is highly appreciable . Service is most important rather than cost	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance for our customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Obviously if you are able to cut costs without effecting services this would be an ideal however I am unsure how realistic that is.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I'm all for efficiency and effectiveness however not everyone is able to use the internet, face to face contact is better for people who struggle to contact statutory service providers, will there be options available for people who can't use technology. The council shouldn't use external contractors, money is being lost using outside providers, would it not be better build the capacity within your own organisation.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Consolidating internal services to reduce costs sounds very sensible idea.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Think smart, remember that many people are assets to your services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Agree Council should look to reduce internal service costs but should also look to share with other councils	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council places significant emphasis on effective internal and external integration and will continue to look for opportunities to integrate systems or processes to achieve efficiencies. The council has an existing shared service agreements with some public sector partners and will continue to develop opportunities for further shared service arrangements with other public bodies.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Council should ensure that it is as efficient as possible and concentrates on key services	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Integration of services and staff resources can be useful if it assists service delivery.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Services should be run efficiently as possible but not at the cost of customer experience.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Systems changes inevitably involve a period of uncertainty, teething troubles - good communication goes a long way to helping with this and users more likely to be patient if they know what to expect (so, thanks for being open about an impact on customers).	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	These seems a good way to streamline Council services as long as the redesigned services are fit for purpose.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think this is "do-able" and necessary; As a former council employee for very many years I saw so much waste of people resources and systems ... having to sit at desk and complete KPI and other "grey" tasks while 'real' work went undone ... too many grey suits ...sadly the old school stayed as others much better equipped left	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The redesign, integration and modernisation also need to be in consultation with the staff responsible for its implementation and needs to meet the needs of the staff and customers. Adequate time and training need to be provided to staff.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The council requires to be innovative in its approach, to streamline systems and automate processes wherever possible. Consideration could also be given to working in partnership with other local authorities or partner agencies to share business support functions. This may require an internal culture shift. While all areas of council activity should be considered, it is also recognised that where support functions are already lean, that there is an increased business risk associated with further reducing staff numbers. Alternative service models - such as shared services - may require to be considered to build service resilience and capacity.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	There's very little information here for me to comment on - do I support service redesign, integration, and modernisation? Yes, however I want that without putting more stress on staff (i.e. not asking less staff to do more work).	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Although I understand the need for this measure it is sad to have to reduce or combine services as despite the intentions of the Council there are always dire consequences for the residents.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Like most businesses there is probably an overlap of services, streamlining the services is always good as long as essential services can be maintained	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Seems reasonable, but you need to prioritise the important services (I would have thought you would anyway) and the most widely used services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	In agreement to consolidating departments, however enough time should be allowed for a safe and smooth transition;	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Any consolidation of services would make sense	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The savings on integrating services and updating technology packages far out way any slight impact this would have.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Go for modernisation it will help set up for future	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	As long as the changes genuinely make things more efficient, then this would be a productive change. If, however, efficiency and effectiveness of these changes is assessed by council managers tasked to implement change, then this would bias the results. Measure of efficiency and effectiveness should be performed after changes by independent auditors.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Working smarter is always a way to save. Would prefer that services were provided in house.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Great idea to bring council services into the modern age - I deal with a lot of government bodies and the opportunity to refresh the approach of working is not often there, so take the chance while you have it. Making a leaner, more efficient, effective service can only be positive.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	In house services should be cheaper than external services so right to review them. Services impact for local residents has to be minimal.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will look to explore opportunities to deliver services more efficiently through effective partnership and procurement arrangements.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	If this means putting a stop to council workers arriving in a lorry to clear a small grass turf then taking a picture to prove the job was done then fine!! This occurred when my husband thought that clearing a garden sod from the footpath and placing it in our garden refuse, to save a member of the public falling over it resulting in our bin not being emptied and we were advised to put the item back where it was and work men would come the next day to lift it as of course they did WHAT A WASTE OF COUNCIL MONEY!! TIME!! and no way does it take two workmen in a truck to do a simple task like that.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council does review staff performance and work scheduling on a regular basis. This particular incident will be investigated.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I'm all for saving money especially when the council send two men in a lorry to pick up a small piece of garden turf then take a picture to show it happened what a waste of time and money.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council does review staff performance and work scheduling on a regular basis. This particular incident will be investigated.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	make it easier for people to start up there we business by not want all the money in one go	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Through the Council's Business Gateway Service support is tailored to meet the needs and requirements of individual businesses.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think this would be a good idea to reduce and streamline systems as there are quite a few.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Fully agree if consolidating services and systems brings a reduction in costs this is necessary at these times. the impact on customers will be expected as long as the message is delivered prior to the impact and customers are kept up to date	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Introducing technology with the primary aim of displacing workers and adversely impacting customer services would only seem to ultimately add to the challenges in future. Using technology to enhance services and worker efficiency or quality of working experience seems like a great idea. Would like to see retraining programmes added to the commitment for those workers displaced, perhaps focussing on the new tech economy growth skills areas.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Don't just ask one person to do two jobs.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Whatever way you can do things to provide great service and still save money would be most beneficial to the council and its employees.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I guess the bottom line is that we don't go back to how the Council used to reduce staff every year. Lowest paid in schools shaking in their boots waiting to hear whether they are being kept on or moved on. Those considered key workers during the pandemic cast aside to save management. Your staff need certainty, and whilst it is lovely that you are asking staff what they think, the reality is we all need to know if our jobs are safe. You are going to cut staffing, we need to know how and when. It is going to be a voluntary redundancy ask around or a cull or early retirement. We need answers and certainty not a survey.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Replacing staff with technology does not fit well with the communities of West Lothian and as usual it's the people in greatest need who will suffer	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	If you do it right greater use of technology shouldn't impact customers. Sounds like an excuse to cut staff and say you've used technology to streamline processes	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The organisation is already struggling to provide a good level of service to customers, many areas have lost "back office" staff and this is resulting in a lack of communication with customers which ultimately means that more customers are contacting the Customer Service Centre to chase up outstanding work/ service failure and more service areas are using the 280000 number as a dumping ground/ switchboard to answer calls when their own staff are not available. Different service areas all operate via different systems such as Open Housing, CRM, Confirm, Incab, Open Revenues, APP, PNC, AIM, PECOS etc - we need one system that is stable and reliable and integrates with all others and is supported fully (24hrs) by IT- we do not currently have this. Until this happens it is unlikely that the current technology that is in place will support more customers to self- serve which incidentally most customers do not want to do.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think we should focus on our own staff and look at keeping as much work in house as possible	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use all responses to the consultation to support the review of priorities and commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Frontline staff are already at minimum capacity. Delivery of more services with less staff does not work. ;	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Frontline staff are already at minimum capacity, with all the services we are delivering we need staff to be able to deliver these.;	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The scale of the further reductions required over the next five years will be challenging and the council will seek to use the existing range of workforce management and organisational change policies to deliver the required reductions in staffing numbers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reducing staff numbers at a time of financial crisis ? Is there no better way ? While most of west Lothian are tech savvy there are huge numbers of residents who are elderly or disabled and do not communicate or access services this way. There may also be huge amounts of people without internet access or selling there laptops / tablets/ phones to make ends meet.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Having worked for West Lothian Council for nearly 10 years now and having already been through WLC Transformation which incurred massive reduction in staff numbers already, feel this will not only put more strain on the existing council staff but will also affect the mental health of existing staff members. Staff turnover is already at an all-time high and with pressure already building in the teams.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.

The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	You have reduced staff and funding in education to its detriment. I really hope that there will be no more cuts as staff are already on their knees.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The scale of the further reductions required over the next five years will be challenging and the council will seek to use the existing range of workforce management and organisational change policies to deliver the required reductions in staffing numbers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Technology has a usage, but in my service although our tenancies all have technology, pendants etc. you cannot replace people. I have found it takes me longer to do things online due to the way the programmes are set up e.g., wages this used to take me 15mins all in, now it can take a full day.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think the use of technology has its place but my worry is that reducing posts will place greater pressure on already over stretched resources.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Not sure how this would work for people with no access to internet or that can not read/write.	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I do not want to see any "savings" only a consolidation and increase in services would satisfy my belief that tax payers money is best spent on tax payers.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	If more technology is being brought in, rather than staff, not everyone is necessarily able to use these technologies, whether they have digital skills or not and many don't have any digital skills.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council supports a programme of enhancing digital skills for both customers and staff to ensure that everyone is able to take advantage of the opportunities that going digital provides.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Anything that hacks away at an already depleted service, reduces staff numbers - sack people - is not increasing efficiency or indeed effectiveness	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance. There are rigorous internal scrutiny arrangements in place to assure the quality of our services and we are also subject to external audit and inspection.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Where it is stated that there will be changes through redesign and then goes on to say reducing staff numbers - can you be honest and not do a 'service redesign' which removes a post/posts and say what it is ie someone loses their job but is not entitled to Redundancy - as we have a 'no compulsory redundancy' policy therefore meaning people go on to redeployment list but if not suitable job at same rate have to take lower pay or leave so no job no payment - this is my understanding of course	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Pushing all IT systems out to the cloud will result in higher costs and worse services. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reduction in job numbers would restrict the authority in being able to carry out its day to day functions required by government. Therefore this should be the last call of action. Unless it can be shown that joining of teams together results in same job posts overlapping with each other.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Supervisor /management staff numbers need to be reduced there is more of these than front line workers in most departments and aren't always needed as years ago these positions ran smoothly with just 1 or 2 now you have 6 and 7 doing these jobs	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Please make sure that the internal business support function redesign does not just push the service provided from Support teams onto the Delivery teams as has happened previously. For example, HR functions just moved from HR Service to individual Teams meaning that Individual teams are having to conduct the HR function and associated administration instead of their day job of delivering a service, without any additional support. The reduction in Procurement Officers has also had an adverse impact on the workload of both Procurement Staff and individual services. There are also additional forms to be completed which are excessively lengthy, such as Contract strategies. This form has to be shortened for lower value/ lower risk and simplistic contracts to save both officer and staff resource and time.	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I would be worried that reducing staff numbers may mean that there is not enough staff to cover work streams or cover holidays and sick? This leaves me worried for my financial future with the cost of living crisis that as a permanent member of staff I could lose my job to technology but technology may serve a purpose in efficiency but doesn't make up for human empathy for people especially working in the SWF and anti-poverty sector.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Unfortunately this has more of a negative effect when you reduce staff numbers , this results in more job responsibilities which in the long run increases stress on staff. The staff go off on sick leave which means using other agencies to fill the position temporary. This is not only with council but unfortunately with many many companies and all results in staff leaving then having to go through a costly recruitment/process. IT systems also break down regular causing a back log of work which means less efficient and poorer standards of service.	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Council bigwigs should take a pay reduction instead of over working and under paying the average council employee.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council recognises the importance of managing pay fairly and in a way that motivates staff to make a positive contribution and support the delivery of the Council's objectives. In order to comply with equal pay legislation, the Council is required to develop pay and grading arrangements underpinned by job evaluation. Annual pay awards are determined through national bargaining arrangements which help ensure that certain minimum standards are maintained in relation to pay levels.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Not a fan of loss of jobs - technology is good when it works but invariably it has flaws and costs a fortune to set up new systems - does it really give enough of a benefit/cost saving??	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Depends on the services being cut doesn't it	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reduce the number of janitors in schools. They sit around every day doing absolutely nothing. The one at my place of work, comes in late then goes for a shower, yes a shower, in council time. After that he does his home shopping on his pc, plays football with the kids and is never available to accept deliveries. His answer to a hole in the wall is to put duct tape over it, that's it fixed!!	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	All fine and well reducing numbers these numbers must come from higher management the council cannot afford to cut any further resources from the ground Covid has shown this where council has performed and continues to perform below required standard more so when using vulnerable people to make surplus finances up through Non Contributions charges despicable way to treat some of our most vulnerable in our communities	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Any contributions policy is subject to the financial assessment of affordability. Criteria will be set within an assessment framework to ensure people's needs are assessed consistently and fairly.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Many of your most vulnerable customers (elderly, physically and/or mentally disabled and those with communication issues will not be able to cope with increased use of technology or having to travel longer distances on low income to meet in-person (particularly now bus services are about to be cut again).	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	So that means you will use less "front line" staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	A huge worry will be what will happen to these workers ? Will they be made redundant or is the plan to redeploy them to other areas within the council workforce. It is always much better to speak with staff than to rely on online interfaces (which often older people struggle to access)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	When technology like this gets chosen and staff counts are reduced we are led to a 'google customer service' scenario where people hide behind inboxes and its not possible to get coaching or guidance session with a staff member. Or worse as with iTrent, no training was provided whatsoever and the guides produced could have been made by school children based on the quality. You can fill a workshop with the best tools in the world, but if the people using them dont know what to do then the product will always be bad.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has made significant investment in the IT infrastructure and will continue to allocate appropriate resources to introduce new technology where appropriate. The council's ICT Strategy seeks to deliver change in line with advances in technology and changes in council priorities, whilst still having a clear framework within which to operate.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The reality is that the council will invariably choose badly when it comes to technology and reduce the staff regardless of whether or not that technology is in place. As well as this 'advanced' technology needs skilled staff to work with it and get the maximum out of it. The reality is that technical skills within the council are lacking. Recruitment should include a technical test that at the very minimum should include a validation that the individual is able to use MS office products at least. I spend significant portions of my time providing assistance to staff at all levels who should have better skills coming in the door.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. The council's ICT Strategy seeks to deliver change in line with advances in technology and changes in council priorities, whilst still having a clear framework within which to operate.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	With regards to choosing technology. Procurement is a tricky process and staff without experience often handle work that is outside their skillset. Leading to a competition where the winner is not chosen by the best or most knowledgeable people. As well as this there should be an inclusion of preset questions on key topics like cyber security and data protection requirements. iTrent a is a key example of technology chosen by the wrong people. the interface is horrendous and the system is slow, clunky and unintuitive. As well as this a quick google search shows that the top results where users comment on the product are all negative.; ; When technology like this gets chosen and staff counts are reduced we are led to a 'google customer service' scenario where people hide behind inboxes and its not possible to get coaching or guidance session with a staff member. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Unfortunate for the staff involved. It is likely that the result of outsourcing will show it to be the fantasy it always was. It may or may not increase quality of service, but it will almost certainly increase cost - otherwise the outsourcing provider will not be profitable and will not be in business any longer .	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I don't feel that this will be beneficial to West Lothian nor to the staff members who will be loosing there jobs. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Not sure how many more staff we can effectively loose without impacting on service delivery, even with the introduction of new technology. A lot of functions are being devolved to the front line, but we don't increase the numbers of frontline workers to cope with increases and staff are at risk of burnout.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It's totally unacceptable to impact 'customers'/taxpayers as we have not mismanaged the council and badly designed existing services. The impact must be borne by the Council's poor and considerably overpaid senior management. Cuts at the top are essential and present natural justice.	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This is a terrible idea. Reducing staff numbers always causes a reduction in quality of service, overworks the remaining staff and results in more costs because of increased sickness levels (due to stress and health issues triggered/ worsened by stress).	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The team I work in is already fully online. So I would struggle to understand how further cuts can be made through technology. Our customers are also feeding back that they would prefer not to deal with us through self service and automation as much of the legislation we deal with is very technical and will vary from job to job so cannot easily be dealt with through tick boxes and online tools.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	stop cost cutting with technology that fails to work	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Have been involved in many cost reduction exercises within water industry and they never seem to work the way hoped. The wrong staff are always laid off ie those that work hard but do not kiss butt, and the systems invariably cost more than planned because they are not investigated fully by the people that actually need to use them... In all never saves money.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Our sourcing will simply offer a poorer service; if you can outsource a job, save money and the contractor is making money, you're doing it wrong in the first place. Outsourcing is a false economy.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	If you are cutting staff, there will be nobody left to work on income generating opportunities. Everyone that is left will be focused on the day job. Those that are here at the moment already only have time to do what's necessary to deliver their core work. No-one has time to concentrate on anything innovative or developmental.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing income generating opportunities and will develop ideas that are assessed as being feasible.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This appears to be stacking deckchairs on the Titanic. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I would like to see the council review its staffing structure, pay awards, pensions, internal processes. Not sure losing staff on the frontline would be wise but ensuring managers and senior managers hold people to account using the job descriptions and putting in place performance management with people who are not performing or off sick a lot for minor issues or behaving in ways that are unprofessional.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Any further cuts to staff will most likely lead to more mistakes, and get longer to resolve, possibly putting many vulnerable people into debt, and mental health issues, which in turn affect all other agencies and services waiting times.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Modernisation and redesign sounds positive but hearing that staff will be reduced is a worry, will they be moved to other areas or will they lose their jobs?	2. The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	We can not afford to reduce the staff levels anymore than they are in fact to cover the day to day working we should be increasing the staffing in our service including wages to keep staff. Staffing levels are so low there is more work load pushed on others and you are lucky more people are not off due to stress.	2. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Your best assets are your trained, experienced and helpful staff reducing their number is a big mistake, cutting staff numbers is not the way to save money its just an easy fix instead of tackling the problem properly.	2. The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Management teams are stripped back enough in the sector I work in. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Corporate Procurement has already been redesigned as part of previous savings and is currently unable to cope with the workload due to reduced staffing levels. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Unfortunately staff being made redundant seems to be going to happen. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	There needs to stop being cuts. There has been a consultation every year as far back as I remember and, as a result, the council has become completely dysfunctional. I'd suggest a boycott against these ridiculous cuts as services are failing completely.	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Staff numbers have already been cut so much and staff are underpaid and undervalued	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Further detail is required to assess impact. Whilst cost reductions with external contracts may be appropriate, if this is associated with loss of services, this should be identified, articulated and presented for consideration.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Greater use of technology is okay when the technology actually works. In my 8 years of working with the council is has become increasingly apparent that the "cheaper is better" approach is becoming the norm. The systems have never been great but at least when I first started, they were somewhat user friendly. Now they are less so and have a lot more problems than not. I fail to see how systems that can't perform necessary functions that they are designed for leads to savings. Sure, off the bat, we save X amount of money but in the long term, customer and staff satisfaction are impacted by these systems and they lead to more problems which must cost the council in terms of public relations, staff sickness (because systems that don't work cause stress especially if you get hassle from customers due to this even though it's out with your control), and costs involved to fix a system that doesn't work or replace it entirely only a couple of years after putting them in place (Payment kiosks are a prime example here). If the council isn't prepared to invest in decent technology that works and is designed to last, then the savings are irrelevant.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	If you do replace people with Texhnoology you will just have more squeeze on budgets such as benefits, use of support services, health services and housing as poverty kicks in. Would likely cost more to resolve than the saving.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reducing staff so therefore job losses because of more increased use in technology is very concerning as there is too much technology for everything everywhere now and customers still prefer being able to communicate to a person if need be.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reducing numbers in offices and relying on technology normally means 1-2 people covering the jobs of 5, again meaning that these harassed people can't fulfil the actual requirements to achieve satisfactory results.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think before you move onto new technologies you need to try and make the things work that you have previously implemented.	2. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	In addition, there has been limited impact so far of new technology other than to cause staff additional work. We seem to focus on the deadline and cost, rather than on what the technology really needs to do, so we end up with 'half baked' implementations that don't make the job easier or more efficient.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Technology won't fix problems it will simply shift them and make them more obvious. If we don't fix the micromanagement, the blame culture, the lack of staff autonomy we will simply add to staff workload and stress and continue to lose staff to better positions elsewhere.;	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Relying more on technology rather than real staff is very difficult for a whole range of people. So many elderly people are struggling to use online resources and still need real support from humans when dealing with council house issues, making payments, renewing bus passes etc	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	West lothian must continue to provide support for the most vulnerable members of society by providing access to all services for those who are not computer literate, don't have access to the Internet because of financial constraints. Don't become a Council that customers cannot speak to	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	There is enough discrimination and inequity already with regard to how clients within WLC are treated (example - council and HA tenants don't pay for rails installs but owner-occupiers do, the (very often incorrect) assumption being that owner-occupiers are able to afford to pay) without adding to this by 'elitifying' the access to services by making online access the only option.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Technology is only useful if people are able to access it, otherwise it becomes discriminatory. Example - housing applications being 'online only'. I have had several clients who (for various reasons) are unable to access online, and they now face lengthy waits for assistance from housing support to enable them to complete the online application when they would have been able to complete a paper copy independently, and to quicker effect.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	While it is unlikely this would be seriously considered by the council - my view is that you need to be very careful about 'digital by default' as a justification for reducing staff numbers. While it might show in the short term that transaction cost is lowered (fewer staff doing the work) what needs to be considered is the demand from the customer that will be placed on other services. Those most in need of support risk finding access the required service more difficult, especially those who have lack of access or expertise using digital services. It is likely that as more services become digital - if they are not properly designed (and to some extent, even if they are) more vulnerable users, particularly the ones more likely to be hit by the cost-of-living crisis the most will either drive more 'failure demand' in the systems as they put extra cost on other parts of the council services as they try to find work arounds to speak to someone who can help them, which means more demands on customer service lines or other services that end up dealing with the individual because the digital access is not working for them. There is a risk that the 'costs' of supporting an individual just get driven into other areas of the council's work in terms of capacity either because they lack digital expertise or do not have access to a sufficient level of digital technology - I have had direct experience of this ending up on several phone-calls in the last couple of months having to take vulnerable members of the public through step by step because they couldn't cope with the digital layout of wanting to pay through a council service. In the cases my work time ending up being 45 minutes on two occasions and 1 hour on another. So before undertaking above the council should risk assess how capacity elsewhere in the council could be negatively impacted as new costs are driven into the system because of a perceived saving because a part of the council's operation has moved to digital, and at the very least ensure that some of these other areas that pick up this displaced demand are not themselves affected by any future cuts. The council must give careful consideration to how customer facing staff in council could be upskilled to offer support to help vulnerable customers access the digital technology - for example getting adult education, the access to employment and advice shop staff to offer computer classes/support to help these vulnerable adults to develop the confidence and skills to access these services. Developing this, an opportunity could be taken to train up customer facing staff not affected by the planned restructure more widely in help customers access digital services where required. Another option is having a site page on the council's website, or a you tube channel that could have a series of interactive guides on council. What will save the council money is that all residents can access council digital services easily and allows them to meet their needs and get what they need out of the service - but there	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	No new digital technology would fix this huge issue.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I do not think putting more money into technology will help, that's just spending money!	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	That worries me , automated systems are not like speaking to a real person. Always takes way longer with automated questions etc	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reduced staff numbers is the worst thing that can happen within a child's education. This will widen the attainment gap much further and will be detrimental to the young people within this council. Alongside this, employment opportunity for newly qualified teachers is already disgraceful, this will only worsen the problem.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Modernisation should not cost jobs. Staffing in schools should be a priority, to give children the support they need especially since covid resulting in the subsequent fall in academic achievement. It would be disastrous for future generations in West Lothian for education to be reduced in any way when it should be expanded and improved to support all children, whether this is in teachers, support staff or resources.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Education needs more teachers not less! Where are these cuts being made?	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	We need more adults on the ground in order to educate and survive or schools and our children's futures are going to crumble. Cutting budgets for education is the worst thing you could do for our children and staff.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The key factor in pupil development, support and improvement is working with qualified teachers and supportive adults. Pupils learn best when directed and supported by a trained, nurturing individual. This cannot be achieved through technology. In fact many pupils are "tired" of this approach due to online learning and lockdown. They lack motivation to complete these tasks and much prefer the social and human side of learning.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Staff losses and WLC being less responsive to our most vulnerable will be a sad result of this.	2. The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Staff numbers should not be reduced. You should be increasing employment in West Lothian	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue. All services will be reviewed based on the impact they have on priorities. It is proposed that future spending will be aligned agreed priorities.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I don't think this idea would work if you cut staff as over the covid period the council have been struggling due to shortage of staff. If you cut back further I predict you will be spending more in the long run.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue. All services will be reviewed based on the impact they have on priorities. It is proposed that future spending will be aligned agreed priorities.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	With regards to other council staff in other services, they can only be reduced if the job role is not essential. West Lothian needs staff to allow for the provision of all essential services. In particular, staff who work on council houses (joiners, electrician, plumbers etc), refuse collection, recycling centers, social work and work with the elderly and vulnerable cannot be cut.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	As the council will have less overall resources, the number of services delivered will have to reduce with services being reviewed based on the impact they have on priorities. This will include changes to service standards, the way remaining services are delivered and a reduced workforce. It is proposed that future spending will be aligned to agreed priorities. The focus will be on posts that support the priorities rather than whether they are front line or back office based.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think if budget savings are required to be made, it is important to ensure that essential services are maintained such as social work, housing and education without cuts impacting those most in need in our community.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	As the council will have less overall resources, the number of services delivered will have to reduce with services being reviewed based on the impact they have on priorities. This will include changes to service standards and the way remaining services are delivered. It is proposed that future spending will be aligned to agreed priorities.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I don't agree with the reduction of staff numbers, this will result in people losing jobs or permanent contracts which affect careers and life choices	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The labour-Tory council coalition has some serious questions to answer if this goes ahead.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. The budget gap faced by the council is a result of funding being insufficient to cover the increasing cost of delivering services due to factors such as population growth and indexation.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The roads service has already been cut beyond the point where it can supply some of the core services.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Available limited resources are used to support statutory requirements. Asset management principles are used to prioritise limited resources.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	While these budget cuts are no doubt necessary, it is worrying that this will likely include job cuts to reduce staff numbers, at a time when families are already struggling with the cost of living crisis	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue. All services will be reviewed based on the impact they have on priorities. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It is imperative, therefore, that any unavoidable financial cuts are made in areas other than the initial, formal education of children in their first years of schooling. This will allow them to thrive much more readily, even in secondary schools experiencing true austerity.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	As the council will have less overall resources, the number of services delivered will have to reduce with services being reviewed based on the impact they have on priorities. This will include changes to service standards and the way remaining services are delivered. It is proposed that future spending will be aligned to agreed priorities.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It is already hard enough to speak to staff to deal with issues, I feel introducing even more 'technical' ways to reduce staff would be awful.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council continues to offer different kinds of access for customers. This can be speaking to someone in person through an office, by telephone through the contact centre or digitally through our website or other online portals.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Job loses at this time are a terrible idea. So many people already struggle with workload and customers struggle to get through to speaking to someone.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The savings proposals have developed with a view to maximising efficiency and maintaining performance and customer service. Any staffing efficiencies will be delivered through non replacement of vacant posts where possible and otherwise through the implementation of the Council's organisational change policy. The Council operates a no redundancy practice.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Losing experienced staff and along with that the capability of getting help and advice is definitely not the way forward. What about your elderly residents or people with mental difficulties who need support and proper human contact to help them resolve an issue or get advice. I know how frustrating going through an automated system is as I would hope you do too, bringing that into the Council will just bring misery and frustration to all residents.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The savings proposals have developed with a view to maximising efficiency and maintaining performance and customer service. Any staffing efficiencies will be delivered through non replacement of vacant posts where possible and otherwise through the implementation of the Council's organisational change policy. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The thought of good hard-working staff losing their job in this time fills me with dread, our team in building standards are running bare at times as it is but still managing a high standard of service	2. The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The most vulnerable require these services to support them to live within their communities and reducing carers contact increased their social isolation, impacts their mental health and leads to a break down in care.	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think these suggestions are extremely concerning, reducing staff and the impact it will have on customers. I think the title service redesign and modernization is very telling to expect poor customer services and over stretched staff doing three jobs instead of one under the umbrella of consolidation.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use all responses to the consultation to support the review of priorities and commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I am unsure as to what the detail of this would be, but I feel instinctively uneasy on reading this. I know difficult decisions are always required to find savings, but efficiency is a finite thing. Phrases like 'consolidating services, reducing staff numbers, ... an impact on customers' are concerning.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use all responses to the consultation to support the review of priorities and commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	A down side of this means job loses which does not benefit West Lothian as a whol.	2. Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use all responses to the consultation to support the review of priorities and commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Not supporting this. Less staff will mean less support at an increased cost to us, the people.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use all responses to the consultation to support the review of priorities and commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Outsourcing is not the answer, all of these lean processes always look good on a spreadsheet but in reality it is never goes to plan.	2. The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance. There are rigorous internal scrutiny arrangements in place to assure the quality of our services and we are also subject to external audit and inspection.

The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Is West Lothian Council considering only providing those services that they "legally" have to provide? If they are, what service functions must the Council provide?	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Savings of 1.2 million do not seem to balance out the long term impact of many people losing their jobs and/or services being reduced.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The scale of the further reductions required over the next five years will be challenging and the council will seek to use the existing range of workforce management and organisational change policies to deliver the required reductions in staffing numbers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	"redesign, integration and greater use of technology"- words used that very rarely result in "increase efficiency and effectiveness"	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use all responses to the consultation to support the review of priorities and commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	A reduction in staff will cause job loss. This cannot be a good thing. Redesign can be a great thing, but is it not possible to keep the same number of staff and increase efficiency to make up for the money that could have been saved through the staff cuts?	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use all responses to the consultation to support the review of priorities and commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I know you have to make savings but recently we, the Adult Learning Team, have been decimated. I do not believe we should make any more cuts in the staffing levels.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use all responses to the consultation to support the review of priorities and commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I have already been through 2 service re-designs in my dept over the last few years. This has left the dept already working with the bare minimum amount of staff in my eyes to provide the service we do to the estate. Service will be greatly reduced if we are to cut our dept any further.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use all responses to the consultation to support the review of priorities and commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	If this is some way of suggesting council functions will be put out to tender, stop this immediately. There is no strong evidence to suggest this delivers value for the people the council represents.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	With more reliance on WLC's services than ever befoe, reducing staff numbers would be detrimental to service provision. You cannot replace staff with technology in frontline services. People need to be heard! It is not always possible to use online services!	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The scale of the further reductions required over the next five years will be challenging and the council will seek to use the existing range of workforce management and organisational change policies to deliver the required reductions in staffing numbers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The council has not recovered from the last set of 'efficiencies' where central support has been dramatically cut. This has had a devastating effect on service delivery. If there is a technology issue in school it can take weeks for it to be dealt with. Recently I got some ipads to use in my class that had been purchased almost 6 months ago, however had to be set up by IT before they could be used.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The council can not cope with providing the services required at the moment so by reducing staff the council services will be even worse than they are at the moment	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use all responses to the consultation to support the review of priorities and commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	There are far too many support/admin roles in the council, i.e - Education/Social Work and Housing Services - Too many fingers in the same pie - better outcomes for customers and lots of efficiency savings could be had if the roles were all dispersed and frontline staff made accountable.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Experience has demonstrated that the council can deliver an more effective and cost effective service through the centralisation of generic tasks with the retention of specialist provision within service. This model still allows the opportunity for staff to engage with council officers on a face to face basis at the most effective and convenient level.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Allot of costs are external that I am aware of that could save the council money if the work was completed by a staff member.	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Some contracts that are extended where if a full time staff member was to work on making it more efficient then would reduce funding external and waste. Looking at contracts of employment and benefit / time of for health could save as the staff are off and this is being extended then taking time off for holidays when they return. Leaving a gap in areas of service where we are already understaffed.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	In a time of such austerity, we must surely focus on the fundamentals of education rather than the 'frills'.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	You should do away with the services that don't apply that are not needed as much	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council places significant emphasis on effective internal and external integration and will continue to look for opportunities to integrate systems or processes to achieve efficiencies.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	We should be keeping workloads for west lothian council staff and eliminating the requirement for subcontractors and associated costs.	2. The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	External contracted services often end up costing WLC more than it is intended too safe. We need to reduce the support teams and provide more staff on the front-line services. e.g. reduce, HR teams, Finance teams, performance teams, transformational teams. Put the resource where needed most - in front of the customer.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I feel that we have little enough staff to cope with never ending pressure in the workplace. Reducing numbers would be catastrophic!	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The scale of the further reductions required over the next five years will be challenging and the council will seek to use the existing range of workforce management and organisational change policies to deliver the required reductions in staffing numbers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	There is absolutely no detail in what is written above - generalisations. If you are going to keep directors of departments rather than make them redundant and keep low paid workers who do the work people most care about, great. But it is not clear what your plans are at all.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Concerns about staff reduction	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The scale of the further reductions required over the next five years will be challenging and the council will seek to use the existing range of workforce management and organisational change policies to deliver the required reductions in staffing numbers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reducing staff is not always the answer. Reducing the amount of management within services but valuing lower paid council staff that are working front line to make these policies happen. Reduce money through over priced contracts / peacose when items could be purchased locally and cheaper.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The scale of the further reductions required over the next five years will be challenging and the council will seek to use the existing range of workforce management and organisational change policies to deliver the required reductions in staffing numbers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	If this will not benefit customers why is it a good idea	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The scale of the further reductions required over the next five years will be challenging and the council will seek to use the existing range of workforce management and organisational change policies to deliver the required reductions in staffing numbers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I disagree with reducing the staff numbers and relying on technology in a climate when people need these jobs, further to this there is a great percentage of the local community who will require face to face human contact and greatly benefit from this. I see the stress and upset suffered by the older generation in my family when attempting to navigate the increasing number of services that are now relying on technology. I think there has been a great loss in sense of community over the last decade at least and that having friendly compassionate faces within our local council and communication between the council and community would be greatly beneficial, funds invested in our schools and children and local events to bring people together is needed now more than ever.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The scale of the further reductions required over the next five years will be challenging and the council will seek to use the existing range of workforce management and organisational change policies to deliver the required reductions in staffing numbers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Services are at a bare minimum, how can you cut more , is that loss of more jobs for people? , why don't you reduce managers an there pay , stop giving out work to contracts when there are perfectly good employees within the council , also saves going back to fix jobs umpteen times after contractors.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Hard to say if the impact on customers will be worth the redesigning without examples. Seems unlikely customers will be pleased with the changes as some areas are difficult enough already eg waiting times, communication, option of services and many services that are required have already been limited or removed.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It's bad enough as it is so this will only make it worse! Cut backs are not the answer, integration is not the answer the council are a laughing stock as it is! They need to work smarter and have a little common sense which is non existent! ; e.g Why is it when you stay on a busy/main road do the bin men think it's common sense and safe to empty a bin and put it back in the middle of the driveway? There's no customer care any longer it's as quick as get it done and onto the next one even if it's not done properly!!	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The scale of the further reductions required over the next five years will be challenging and the council will seek to use the existing range of workforce management and organisational change policies to deliver the required reductions in staffing numbers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Stop reducing staff and cutting services. In a time when things a tough enough keep staff and improve services.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use all responses to the consultation to support the review of priorities and commitments.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Using contracted out services may help, but reducing staff numbers and relying on systems will hinder those who can't use technology effectively for whatever reason.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Do not make staff redundant and then take them back as contractors, like you usually do. Wasting millions of tax payer money.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I feel this would negatively affect the day to day lives of so many people who rely on the services as they currently are, if anything these services need to be increased not decreased....back to the way they were before co vid regulations came into force.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use all responses to the consultation to support the review of priorities and commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reducing staff numbers always seems like the easiest option but services need eg front line staff when problems arise. ; Constant reliance on technology can have sure advantages,that is without doubt..... but too much reliance leads to frustration to the people who may need council services which in turn leads to raised complaints and dissatisfaction. Therefore balance is needed	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The scale of the further reductions required over the next five years will be challenging and the council will seek to use the existing range of workforce management and organisational change policies to deliver the required reductions in staffing numbers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Services have been minimised enough. We pay council tax which is ever increasing and services constantly being hacked.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use all responses to the consultation to support the review of priorities and commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Won't this increase unemployment?	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use all responses to the consultation to support the review of priorities and commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think a lot of frontline Services are on their knees right now. The impact of Covid and the extra pressures this put on staff, in their family life as well as their working lives, has been massive. This is already having a knock-on effect to customers and most definitely not in a positive way. Staff members are often under immense stress and the impact of this has been staff leaving or experiencing mental health issues and needing to take time off to recover. Once again, Customers have been negatively impacted by this. Staff members are trying their very best to provide the same level of service, to the same high standard as they always have BUT understaffing and the pressures of living in the current climate and trying to support and assist customers through this is already taking its toll.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The scale of the further reductions required over the next five years will be challenging and the council will seek to use the existing range of workforce management and organisational change policies to deliver the required reductions in staffing numbers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	For staff members to be losing their jobs on the back of all they have already been through seems cruel to say the least. i appreciate that money savings need to be made but in all honesty I feel very aggrieved that after giving so much of themselves over the past few years staff deserve more not less. We are living in a time of great financial difficulty and people are struggling as it is. To consider job cuts when staff are already burning out is just horrendous. We need our jobs more than ever!	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use all responses to the consultation to support the review of priorities and commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	As is noted at the beginning of this consultation, the council has made cuts for the past 15 years. There is nothing left to cut that is not essential. ; Stating from the outset that 'There will be an impact on customers' demonstrates that the cuts are not aimed at superfluous/unnecessary systems, but rather integral parts of the council's key functions. ; What is left of the local government when so much is stripped away?	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Stop paying contractors stupid amounts of money for crap services which you'll only roll back after a year so making it utterly useless and expensive.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I disagree with this proposal. Staff and service cuts are not a viable option	2. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I would be concerned about reducing staff numbers for various reasons. A lack of human contact can be very off putting to service users who, following COVID and in the face of the current financial crisis, may be experiencing isolation and depression on a scale not seen before, adding pressure Council services and NHS Services. In the current climate, the obvious benefits of human contact and interaction should be highly valued if the Council wants to value Customer satisfaction, well-being and employment opportunities.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	"The council is committed to meeting the needs of local people and high performance across all areas of service delivery." I feel that if this is truly the case the council should reconsider this proposal. People are already struggling financially throughout West Lothian and cuts to jobs and vital services will only put people further into poverty.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Don't reduce staff as it is hard enough to get a job. Also it's a nightmare with phone wait times and getting jobs done with the staff you have	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Concern around the lack of jobs already available without cutting this further	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Why bother? by the time everyone has agreed on what to spend the money on the technology will be obsolete, and it will mean making people redundant creating a further financial burden on both local and national government with benefit payments.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think it is complete unacceptable that people will be losing their jobs or that there will be 'reducing staff numbers' during this cost of living crisis and with council workers who largely worked all the way through the pandemic	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Replacing people with technology, and reducing staff numbers, works well in theory, but in reality, when something goes wrong, you need a person. But if that person is now undertaking multiple roles and responsibilities... It's not good is it. The impact of these cuts on the future means we are digging a hole it is going to be extremely hard for anyone to get out of over the next decade (at least).	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Appreciate there is a need to make savings however there have been significant changes to structures in my service already and my team are currently short-staffed as it is. My feeling is that further changes/reductions will lead to poorer performance and too much work for staff to cope with. From previous experience the workload does not reduce as staff numbers do.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	We have already made budget cuts using technology and reached the end of that road a long time ago. It's time to admit that more technology will not replace staff. Technology doesn't lift bins or assess people's needs. Most services are below critical mass in terms of staff numbers and can't cover holidays and sickness.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Although this is positive for the business, reducing staff numbers is concerning as it puts our jobs at risk.	2. The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Job losses are unacceptable- especially as we go through this cost of living crisis.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Staff reductions are a short sighted approach. Council functions then have to be externalised ultimately costing the Council more money.; I am aware through acquaintances that the Council departments are already stretched to breaking point. This is affecting the health & wellbeing of your staff and is not sustainable. As a major local employer it is your responsibility to look after your staff.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue. Employee wellbeing is a priority for the council and a range of support and resources are available for employees and managers to access.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Job loss - will this put more pressure on staff if reduction means less staff but more work pressure on remaining staff	2. The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Need to be care here not everyone has access to technology.	2. The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	You can't keep cutting staff numbers. All the technology in the world still can't replace a competent and effective person when it comes to certain areas. You also alienate / limit the available contact of those in society who most need your support where they don't have and / or are unable to use modern technology.;	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Technology is great when it works- however more often than not Internet usage hinders work being done when there is a blip.; People are already facing cost of living crisis and you are talking about cutting jobs.;	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Sorry, but this is unintelligible. There are a whole load of words here that actually tell you nothing. The thing that concerns me is staff losing their jobs and the phrase 'impact on customers'. It's all very well having a whole load of fancy new technology, but we are facing an energy crisis. How is all this new technology going to work, if we cannot get the electricity?	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Technology does not allow those with no previous skills to access technology or with an elderly population. Greater information about how this technology will be used is needed	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	In addition, not all customers have the ability to use technology confidentially and it may not be accepted well by those in this category.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I do not think this is clear enough. What is meant by use of technology. Examples of how this is going to be done should be provided!	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Comment is in the form of a question
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Customer service should be at the heart of service delivery. Do not want to have to speak to several people to get a problem resolved.; Merging systems is all very well is extremely difficult and there will be compromises- is the council prepared for this?	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This will not provide a saving in the long run, changing systems will only lead to slower services, now is not the time for these changes	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Would rather talk to someone, preferably face-to-face	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	We have the highest number of pensioners in Scotland and you want to take away the ability to talk to someone and put everything online!	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This does not work in childcare or education services, school staffing is already difficult with in most schools without having cuts to teachers, support workers, canteen, cleaning, office and technical staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The wait to speak to someone in the council is long as it is, if these measures are put in place it would take a even longer to speak to someone.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council continues to offer different kinds of access for customers. This can be speaking to someone in person through an office, by telephone through the contact centre or digitally through our website or other online portals.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I suspect this means removing staff and putting automated telephone answering machines in instead. There is nothing more annoying than these gadgets which rarely produce the answer you want. Often telling you to use your smartphone with a QR code which forgets that not everyone has a smartphone or some, being older, do not use them.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I would prefer we achieved service improvements for the same cost rather than service degradation of reduced cost, and put up the council tax accordingly.;	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your response. Increases in Council Tax would help reduce the amount of cuts necessary and increase the amount of funding the council has to spend on local services.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	using external contracts usually more expensive and service normally reduces why does this save money?	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance. There are rigorous internal scrutiny arrangements in place to assure the quality of our services and we are also subject to external audit and inspection.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	How and who will provide for the restructuring of services? What investment/spend will be required to realise the targeted £1.2m saving and over what period?	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council aims to make net savings of £1.2m over a period of three years through consolidating services, reducing staff numbers and the number of systems we use within internal business and financial support functions.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I feel reducing staff numbers and expertise in planning is counter-productive. Planning facilitates development which contributes to the wider economy. Providing warm, secure, affordable and adaptable homes reduces the demand on front-line services such as homelessness, mental health support, help to increase employability etc.. A good home is a basic human need that enables our children, businesses and people in general to operate and flourish. Strong, defensible planning policies can extract land value uplift for the greater public good. Weak policies may lead to challenges and costs awarded against the council.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Outsourcing can be a problem, the quality of the services could be below standard, don't make saving money a priority over quality.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Concern that streamlining services (and reducing staffing) will lead to increased response time, backlogs and delays in processing information. Increased pressure on services actually leads to fall in productivity and effectiveness rather than smoother services.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The office already appears to be modernised and there would be concern about further modernisation.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	why not stop paying for your travel by car and your wages cut stop asking for payments for getting your offices fitted with bathroom suits and outhouse things like stamps	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	New methods of working has resulted in staff business travel having reduced significantly. The council recognises the importance of managing pay fairly and in a way that motivates staff to make a positive contribution and support the delivery of the Council's objectives. In order to comply with equal pay legislation, the Council is required to develop pay and grading arrangements underpinned by job evaluation.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Cuts to services now will have a detrimental effect to those in social care, especially after the introduction of fees towards services people are already struggling. After the covid pandemic people have been struggling physically and mentally and need these services to sustain their health and wellbeing.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Any contributions policy is subject to the financial assessment of affordability. Criteria will be set within an assessment framework to ensure people's needs are assessed consistently and fairly.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It's not clear from your description what service is affected, who the customers are or what impact the cuts would have on them. This doesn't feel like a meaningful consultation.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Consolidation means moving everything to Livingston in WLC terms. Unless you have different departments located in different towns this shows a clear bias & failure to provide for those towns. Staff can WFH/hybrid where possible. Linlithgow is one town in particular that is nothing more than a cash cow, not all residents are wealthy Edinburgh commuters.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council provides frontline services to customers throughout West Lothian. There are no plans to consolidate the location of all services to Livingston.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This section on Service redesign, integration and modernisation is mere word salad with no substance being provided. I am surprised that the scope for savings of internal Council functions is as low as only £1.2 million, is that really the best figure that can be achieved?	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Using external services always has an impact on services and I don't believe this will achieve cost reductions but in a lot of cases, it is the opposite.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance. There are rigorous internal scrutiny arrangements in place to assure the quality of our services and we are also subject to external audit and inspection.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Ultimately, if you lose expertise within your organization held by competent staff then your service offering will die & typically your customer satisfaction gets worse. You may already know this but I felt it needs saying. This is what happens to private companies - fail to invest and very soon you don't exist. Your role is different but the long term impact is the same.;	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will continue to support employee development and succession planning to support services.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I prefer a person to speak to when I need issues resolved and find automated help lines very frustrating and time consuming.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Concerns as to how much we can redesign and consolidate already stretched services and still deliver on quality.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This sounds like it would reduce vital services which is very worrying as departments are already overstretched and services are already suffering.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This doesn't read particularly well, it's full of buzzwords and it's unclear. The impact on customers caused by 'redesigning services, integration of teams and further use of technology' will also be mitigated by that? How?	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Cutting down at such time its cruel	2. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	More information is needed about the impact on customers with the reduction in services despite there being no reduction in council tax fees. Will these services be efficient if there is issues with technology? If technology is down will there be an actual human there to contact or will these services just be "unavailable".	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	More people on the ground are needed rather than continued expensive IT projects that end up delivering nothing of human value	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Use of technology and reducing staff numbers: The concept of removing the personal interface between council staff and the public is counter to a democratic process. In addition, for many it can curtail their participation in the community if they cannot access the internet, eg the severely disabled who might have lost refined hand movements) or those without the financial resources to be connected. Additionally, such a move would increase the reliance on algorithms, which have been shown to nudge the public in a particular direction, rather than openly seeking a broad range of opinion.	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think without the technology being effective and up to a good standard we would not be able to reduce staff, we do not have enough staff at the moment anyway. there is a lot of council run buildings that are not making profit or not close to it, with the buildings that are making profit i feel they should have more focus on increasing that profit by adding in more to the building and start to fase out the buildings that are not making profit.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	For there to be pope integration then equal funding with Health and Social Care is required. Council must match funding and not prioritise cuts over provision of services	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Scottish Government funding will be insufficient to match the cost of provisioning council services, and therefore it is necessary for the council to identify ways it can save money through modernisation and new ways of working.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reducing staff numbers would be a deplorable action at a time when so many children, young people and adults are facing significant mental health and emotional issues. Furthermore, reducing staff numbers during a cost of living crisis is quite frankly immoral.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reducing staff numbers is rarely a benefit.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	To deliver efficiencies via technology requires suitable resource capacity within IT Services. As an enabler it is important the service is not made any leaner via reduction in staff numbers.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has made significant investment in the IT infrastructure and will continue to allocate appropriate resources to introduce new technology where appropriate. The council's ICT Strategy seeks to deliver change in line with advances in technology and changes in council priorities, whilst still having a clear framework within which to operate.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Some services require face-to-face support and losing this kind of support directly impacts on the work that can be undertaken and the families supported.	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	People my age, need to be able to speak to a person, not a robot and some my age struggle with technology. I would be interested to know what impact what is proposed will have on the people.	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	How can any constructive comment be made when the "description" of the proposed changes includes the words "there will be an impact on customers..." with no meaningful explanation of what that impact will be? Does modernising systems and utilising technology mean customers will need to engage with the automated 'please press number whatever...' and enter into a circular, robotic system with no hope of addressing/resolving their query? If so, then no, it's not an acceptable proposal	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Heavy investment would be required in technology. The current technology used throughout WLC isn't fit for purpose.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Often redesign and increase in technology doesn't save money. Money is spent on technology that doesn't work properly and even more work is placed on staff. An example of this would be itrent. It was supposed to replace TMS but we are now using both. My manager spends more time now sorting rotas/ work patterns and annual leave than ever before.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I understand that technology is needed and will help reduce some costs but I don't think it should be done if it means people losing their jobs	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	No trust in your appropriation of these new technologies. You go for the cheapest options that usually have the worst service and cost more in the long run due to them being built on aging platforms. Do better testing.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	its hard enough to get in touch with the council as it is - i tried to get a new bin a while ago and it took ages.; If they are going to reduce services, really old folk are going to struggle if it goes automated. If only on line that will be a problem.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	If things can be automated for staff to use then that's great but if its to replace staff then I'm not convinced - typically technology isn't a human and can misinterpret questions thus requiring the council to then spend on outsourcing a helpdesk which would ultimately cost them more than the staff they have let go of. Or only a few staff are retained who then take on the jobs of 2 or 3 staff that have left causing burnout (sick leave) or resignations. I still prefer to go to a human on the checkout in supermarkets because there's always an issue with the self-service checkouts, that only 1 staff member are manning, and it ends up taking longer and is frustrating!!	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	While acknowledging this is a monumental task of which I have no experience of delivering. I do have experience of working with people who are vulnerable, and isolated. It is my opinion that humans do not do well the more they are isolated and cut off from the community and the services provided in it. Limiting face to face time for everyone because money needs to be saved will reduce, reduce, reduce which I see as isolating more humans, resulting in more costs in the long run.; I don't have a solution and sympathise with the decision makers but suggest that by walking in the shoes of West Lothian's most vulnerable might give them some insight to the losses the cuts actually make.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	In relation to this I would be concerned that each year the council has to make cutbacks whilst at the same time there are increasing demands on services. Technology is increasingly being used throughout society which has a detrimental impact on customers who do not wish to use technology or do not have ready access to technology.	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I am totally against further impact on customers (Tax Payers) It means that we will be getting less for more tax money.	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Don't agree with external contracts smoke and mirrors they always cost more. Why reduce staff, that will be more damaging to West Lothian. Surely you should be trying to save jobs help with unemployment not cause more !! No one wants more systems that can't answer questions it's difficult enough to get through the switchboard or pay online.	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	; I appreciate that reducing staff numbers saves money but often such short term 'gains' for the organisation are lost when people with expertise and experience leave (these can't be replaced by a system).	2. The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	After Covid it is vital that we keep as many staff as possible to ensure that we can recover from Covid and children are provided with the highest quality teaching. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It is hard to imagine the impact for customers would not be notable.; Also, due consideration to employees working conditions must be made - there will be an impact by consolidating services (never mind the colleagues that will lose jobs).	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	We are already stretched in terms of staffing in schools, cutting this even further would be catastrophic!	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	To make any more staffing cuts in schools would be severely detrimental to both staff and pupils. Violence and aggression is at the highest it has ever been, there are very little consequences in place due to no one being available to deal with these behaviours, and children are slipping through the net due to lack of outside agency involvement.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I feel redundancies of any public facing staff would have a negative impact.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I don't think reducing staff numbers is the way forward. I agree that consolidating some services would work but not at the expense of people losing their jobs and the risk of providing a poor service.; Technology is good when it works but having a person to talk too readily when as a member of the community is much better.; West Lothian Council is the biggest employer in West Lothian. It needs more than ever to be investing in it's workforce.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Not all members of the community are comfortable using technology, can't afford it, can't access it don't know how to use it for example the elderly.; People prefer to deal with humans reducing staff numbers.??	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This will stretch services considerably, causing unnecessary stress and ill health on remaining staff.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue. Employee wellbeing is a priority for the council and a range of support and resources are available for employees and managers to access.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Consolidating services may be confusing for customers,	2. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I believe reducing staff numbers is a big mistake. Will you park the children in front of a television? I am all for moving with modern technology but it never must replace personal interaction. I would rather be in favour of employing more staff and paying them well. I would also take a very close look where money is squandered and believe me it is not the children and schools.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	We have ITrent that is now creates more work for office staff in schools as so many staff have been cut from HR (admin staff are doing more and more). We have mail-boxes for HR that does not work for quick response of continuity and no consultation to remain hybrid working for the end user in terms of efficiency and effectiveness	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Staff reductions should not be an option. Instead those who may be made redundant should be retrained in another area as a priority	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reducing staff numbers should be last resort and management structure should be considered first. Integration is all well and good if the integrated services are familiar with each other's policies and methods of working. Integration fails if there is ignorance of each department.	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	would welcome using technology to improve efficiency of services. Surely services are cheaper and better in house so you are not paying the profits for external services.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reducing face to face contact will impact older generation and people who has dyslexia or struggle with reading/ writing. A lot of people struggle with anxiety and depression and need prompting to access service.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Technology can't yet replace customer care.	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reduce technology. Your staff are slaves to a computer all day every day. Get them out doing the work there employed for, not a slave to box ticking and endless bloody emails.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	No, as the service is not efficient, breaks then there is no one to fix it or rectify the impact its caused cause no one can find the data that caused the issue in the first place, or when someone is trying to rectify their council tax or rent online by setting up or making payments this sometimes isn't found till you find bank statements. This service doesn't work and isn't accessible to people, especially people with learning or accessibility needs. People need a face or voice to speak to that can offer you the support you need more effectively.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Are you capable of technology and service integration or is this being outsourced to consulting organisations at consulting rates. Have you completed a full cost benefit analysis including the one off costs of reducing staff numbers. How does this improve services	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The increased use of technology does concern me for people who do not have the capability or access to IT. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Higher reliance on technology creates further barriers to access. How can those without technology or digital literacy access support? This creates discrimination issues.	2. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Hard to see how techngy solutions can be further utilised if the IT support cohort is subject to the staff reductions also indicated in this proposal. IT systems need continuous maintenance and are not an invest and forget option.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	While the increased use of technologies in some areas can be more efficient it is not always and there does not seem to be a back up of speaking to a real person if your issue cannot be resolved appropriately.	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	My worry with this is that it will become harder to contact the council by phone. This is important to elderly people.	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	You can't keep pushing technology on people and spending money on doing so. A lot of people can't use technology or want to do so. The funding that has went into digital services over the years for a lot of people to refuse to use it.	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reducing staff is never good and technology is taking over too much people need jobs and money to live even more so in this cost of living crisis its very sad times.	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	From a customer perspective I feel reducing staffing and increasing use if automation/ technology will impact negatively on customer experience.. very rarely does 'frequently asked Q' section or auto message help!! People, particularly those most vulnerable do need ease of access to services and crucially speak to someone without delay or confusing functions/options before getting through! ;	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Need to take into consideration people who do not have the means or experience to use technology	2. The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Most people prefer to connect to other people and there are many vulnerable people who can not use technology. Replacing staff with technology so unemployment which drains resources as well as causing mental ill health which comes with financial as well as human cost. This proposal is false economy.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Key services to the most vulnerable must not be impacted.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	As the council will have less overall resources, the number of services delivered will have to reduce with services being reviewed based on the impact they have on priorities. This will include changes to service standards and the way remaining services are delivered. It is proposed that future spending will be aligned to agreed priorities.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	A reduction in staff numbers for frontline services could be damaging to already vulnerable communities/ people.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	As the council will have less overall resources, the number of services delivered will have to reduce with services being reviewed based on the impact they have on priorities. This will include changes to service standards, the way remaining services are delivered and a reduced workforce. It is proposed that future spending will be aligned to agreed priorities. The focus will be on posts that support the priorities rather than whether they are front line or back office based.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reading between the lines this suggests the savings will be met by finding loopholes in the legal structure and the customer will now deal with a faceless council, "there will be impact on customers" is never good, especially when they are already impacted due to previous cuts - let's not sugar coat the term 'saving' it's cuts in services that are legally required by statutory requirement	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council continues to offer different kinds of access for customers. This can be speaking to someone in person through an office, by telephone through the contact centre or digitally through our website or other online portals.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The council is already a nightmare to get through to so reducing numbers will make it worse, you also have a long waiting time for things to get done so that time will be impacted too.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is successful at meeting its legislated timescales for its duties. Despite this, demand can be higher at certain times of the day, or days of the week which may result in longer queue times when contacting a service.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Libraries must not be closed or offer reduced times	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The Council has a legislative requirement to provide library facilities and will review the most effective means of delivering this service, taking account of demand and opportunities to access activities which currently take place in libraries from other community facilities.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Waiting times are ridiculous! We are always told it's your workload! We all have workloads!	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is successful at meeting its legislated timescales for its duties. Despite this demand can be higher at certain times of the day, or days of the week which may result in longer queue times when contacting a service.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	there are already lack of services and customer services within all sites visited and reducing staff numbers would mean even more people losing their jobs.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council continues to offer different kinds of access for customers. This can be speaking to someone in person through an office, by telephone through the contact centre or digitally through our website or other online portals.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	i DON' T LIKE ANY OF THESE AND	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Ultimately the impact on customers should be positive otherwise you are doing it all wrong.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Difficult to re-design a number of services that have already gone through this type of process. Whilst modernisation is key to ensuring continuous improvement etc. there is a fine line to ensure that support services are able to provide the services required, without completely transferring onto customers (e.g. links to lots of information that may be difficult to understand). ; ;	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Outsourcing services to private providers is never the answer, it only dilutes the service to below-minimum viability.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This will have an impact on customers, longer waiting times and although it is always meant to show more effect systems, invariable it usually means more work for remaining staff when numbers are reduced.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reducing staff is the problem, there is no one to do the jobs that is needing done, causing more issues in the long run. People are already doing more than one job at a time which effects job performance and health. Hence why things are breaking down.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Why change a service that works	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	In the current climate, jobs shouldn't be reduced. Bring in those with knowledge to role out the new services which I hope, are better tailored and integrated throughout the council	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	How can you cut anymore	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The budget gap the council is facing is caused by increasing costs and a rising population combined with insufficient levels of government grant funding. This means that difficult decisions will require to be taken over the next five years about local services.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I believe that cutting back on staff only transfers the workload to others.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The council is struggling already, why lessen the amount of staff even further?	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The budget gap the council is facing is caused by increasing costs and a rising population combined with insufficient levels of government grant funding. This means that difficult decisions will require to be taken over the next five years about local services.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	All sounds good on paper but this will only result in a poorer service and cause frustrations and anger when trying to reach someone to resolve and report issues. There are many examples where this has been the case with a large number of other businesses. Once again it will be the front line staff who will have to carry the burden because of a poorer service.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	What actually does this mean? No real indication of actual examples of how this modernisation would work in practice. What services will be cut? Which employees will have their hours cut? ; ; It's just all jargon. ; ; The only comment I can make based on the above is that the council needs to remember we have a high proportion of residents who are elderly, or on a low income. Both groups struggle to access technology so you need to factor this into any decisions you make..	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It is going nowhere, especially when is known that people who are in problem are disabled, pension age or simply not working and can not afford smartphone or WiFi Internet connection.	2. The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	While modernization has to happen to keep up to date, there is still very much a need to provide front line services. Not doing so goes against making services inclusive to all. Many people still can't or won't engage with technology and their needs are equally as valid as anyone's.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It is nice to have some human interaction and some empathy and help most of the time even a multimedia customer service would not be able to help	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	No prefer to speak to somebody	2. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Technology doesn't work want to speak to a human to answer questions not possible on an automated system	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I would rather have a person to speak to	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I strongly disagree with a model of reducing costs by reducing staff numbers. There can only be so much that technology can do, and while efficiencies in technology and systems should be sought, the Council will only perform as well as the people who staff it. A saving by reducing staff numbers will surely lead to increased pressures on remaining staff, and we know that increased stress leads to increased staff absences, which then increases costs with agency staff and decreases council productivity.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue. Employee wellbeing is a priority for the council and a range of support and resources are available for employees and managers to access.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	As a Councillor, most of the cases I deal with are linked to the fact that residents have been unable to contact the appropriate Officer or department, so I would not support any further reduction of ways that the public can contact WLC.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is not reducing the number of ways a customer can contact us. Customers will still be able to contact us by phone, online, or in person. The change is simply that we will maximise the opportunities to deliver efficiencies in processes through automation, thus reducing the requirement for face to face engagement.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	No comment	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The use of contractors when u have your own gas engineers ie heating upgrades	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use all responses to the consultation to support the review of priorities and commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	There is very little detail contained within the narrative to make an informed comment. Suffice to say though that this should be a feature of a progressive and forward looking business and should not be the consequence of a need to save money.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance. There are rigorous internal scrutiny arrangements in place to assure the quality of our services and we are also subject to external audit and inspection.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Cannot comment without more detail being available. Agree to streamlining if jobs are duplicated.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The description provides no detail in respect of which services would be affected and it is therefore difficult to comment when the impact has not been explained.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think it depends on the services that are scheduled to be redesigned to make comment on this	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council places significant emphasis on effective internal and external integration and will continue to look for opportunities to integrate systems or processes to achieve efficiencies.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	For staff not to be using TMS when hybrid workers would allow more flexibility and be able to meet the needs of the service users better.; TMS is not a true reflection of our working week. For example: We have to take our lunch between 12:00-14:00. This is the core part of our day and often we are out on visits, we often have lunch later on after visits. If we clocked in and clocked out when we start/finish and had flexibility when we had to have a break, also I have families that sometimes require evening work. (Routines/bedtime support) on tms we are only able to work until 7. If there were more flexibility service users would get a better service.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Not all technology is good so we need to know what is being proposed.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	What about older generations who do not have access/choose not to access technology? What support will they have in place? Will the staff lose their jobs or will they be redirected into other roles?	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The respondent provided a series of questions rather than comments on the proposals
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	However, there is no mention of which support services are being targeted or when staff will be made aware of the detail. It is therefore very difficult to properly comment on such a high-level proposal, which is extremely disappointing and shows we have not moved on from previous 'consultations'.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Why don't you cut the Executive wages rather than getting rid of likely lower paid staff!	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Allow those nearing retirement age to take early retirement without penalty, or ask for voluntary redundancies. Reduce the number of promoted staff being paid large salaries for doing not a lot.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It is hard to give an informed comment when you do not clarify the exact impact and what services will be cut.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Remove the 7.5% shift allowance for road workers and also put more work out to contractors.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	There are also very limited details here to make an informed response. What technology, where and how will do we expect it make a cost saving, how many staff, what services etc. etc.? This feels like another consultation designed to tell people nothing to somewhat water down responses.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The comment raises questions rather than responding to the question
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	How does cutting jobs provide a better service?	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue. All services will be reviewed based on the impact they have on priorities. It is proposed that future spending will be aligned agreed priorities.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	What is meant by reviewing the small number of externally contracted services? Does this mean bringing these services back in house or sub contracting more services out externally? Having worked for an employer who decided to outsource work it was obvious the cost savings were not as expected, the service deteriorated and the work was taken back in house.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council's best value framework determines whether services should be delivered internally or outsourced, and looks to deliver best value across all expenditure.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It's all very well and good to put a few stats down with some complex sentences the average person won't bother to read and others not understand. However where will the 1.2 million in savings go? Into worth while causes like ensuring no elderly or child dies this winter from the cold? The normal working class don't care about where the cuts come we care the money isn't redirected to help the ones who desperately need it.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	All services will be reviewed based on the impact they have on priorities. It is proposed that future spending will be aligned agreed priorities. The council's aim is, and always will be, to ensure that West Lothian continues to be a great place to live, work, visit and do business. To achieve this aim we will continue to prioritise the money that we spend on services to make sure that our investment has the biggest and most positive impact on the community.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	How will this affect Housing, Customer and Building Services. What particular external contracted services will be affected?	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	This proposal is only covers the modernisation and approach of internal services
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	With reduced staffing levels, this will lead to longer waiting times to pay rent, Council Tax and more.; Staff are still working from home still.; West Lothian internet system is not stable enough as it drop connection and it also depends on the Staff's personal internet supplier to be good	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	So cut staff impact on customers, which staff would be affected, how much of an impact to customers?	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It is already difficult to get in touch with departments and staff. Reducing staff would not be beneficial to the council to be able to run its services. Better phone system in place and appropriate response time and supporting staff to support the public would be better.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I mean do you actually care what anyone thinks because the wording is not clear or easy to understand for this with no background in this. Like how can we comment if you are stating what services you will be consolidating and what would the impact be to customer? You can try and minimise all you want but without stating what it is how can we be expect to give a response. Clearly haven't learnt that people appreciate actual transparency.	3. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	You are suggesting that more efficiencies could be gained from amalgamation of financial/legal/business functions/buildings etc. This is to suggest your staff could be more productive? Yet it is more likely you have some 'dead wood' that you need to move out of your business to make it more efficient including some ineffective highly paid individuals who are no longer value for money.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Good. I am sure though that you could further to cut out waste and over administration. Sad as it is, greater reduction in headcount and duplication is needed. These figures feel modest in terms of a target	3. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This will only work if individual council workers are given more autonomy to make their own decisions. If not, processes will just slow down and become less efficient.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	How are you going to guarantee a decent service if your consolidating jobs across departments. At present services are stretched and sometimes poor. Surely this will only add to the problem.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think reducing staff at a service delivery level e.g. face to face or call centre workers will cause more issues than it would do good. Getting rid of essential personnel that answer questions and support with services will cause confusion and error to the consumer.	3. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Sounds sensible however headcount reductions should only drive prudent severance packages and funding for staff retraining will be needed.	3. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I agree with the the restructuring, bringing everything together with more efficiency. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reducing staff numbers where staff are already under pressure will not save money in the long run. You will only end up making people sick with stress related illnesses and have to pay increased sick pay. Then the jobs won't get done at all so you'll be paying money and nothing will be done. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The estimated saving above of £1.2 million is substantial. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Very vague description of what is happening, Im not sure what comments I can make. Of course saving need made and technology can help in some instances. Not sure if Externally contracted service ever save money in the long run and the quality of service is never the same. The changes need to be done properly Ive seen so many times great big Ideas and then the implementation of them causes more disruption. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Not enough detail to make constructive comments. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	WLC is becoming more and more distanced from its customers. It is already difficult to contact council staff and get to speak to someone who is able to deal with your query. This is even worse if you are someone with disabilities who finds the use of technology and being stuck on the phone for ages etc too difficult and don't have anyone to support you. People who most need help are at risk of becoming more and more vulnerable with the current proposals.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance. There are rigorous internal scrutiny arrangements in place to assure the quality of our services and we are also subject to external audit and inspection.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reduing staff numbers also jumps out here - many service areas are running short of their full compliment of FTE and are struggling to ensure current service is provided well. Understand that ultimately head count is the major spend within the organisation, however some teams could provide additional benefit with more staff.	3. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	We are struggling as it is with the number of staff we have within schools, for example teachers complete admin tasks such as photocopying. In addition to this PSW's are at a low number in classes meaning some students are not able to access additional support. Cutting numbers further will put even more pressure on teachers and existing resources.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	There has been so much of this done already with staff numbers being reduced. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The majority of Local Council's I have worked alongside certainly have luxurious numbers of staff at all levels compared with those in the small to medium sized companies in the Private Sector. Salary and benefits of Public Sector are far higher than those in the small/medium private sector - and you certainly achieve more value for your money when using external contracted services.;	3. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I don't believe that the council using outside services to reduce costs works.. I have seen it happen with many services and it's a shambles as there is not the same commitment from that service and the quality of service is poor and it has an impact on everything else . I believe less of a formal management structure with so many people to doing one job will help.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Only if the redundancy are the managers! Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Staffing numbers particularly in schools are already at a low where it is at times challenging to fully deliver the service. There are also many times where bins are not emptied or recycling centres are closing early due to staffing so these services must be protected.	3. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I don't think it would be a good idea as not everyone is technical and actually makes everything a lot harder if you can't speak to a person. Also a lot of services have already moved online and I do not think it is helpful. I do not think people losing their jobs is going to help it will just make your unemployment higher.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Through "modernising the council" there must be assurances on the people who work and live in the council. With the local financial climate looking to continue for the next few years and will surely have an impact, the council must look to it's staff and employees and not simply replace with technology which will not be able to complete jobs to the same level but simply be taking jobs away. I worry that services which are absolutely vital to our most vulnerable in West Lothian would be taken away - library, elderly services.	3. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think it is important to cap the salaries of the top paid managers and executives within the council. It makes no sense to cut the lowest paid members of staff when the top earners in the council earn so much.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council recognises the importance of managing pay fairly and in a way that motivates staff to make a positive contribution and support the delivery of the Council's objectives. In order to comply with equal pay legislation, the Council is required to develop pay and grading arrangements underpinned by job evaluation. Annual pay awards are determined through national bargaining arrangements which help ensure that certain minimum standards are maintained in relation to pay levels.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Important not to overstretch individuals or create single points of failure through such 'efficiencies'. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reducing staff levels and combining services will impact on how things are delivered. How will the the council be able to react to poor service delivery if they are constantly understaffed or overworked? Once services such as community centres are closed or unmanned they are never replaced or reopened, has the future impact been fully considered?	3. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The fundamental problem with the council is the structure far too top heavy in management and administration. Bring in all the technology you can however you need the correct skills and competencies to deliver effective and streamlined processes. ; Contracted services are the cost cow for the misuse of tax-payers monies.	3. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Cutting staff numbers means more people unemployed. Therefore putting more pressure on other services to fund them when they do not have a job. Employing more staff would take the pressure off unemployed funding. Meaning more staff to provide the services we are supposed to get that we pay for and don't get. Why do you always have to save money when we are paying more and more for council tax and getting less services because you keep reducing staff. The people at the top keep getting more and more money while the people at the bottom lose jobs and we get less services. Utter nonsense !	3. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reducing staff at such a significant time is detrimental to everyone. Will result in poorer customer service and by merging teams, will give current staff members more work to do on the same pay.	3. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think there needs to be recognition from above that there are groups of staff that aren't very busy working on strategic work. They work hard to make themselves busy but their focus is often "nice things to do". It appears to many of their colleagues that there is very little control over their work or, more importantly, their focus. They don't work with central services – they do what they want whether it is a good thing, most effective thing, a strategic priority or not ; ; There seems to be no realisation at a senior level that the work of these people is neither important, a priority. . What they do achieve is causing significant work load for their colleagues within other teams and services, who are tasked with supporting them. We can receive up to a dozen requests a day from some large services for work that is not important. It is not strategic and it is never discussed by anyone as being an important service – neither from a customer's perspective nor a council one. The big ticket/strategic priorities seem to be missed and the focus is spent on these nice to do things. Ultimately it causes a real problem for this organisation. It means your core internal services are bogged down by larger services that are focusing on items that we can all see aren't that important. It contradicts the idea that we focus on priority areas. The issue is, we say "Jobs and Economic Development" is important. "Caring for vulnerable people" is important. Of course they are. However we then give certain services large budgets to support the buzz words - the work doesn't appear to match the outcomes you'd want to achieve. Then it falls apart because there is no real purpose or strict focus on what that budget is being used for. Are they actually tackling these briefs or are they doing the nice things that look good but really achieve very little? ; ; Because they have large budgets, rather than be good and efficient they recruit staff as the answer. More staff results in more demand for central services that aren't able to meet this demand. The central services are left struggling to work through their work plans and they can see that the demand is being caused by large teams, not really focused or accountable, not really doing what they should do. It's basically – really inefficient. This is resulting in silos, services off on their own, doing their own thing. Heads of Service are so busy with reports and stuff that they can't see the wood for the trees. Their teams make errors, they need fixed. They	3. Employee wellbeing is a priority for the council and a range of support and resources are available for employees and managers to access.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	As a former recent employee for WLC, there's way too much money wasted on so called services. Contributing very large amounts to employees pensions and bring it down to what most other people in the private sector get, contributions to the "people's pension" Stop all employee benefits including social events, picking up bills for counselling services etc etc etc..... in the private sector, employees have to pick up their own bills! Stop all corporate functions paid or contributed by WLC, there are many of them!! Councillors expenses and what's allowed and accepted is shambolic! I could go on and on and on. WLC are an absolute disgrace when it comes to employee "benefits"	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Middle management within the council is quite frankly shocking, way too many who do very very little work, but pick up very health salaries!	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	As a council employee i fail to see where cuts could be made, within my setting, internet, devices and technology are not fit for purpose, especially the internet, it is frequently down which makes doing our jobs very difficult/impossible some days	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council has made significant investment in the IT infrastructure and will continue to allocate appropriate resources to introduce new technology where appropriate. The council's ICT Strategy seeks to deliver change in line with advances in technology and changes in council priorities, whilst still having a clear framework within which to operate.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It's disappointing to note that despite numerous cuts to services, loss of services and staff reductions the Council is faced with doing the same, not sure if there is much meat left on the bone!	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	There's very little information here for me to comment on - do I support service redesign, integration, and modernisation? Yes, however I want that without putting more stress on staff (i.e. not asking less staff to do more work). I don't want to see a move to digital by default without putting in place the support mechanisms to help those with low digital skills / no access to technology (and I don't mean the underfunded library services that currently exist, put digital skill training in place in libraries).	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Maybe some much higher paid staff could consider a pay cut to stop others from losing jobs.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	With purely a technology focus, which is key here, lesser use of contract staff on daily rates could be a consideration with necessary training provided to permanent council staff in these areas.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reducing staff by redundancies at a time when cost of living is on the up is unethical.; Why not rather pay the non-essential figure heads less money and stop bonus and excess expense claims that drain the purse	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I do believe reviewing sub contracted services and looking to better value for money or reducing cost is a way forward. Agency staff and subcontracting services is expensive and often poor standard.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Too much middle management roles were maybe one person could oversee all areas or groups relevant to their department.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Top heavy with management. Always have. Been and your service is basically terrible compared to years ago .. just take a walk round the streets .	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Less large pay rises for higher management and councillors along with ridiculous expenses incurred with travelling especially to and from conferences (unnecessary)	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Give the teacher the pay rise they want	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council recognises the importance of managing pay fairly and in a way that motivates staff to make a positive contribution and support the delivery of the Council's objectives. In order to comply with equal pay legislation, the Council is required to develop pay and grading arrangements underpinned by job evaluation. Annual pay awards are determined through national bargaining arrangements which help ensure that certain minimum standards are maintained in relation to pay levels.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I would like to see a commitment to this despite the cuts. external contracts should absolutely be brought back in-house, support your own staff to be pioneers, invest in them not fat cats. I am of the opinion that cutting staff is a short-term win and often causes problems in the future with failure to develop a future workforce, these cuts should not be at the mercy of this. We have a struggling market for skills now, there needs to be a robust workforce plan despite these cuts.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Concern over more staff cuts, especially when staff are currently doing more than one job as when people leave, the work is distributed to people already struggling to do their current job.; Also some external contractors monthly rate can be the same as an employee annual salary, when it would be better to give/train people and give them opportunity to better themselves and save so much money.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Personally I believe that every member of staff should be no longer working from home. All these council buildings and offices not being used to their full potential is a waste.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	As for restructuring the Councillors themselves should be taking a look in the mirror when it comes to claiming expenses. No more junkets and more focus in the job at hand.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reduce assets or buildings home working must have created space to allow buildings to be reduced	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use all responses to the consultation to support the review of priorities and commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Very difficult to comment without more detail to know how this would affect work of services. Finance support has already been reduced over the last few years so I am not clear how this could be done further.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	As the council will have less overall resources, the number of services delivered will have to reduce with services being reviewed based on the impact they have on priorities. This will include changes to service standards and the way remaining services are delivered. It is proposed that future spending will be aligned to agreed priorities.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	no comment	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Is this going to be a re design and waste of money or will it actually work	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	Where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Interested to know how much of an impact this is likely to have on the customer	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance for our customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	What effect does that have on those who will be out of a job though	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The council need to be transparent and provide details of which departments are amalgamating, who the teams will be an contact details. Already it is difficult to contract certain departments due to low resource numbers.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	So who is redesigning, the integration, use of technology, and the impact it will have on the people who pay the costs????; How can it possibly be cost effective to outsource some services instead of using your own employees	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This is a large figure. It'd be helpful to know how these savings have been calculated and what specific services would be replaced by technologies etc. Without this detail, it's hard to tell how council services will be impacted.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	How can the Mp's agree these cuts after increasing council tax? How much additional funds were raised through the last round of council tax increases and where have those additional funds been allocated? How can you now tell constituents that you have to cut resources and teaching hours and make saving when you have just increased revenue by increasing our council tax? Please explain why there is still a funding gap and the need for these proposed cuts?	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. The budget gap faced by the council is a result of funding being insufficient to cover the increasing cost of delivering services due to factors such as population growth and indexation. The council is subject to rigorous external audit and both Audit Scotland and EY have confirmed, over a number of years, that the council has robust financial management. Costs have continued to increase and by law the council has to balance the budget - this requires either increased income or reduced costs.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This is difficult to quantify as a resident- as the service provider we have to trust you to manage funds appropriately.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council's aim is, and always will be, to ensure that West Lothian continues to be a great place to live, work, visit and do business. To achieve this aim we will continue to prioritise the money that we spend on services to make sure that our investment has the biggest and most positive impact on the community. As validated by external auditors and other inspection bodies, West Lothian Council continues to perform well against key performance indicators and activities. This will continue to be monitored and reviewed.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Cuts should be made at top level management as there are no front line staff left to cut. The staff who actually deliver the service need to be available for face to face communication. Staff are already doing multiple tasks within their job remit and are seriously coming close to overload with their workload at the present time.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Cutting more staff will impact on these services and result in poor service to the public, especially in view of all the money being spent on partnership centres which show a face to the public that is not true, i.e. no staff to run the centres.; Staff are already doing multiple jobs within their remit, if this continues then staff will be stretched to the limits of their capacity.; If cuts are made surely this should be done at the top level of management as frontline have been slashed numerous times already.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Considering other Local Authorities close to WLC are taking a more effective approach with allowing staff to work from home on a full-time basis and as a result, the Local Authorities are looking to close buildings to save costs. It's very concerning that WLC's first approach is to reduce staff numbers further in the first instance before looking at using digital technology and remote working alongside building rationalisation.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Cost reductions on externally provided services are usually made at the expense of the workers in these firms. Please build in safeguards to ensure this does not happen.	4. The council is already doing this.	West Lothian Council is a living wage employer and encourages suppliers to pay the Living Wage.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Care should be exercised when integration is planned so as to balance need and expertise	4. The council is already doing this.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use all responses to the consultation to support the review of priorities and commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Technology can cost a lot of money, how would you actually achieve this, in-house or open market. In my experience in-house always turns out to be ineffective and in the long run more expensive. Please consider this properly.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council has made significant investment in the IT infrastructure and will continue to allocate appropriate resources to introduce new technology where appropriate. The council's ICT Strategy seeks to deliver change in line with advances in technology and changes in council priorities, whilst still having a clear framework within which to operate.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Try this, before you start charging us for more and giving us less in return. Focus on reducing/eliminating top-heavy management structures and greedy, bureaucratic tender processes that leave council departments forced to use contractors and suppliers which are often seriously overpriced.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council is bound by regulations contained in the Public Procurement Legislation which set out the procedures to be followed at each stage of the procurement process leading to the award of contracts within certain spend thresholds.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Investing in electronic provision of any compliance documentation would save printing costs, but obviously would cause costs in providing the necessary IT equipment to facilitate. Consideration would have to be given to emergency pack provision. but holding all compliance documentation electronically would save on printing out of lengthy reports and save on paper, ink, electricity costs in the long term. Consider IT portal (or app) contractors / clients / RP / Duty holders can log in to or fixed computer or tablet on site that is easily accessible for all required users.	4. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Stop using 3rd party (Capita) to collect revenues..	4. The council is already doing this.	The council collects income, however there are some contracts for debt collection. All external contracts are subject to best value requirements. The council's best value framework determines whether services should be delivered internally or outsourced, and looks to deliver best value across all expenditure.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think we need to be careful when thinking of consolidating services that services are not reduced or removed to the point that there is significant disruption to services provided. In other local authorities, the removal/reduction of services has removed youth clubs and groups provided to young people to the point that there is a significant increase in youth related anti-social behaviour. This then in turn needs more input from the police and other emergency services to deal with the backlash that comes from having little or no services provided in the preventative work that helps build positive relationships with young people so that they are active, positive citizens within society. A prime example of this is what is happening in England, London in particular, where services for young people have been cut so drastically that there has been an expediential increase in youth related anti-social behaviour and gangs.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance. There are rigorous internal scrutiny arrangements in place to assure the quality of our services and we are also subject to external audit and inspection.

The council is already doing this.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Working from home allows for less staff buildings. Working from home or only a few days in the office each week should be a permanent change. Or offer all staff a compressed week and only open staff buildings 4 days a week.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Offer redundancy/voluntary severance as widely as possible. Shake up the age profile of the Council.	4. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think that ensuring that current digital services are running efficiently is more important than introducing new digital services.	4. The council is already doing this.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Schools and young people will need access to devices and wifi.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	These costs cutting measures would evoke more anger in people who actually pay their Council Tax as it is becoming more evident every day that tax payers receive very little in the way of Council Services. Perhaps a more vigorous chase on lost revenue would be far more beneficial to All!	4. The council is already doing this.	The council actively pursues all debt, including council tax, community charge, rent and commercial debtors arrears. The council will investigate other ways to improve debt collections including strengthening corporate debt management activity.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Services will struggle with reduced staffing and in turn will affect the customer. Savings could be made in other way rather than cutting/reducing services. An example could be selling unused buildings.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue. All services will be reviewed based on the impact they have on priorities. It is proposed that future spending will be aligned agreed priorities.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	West Lothian Council needs to take greater advantage of any grants available to support/develop the services it ultimately decides that it will continue to provide. Too often this has been left to staff to identify and take advantage, to enable service functions to be provided to the public.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council maximises income from external sources to support service delivery. Staff involved in service delivery are often best placed to identify these opportunities.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Technology is great if used correctly but is not always the best option, some customers prefer people to talk to as technology does not always have the correct options available and you feel that you don't get what you require when questions and answers are automated. Maybe better training and correct use of staff might improve services provided.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council continues to offer different kinds of access for customers. This can be speaking to someone in person through an office, by telephone through the contact centre or digitally through our website or other online portals.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	How would this be done, and at what cost? Continuous improvement should be embedded within everyday business practices removing the need for large-scale and costly transformation programmes.	4. The council is already doing this.	Performance and improvement is embedded within council services but the scale of the financial challenges facing the council means changes to ways of working are required to deliver efficiency
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	working from home should be a default position for administrative roles.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Greater use of technology and minimising the number of systems will help efficiency and effectiveness, but I think it would be difficult to reduce staff numbers as currently this is at a skeleton level.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	You do not detail the costs associated with this redesign. I question if it is realistic to realise the £1.2m savings within 3 years unless the project has already been scoped. The reality is perhaps that certain jobs/ services are already earmarked for rationalisation. Naturally, redundancy costs will also need to be factored, so I question if this is a genuine opportunity.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Unfortunately, most of technologies needs to be run by people so maybe instead of reduction of staff council would consider developing more trainings/courses and re-train staff to be more sufficient with using technology, also staff who is in retirement age (pass the knowledge in properly build programmes which also give them more satisfaction and extra funds to go retire) but build new generation of employees with already basic knowledge. Recently I have been witnessing a lot of small / family run companies being with the council many years losing their contracts and literally closing down. Giving the contracts to companies outside West Lothian is not exactly fair and people working for companies based in WL not only pay taxes in here but also contributing to the communities. And giving many many more.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Before more staff are rationalised manager should make sure that all the staff cuts that were earmarked in the TYC 5 year saving plan between 18/19 and 22/23 have all taken place and if not these should be done before the new planned cuts take place.;	4. The council is already doing this.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Please lose fewer staff at the top end of salaries rather than lots at the bottom end. Making people unemployed is not the answer, redeployment in other areas should be considered.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	As a local Government body we should be using the funding that we receive to make sure we are providing the most efficient services as is possible.	4. The council is already doing this.	As the council will have less overall resources, the number of services delivered will have to reduce with services being reviewed based on the impact they have on priorities. This will include changes to service standards and the way remaining services are delivered. It is proposed that future spending will be aligned to agreed priorities.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	third party service providers should only be selected where there is a cost saving to be achieved. Due diligence must be carried out to a platinum standard and be above industry average;	4. The council is already doing this.	The council is bound by regulations contained in the Public Procurement Legislation which set out the procedures to be followed at each stage of the procurement process leading to the award of contracts within certain spend thresholds.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Outsourcing to third parties requires additional expertise inside the council to properly specify and then monitor the third party delivery of services - specialist procurement expertise with a demonstrable track record in service outsourcing procurement.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council is bound by regulations contained in the Public Procurement Legislation which set out the procedures to be followed at each stage of the procurement process leading to the award of contracts within certain spend thresholds.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Using the most cost effective outside contractors who are also reliable and not just those with a 'friend' at the council would be a more effective use of money and save in the long term when poor work does not need to constantly be repaired.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council is bound by regulations contained in the Public Procurement Legislation which set out the procedures to be followed at each stage of the procurement process leading to the award of contracts within certain spend thresholds.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Would rather talk to someone	4. The council is already doing this.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Please make sure that there is a balance throughout the area. Last time you were doing cost cutting, you were going to close Linlithgow recycling centre and only have them along the m8, which was not very fair.	4. The council is already doing this.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	be more open	4. The council is already doing this.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	When reducing staff numbers, redesigning services and integrating teams, cognisance needs to be taken on how this will affect staff, teams and services which often is overlooked. This can have a significant impact on individuals as their needs are not taken into consideration, nor is how the amalgamation of teams/services. This can affect operational staff significantly and procedures and how these are impacted are overlooked.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The Council are renowned for changing things and whilst change happens they drop the ball and it take forever to be up and running or staff have to utilise two system for a full picture of things making it less effective and efficient and overall impact is resource drain and poor customer service. When entering into any new modernisation strategy a proper full risk assessment needs considered, trialled before accepting.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Surely this should have been an ongoing exercise to ensure funds are put to best use. Customers should not receive a poorer service because the business is being streamlined to meet current needs	4. The council is already doing this.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	We need to be flexible, whilst providing the same service to internal/external customers...; cost savings need to be taken in areas that are not going to impact council users..	4. The council is already doing this.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Business support is the heart of any team and are vital to make teams efficient. Technology improvement is great, however we must remember that not all clients can work with tech.	4. The council is already doing this.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use all responses to the consultation to support the review of priorities and commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It is hoped flexible/home working continues within WLC allowing a further reduction in building closures.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I feel that the Council/Govmnt allow way to much council tax arrears, rent arrears happen and more action should be taken to those that dont pay rent/council tax, same as all those tenants in new build council homes who do not look after and they end up wrecked, this would lower the debts and give you more funds. Reducing public services is not an acceptable option	4. The council is already doing this.	The council actively pursues all debt, including council tax, community charge, rent and commercial debtors arrears. The council will investigate other ways to improve debt collections including strengthening corporate debt management activity. This consultation is focused on operational buildings only and has no impact on council houses. Council house investment is funded from rents, not council tax. By law the council cannot use general services resources to invest in council houses. There is a rent consultation which considers rent and investment in council houses.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	There is an increasingly high risk that there just won't be enough people left to do the work required. Better management of the budget would mean that fewer jobs would go. Before cutting any more jobs you should look carefully at the activity that is being funded and carefully consider what value it actually adds. You could develop a transparent operating/business plan, like private organisations, that decides in advance each year what projects will get budget and only fund activity that firstly has statutory obligations, then anything that is not statutory, or required to support statutory commitment - like support services, should be scrutinise to ensure that it aligns to the 8 council priorities.	4. The council is already doing this.	As the council will have less overall resources, the number of services delivered will have to reduce with services being reviewed based on the impact they have on priorities. This will include changes to service standards and the way remaining services are delivered. It is proposed that future spending will be aligned to agreed priorities. The council uses a priority based approach to budgeting in the identification of potential budget saving options. The council has delivered balanced budgets each year since 1996. The budget gap faced by the council is a result of funding being insufficient to cover the increasing cost of delivering services due to factors such as population growth and indexation. The council is subject to rigorous external audit and both Audit Scotland and EY have confirmed, over a number of years, that the council has robust financial management. External audit and regulation provides no evidence of reckless spending.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Unfortunately we have not much say as we are not in control of funding, the whole world is in a bit of a state due to Covid and mismanagement at local UK and Scottish Governments. Although we realise that cuts will be made, it is a very depressing read with cost of living, Covid Recovery and world events, Leaving EU etc. My answers will be mostly similar throughout this consultation as I would not like to make decisions as when it comes down to it, people will lose jobs. I believe that we have to support Economic Development and Employability, we need to try and invest!	4. The council is already doing this.	The council is already committed to supporting economic development and inward investment in West Lothian.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It is important to increase productivity and efficiency with a human perspective.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Outsourcing resources to external companies may save money in the short term; however as the costs from these companies increase, it would be hard and very costly to return to a council operated service. We should be thinking of long term effects on the council's operations rather than rushing into a short term fix.	4. The council is already doing this.	The scale of the budget reductions required over the next five years will be challenging. The council takes a medium to long term approach to its financial planning to ensure any changes it makes are sustainable in the medium to long term.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	If staff are sitting with little to do, then there is room for efficiency savings through staff cuts. If existing staff need retraining to make them more efficient, then this would be good. But I'm not in favour of putting people out of work unless every other avenue has been fully pursued.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It would seem wiser to take a strategic look at home working and where it might be appropriate on a long term/permanent basis as well as hybrid working it reduce council buildings. Currently it seems to be up to managers with huge variation across the council. Some hybrid working could take advantage of community centres, having a small hot desk and meeting space in each for teams to meet and work but without a lot more information it is hard to comment further.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	jobs should be consolidated where possible and better use of computer systems to cut down on general admin	4. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	External cost review is important, as is transparency around who wins the contract. Any possible bias needs to be declared by those awarding contracts. Why - because trust can't be regained once lost. Please no over reliance on Consultants. They are a massive cost and have little value to members of the public.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council is bound by regulations contained in the Public Procurement Legislation which set out the procedures to be followed at each stage of the procurement process leading to the award of contracts within certain spend thresholds.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Working from home and rotating when workers access council building will help this.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Allow staff to work from home and have more hybrid working and less office space.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Cut out the pipe dreams and pet projects which quite frankly are not only a waste of money but a waste of council staff resources. There are currently projects in the pipeline which dont even satisfy the design / build criteria but the council are pushing ahead spending money it could be saving, or spending more wisely.	4. The council is already doing this.	As the council will have less overall resources, the number of services delivered will have to reduce with services being reviewed based on the impact they have on priorities. This will include changes to service standards and the way remaining services are delivered. It is proposed that future spending will be aligned to agreed priorities. In some cases, external funding requirements demand investment in certain areas (e.g. Spaces for People).

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The council need to think about some of the services are vital for a lot of people. Some times certain services are cut that are needed and others are a waste of money and not essential in other areas.	4. The council is already doing this.	As the council will have less overall resources, the number of services delivered will have to reduce with services being reviewed based on the impact they have on priorities. This will include changes to service standards and the way remaining services are delivered. It is proposed that future spending will be aligned to agreed priorities. The council uses a priority based approach to budgeting in the identification of potential budget saving options.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	External contracts need to be reviewed as it would surely be cheaper and provide a better service if using in-house local people. Contracting out is used as an excuse for getting rid of staff when there should be more taken on and trained to do these jobs and then you would have flexibility in your workforce. It cannot save money if an external company is doing the same job, as they have to make a profit. Services should not be run for profit.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council's best value framework determines whether services should be delivered internally or outsourced, and looks to deliver best value across all expenditure. The council must consider both internal and external provision to ensure best value. In some circumstances it may be better value to deliver through external provision.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Every morning your council staff sit in the Fauldhouse Cemetery car park doing nothing, stop this kind of behaviour to save money and get your staff actually working	4. The council is already doing this.	This will be investigated as part of the staff performance and supervisory practice.

The council is already doing this.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	You need to modernise your IT	4. The council is already doing this.	The council has made significant investment in the IT infrastructure and will continue to allocate appropriate resources to introduce new technology where appropriate. The council's ICT Strategy seeks to deliver change in line with advances in technology and changes in council priorities, whilst still having a clear framework within which to operate.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Essential that meaningful consultation is carried out with the trade unions on this matter.	4. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Although Pecos is meant to provide buying power and this does benefit in relation to saving on some instances. I think that the this can also be restrictive in many smaller scale purchases which end up costing the more. i.e. More reliable and effective translation and sign language services are available at a lesser cost.	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	The council is bound by regulations contained in the Public Procurement Legislation which set out the procedures to be followed at each stage of the procurement process leading to the award of contracts within certain spend thresholds.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	External contractor not the answer, there work is not up to standard and council workmen often sent after to sort, gross mismanagement and no control on council part	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	The council's best value framework determines whether services should be delivered internally or outsourced, and looks to deliver best value across all expenditure. The council must consider both internal and external provision to ensure best value. In some circumstances it may be better value to deliver through external provision.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Stop giving all the work out to contractors and keep the work inhouse at building services!	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	Housing Customer & Building Services uses Building Services for the majority of work in its residential housing stock. Some work will require contractors by law like asbestos management and removal. Contractors will continue to be used to meet short term or emergency demand or to cover shortfalls created by pressure from the private sector on skilled tradespeople
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Need to understand in more detail what this actually means and the impact it would have for all including the customer	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Using contractors surely is dearer! ; Employ your own. Council used to be a great service. Now a utter disgrace. Waiting months for jobs to be fixed.	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	The council's best value framework determines whether services should be delivered internally or outsourced, and looks to deliver best value across all expenditure. The council must consider both internal and external provision to ensure best value. In some circumstances it may be better value to deliver through external provision.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The number one area not to cut back on is public health, either through local NHS services or providers of health and wellbeing such as West Lothian Leisure, who provide an amazing service to the community.	5b. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is likely that the costs of this proposal would outweigh the benefit or requires additional expenditure.	As the council will have less overall resources, the number of services delivered will have to reduce with services being reviewed based on the impact they have on priorities. This will include changes to service standards and the way remaining services are delivered. It is proposed that future spending will be aligned to agreed priorities.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	4 day week? I think we'd all accept an extra 1 hour a day to have a 3 day recovery.	5b. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is likely that the costs of this proposal would outweigh the benefit or requires additional expenditure.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	A thought: Do the council operate a staff referral scheme? Recruitment agencies can be quite costly for finding a candidate to fill a role. Perhaps it would be cheaper to offer the referring member of staff £x amount if the person they refer gets and stays in the job for 6 months as a minimum? OR council staff get a small bonus if they don't take any days off sick each year. It is possible as I am someone who has not had a day off sick in 18 years.	5b. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is likely that the costs of this proposal would outweigh the benefit or requires additional expenditure.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It would be terrible if WLC got rid of their staff and then replaced them with 3rd sector staff force.	5c. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is not consistent with the council's values and priorities.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	What is the impact on customers?; Would it be possible to change the Council to being a charity and would this save us all money?;	5c. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is not consistent with the council's values and priorities.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance. There are rigorous internal scrutiny arrangements in place to assure the quality of our services and we are also subject to external audit and inspection.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	If you do introduce advanced systems, why not build in an extra fees charging structure based on actual usage and try to develop profit centres rather than just trying to cut costs which increasingly aren't sensibly there to be achieved - can you do this? Sorry if you can't?	5c. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is not consistent with the council's values and priorities.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The reality is that the council will invariably choose badly when it comes to technology and reduce the staff regardless of whether or not that technology is in place. As well as this 'advanced' technology needs skilled staff to work with it and get the maximum out of it. The reality is that technical skills within the council are lacking. Recruitment should include a technical test that at the very minimum should include a validation that the individual is able to use MS office products at least. I spend significant portions of my time providing assistance to staff at all levels who should have better skills coming in the door. With regards to choosing technology. Procurement is a tricky process and staff without experience often handle work that is outside their skillset. Leading to a competition where the winner is not chosen by the best or most knowledgeable people. As well as this there should be an inclusion of preset questions on key topics like cyber security and data protection requirements. iTrent is a key example of technology chosen by the wrong people. the interface is horrendous and the system is slow, clunky and unintuitive. As well as this a quick google search shows that the top results where users comment on the product are all negative.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council has made significant investment in the IT infrastructure and will continue to allocate appropriate resources to introduce new technology where appropriate. The council's ICT Strategy seeks to deliver change in line with advances in technology and changes in council priorities, whilst still having a clear framework within which to operate.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Whilst this Woolf be welcomed I would have concerns with new systems being implemented with little or no training and that require some specialist knowledge to use such as iTrent. I also continue to have concerns about not being able to access HR support with often no replies to emails on challenging staffing situations as well as the implementation of such systems increasing my workload.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council has made significant investment in the IT infrastructure and will continue to allocate appropriate resources to introduce new technology where appropriate. The council's ICT Strategy seeks to deliver change in line with advances in technology and changes in council priorities, whilst still having a clear framework within which to operate.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Allow people to comment on WLC pages and not block them because you don't like constructive feedback.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council website is intended to keep West Lothian residents informed about council services and the local area and also, it provides them with access to the council services that they need (for those who wish to transact with the council online). The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Any time reducing staff members is mentioned usually results in worsening of a service. If things are being contracted out, that is where you start looking at cutting back	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reduction in staff also needs to change target times and dates for contact.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think the Council should cut back external funding to areas when there are superior services already within the Council i.e. CAB. Funding is often more easily available to external organisations and then many of these services are also provided additional funding from the council with little in return.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	As the council will have less overall resources, the number of services delivered will have to reduce with services being reviewed based on the impact they have on priorities. This will include changes to service standards and the way remaining services are delivered. It is proposed that future spending will be aligned to agreed priorities.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	External services whilst should be reviewed should not automatically be take "back in house" as this could actually prove to be counter productive	6. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Shared services between councils should be sought out before cutting staff.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council has an existing shared service agreements with some public sector partners and will continue to develop opportunities for further shared service arrangements with other public bodies.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Wow, disgusting that the Government can waste money on public services. I commend you for your efforts at a difficult time. Have you thought of having your business 24/7, employing people who want to work nights or weekends so that you can spread your operations over a 7 day period and not just 5? If utilities and shops can do it so could you.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The council has already cut staff back to the bone through TYC. There are very few people left to deliver qualitative services. Employees are working long hours and sickness absence is on the increase due to stress and anxiety. The council should seek to cut specific projects and programmes that don't delivery any meaningful outcomes or contribute directly to delivery of the 8 priorities.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I'm all for consolidating service but the council must not lose sight of the fact staff MUST be upfront and centre at local centres for a more inclusive service of older people.	6. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Perhaps expanding on the "redesigning of services" would be of greater help as this would highlight the services being targeted. As we are all aware, the majority of services once provided by the Council have diminished in size quite considerably over the last few years. I am struggling to think outside of refuse collection???	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	If there is the option of staff being redeployed or offered voluntary redundancies or early retirement I think this has less of a traumatic effect on staff.	6. The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Rather than further reduction I believe it is best to look at the functionality and the process to see if the council can work as a whole rather than separate entities where funding is doubled up with a mixture of technology and isn't being shared across the board.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	When consolidating services, will you ensure front facing staff are available for support and advice (also, not all services are available at the times stipulated online currently). Speaking to an advisor often helps alleviate anxiety and stress thereby aiding good mental health.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The Council will seek to maintain or improve customer service standards and will review targets and advise customers of any changes to service standards where this is deemed to be appropriate.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Front line services and jobs need to be retained. It maybe departmenters can be combined, natural wastage is not replaced.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Closer working across the Council with better communication would be of more benefit to the people of West Lothian rather than reducing services.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Management level staffing reductions should be looked at, to make larger savings without impacting customer services as much.; Working from home should be premiant were possible and the option of a 4 day week, full time hours compressed to 4 days.	6. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	New ways of working both during and following the Covid pandemic mean that the need to occupy so many offices has reduced. It is time to consolidate into fewer offices and either sell or lease those that are vacated. This would provide either capital or revenue income as well as reducing or saving entirely the annual revenue budget expenditure for these buildings.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	We currently have employees who are very knowledgable in their specialised field we need to utilise this expertise and ensure that the correct people are making the correct decisions. Redeployments put us in danger of losing this critical knowledge to an area that is not suited to the skills of the employee. Greater use of technology is advantageous but only if we invest heavily in "real" training as opposed to guidance notes sent out with a login and helpdesks which are not live.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	There are areas where duplication of work could be looked at.; ie Learning and Development across all council services could be brought under one team. This would help minimise costs around staffing, resources such as multiple SVQ centre costs and learning platforms, individual services duplicating costs for training that is used across multiple service areas, increase expertise with staff and allow for a coordinated approach to training and skill development of staff.; ; Bringing together staff from services areas under one team who are doing similar work, to make a more effective service and cut out a middle man. This is most relevant to areas such as customer engagement, media and online design and services.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	We can make savings and improvements through service redesign and greater use of technology, but that it should be understood that there needs to be additional resource in place to first implement this before any savings can be realised. If cuts are made before the new processes are fully tested and established there is a risk to service delivery. There also needs to be ongoing support for any changes or refinements which are needed. We need to consider training to ensure our staff can make best use of what we already have rather than procuring new systems. Consideration also needs to be given to customers with additional support needs or lack of access to technology.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I believe reviews should be made to the external contracted services to ensure the council is not overpaying, it definitely concerns the community that the finances are not being allocated efficiently and effectively, this was so evident during Covid lockdowns when money was spent filling to then reinstate bus stops and reducing to then increase again local speed limits. These things are quite honestly unforgivable and unfathomable and I very confident if you discussed with the local community they could think of many other ways to spend that money.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Training, team building, and performance reviews should be conducted in person from a council building	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.

The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Cutting staff numbers is one way to save money but if processes do not change then the staff that remain will just get more work to do when they are already overstretched at the moment. ; ;	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Must protect front line staff and services such as statutory child protection, early intervention, mental health and support and care to elderly and vulnerable. A good standard of housing for all must be a continued priority also.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	a strategic partnership should be established with a technology provider	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Perhaps we have the expertise and technology in house to cover externally contracted services, which must save cost reductions.	6. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Use of technology is a fantastic however the technology needs to be fit for purpose. you must ensure that the people who are using the technology are able to be involved in any consultations in it's design. Managers do not always have a 'hands on' knowledge.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	There is no specific information as to how you will "redesign services" or relevant examples, nor is there any information as to how it will "impact customers". Assuming the reduction in numbers would result in higher wait times, it would be good if WLC adopted an online ticketing system where users could review the progress of any queries, update them etc. I wouldn't mind waiting longer for an answer or solution if I was able to actually check on its progress. At the present time you email and await a response but have no idea of where it is the queue or any updates. You then have to go back, find the original reference and email again.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Certainly in the financial area to reduce the intake/output of cash/cash handling re lunch monies, outings - costs are given out in cash although some companies (Deer Park - ten pin bowling) are taking card payments only... perhaps something electronic could be set up as in schools for lunches especially	6. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Also working from home and smaller offices should a. Account for some cost savings.	6. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I believe our customers pay well for good quality services and wherever possible, reviewing contracts with external providers first should be the priority rather than staff losses at the Council.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council's best value framework determines whether services should be delivered internally or outsourced, and looks to deliver best value across all expenditure. All services will be reviewed based on the impact they have on priorities. It is proposed that future spending will be aligned agreed priorities, whether those services are delivered internally or externally.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Consider the particular services and scope which would be affected by this when thinking about the outsourcing of risk related to external contracted services, and the weight that would be placed back on the service bringing such contracted services in house again.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	As a council employee it strikes me as odd that we have multiple systems which do the same functions in different services, for example I am aware of multiple document management systems.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Would reviewing all externally contracted services provide an opportunity to save money and ensure that the council wasn't paying too much for these services?	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I would raise the following points: 1. What changes do WLC forecast to their statutory requirements, and how will it manage the potential impact on customers?	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council will continue to deliver its core responsibilities including its statutory duties and obligations. However, it is important that these duties are undertaken effectively and efficiently and any reviews will seek to ensure that this is the case.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I work in the tourism sector and I see lots of crossover between what is provided by the local authority and other publicly funded organisations such as VisitScotland and other organisations such as Scottish Tourism Alliance. There could be some savings here.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	One suggestion is to increase flexible working arrangements (i.e allow staff more scope to work from home, this would save on costs (electricity / fewer laptops using the electricity at any one given time).	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Can the public be shown the proposed service redesign plans? What are projected savings based on, reduction of staff head count? What exactly is meant by the statement; "There will be an impact on customers but we will seek to minimise the impact..." What is the actual nature of this "impact", and in what customer areas would this occur? If a reduction in operating times for public access to council offices or services, then this would be unacceptable.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Salami slicing is no longer sustainable; many statutory services are now cut to the bone. Services like revenues have always had continuous improvement at the heart, with automation built in, whereas other services still have to make that journey. ; ; Better to concentrate efforts on services that could really improve systems & processes.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	What will the impact be on customers - not specified?	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	please close venues that aren't well used. We can't keep libraries open if they aren't well used. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council has an existing shared service agreements with some public sector partners and will continue to develop opportunities for further shared service arrangements with other public bodies.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I would like to see more shared services like the nhs embraced a decade ago. Councils seem highly adverse to the idea but cant afford to be	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council has an existing shared service agreements with some public sector partners and will continue to develop opportunities for further shared service arrangements with other public bodies.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think since the return to business operating as near to normal after covid19 restrictions as possible, it is obvious that many services from WLC departments have either been removed, reduced or relocated. Some positive savings may be obvious - and this would be a great opportunity to explain to residents what WLC have done to become 'leaner' during this time. Services from a public visual perspective appears to have been reduced greatly and/or removed impacting negatively on street hygiene, dog fouling and fly tipping getting worse - again having a negative impact on the environment and the community we live in. This 'feel like' we are paying for a service that is poorly / or not delivered.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Greater efficiency would be achieved if staff were able to deliver services rather than going out with, training and developing existing staff- would increase morale and promote retention. Staff have been doing the same job for years, they become complacent and disinterested, I have worked for other companies who promote staff moving their internal role every four to five years to allow them to develop their knowledge and skills.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	please spend money on building capacity for staff currently employed and less on contracting in 3rd sector agencies. we have untapped talent that is not being used, and resources can be shared amongst services.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I think the structure of the whole Council needs to be addressed. ; Council seems to be top heavy and not enough staff of the shop floor to be able to deliver the vital services needed to the communities of West Lothian.; Yes you intergrate service but then end up with senior/manager overload.	6. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	staff cuts are something that in my opinion should be avoided or be an absolute minimum. many departments are operating understaffed at present and further cuts will have an adverse effect on service provision and staff morale.; morale is very low at the moment and many staff feel under-valued. cutting more jobs will push many departments to breaking point	6. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Staffing is already low, due to inability to recruit. Pressures incumbent on staff during COVID remain. Staff should be consulted who are likely to be impacted by redesign, including front facing staff to gather ideas and views. Working with other councils across borders should be considered too, where possible to gain experience and share staff for common interests e.g. environment, cost savings, social care etc.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Some areas have already streamlined through looking at processes and methods of working and are still proactively doing this. There are internal barriers to being able to progress due to the need to interact with other service areas who sometimes are not on board. There are also hurdles with the I.T requirements to facilitate changes.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Will only work if the services put in place actually do support what is happening in the real world. Having people working from home and saving on Civic Centre costs only works if those working from home can answer telephone calls as they would normally rather than relying on emails which can take days to answer.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Some areas have already streamlined through looking at processes and methods of working and are still proactively doing this. There are internal barriers to being able to progress due to the need to interact with other service areas who sometimes are not on board. There are also hurdles with the I.T requirements to facilitate changes.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	You can reduce staff in the community centre by getting rid of the team manager as this is an extra position.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council is already reviewing staff numbers and structures as part of this proposal. Where possible it is hoped that savings come from efficiency and improvements rather than job reductions
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	There is duplication in areas being provided by 3rd sector organisations such as ROOTS referral process and SMILE counselling.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Could make better use the website and other social media to provide information - needs to be included as a matter of course into every project.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council website is intended to keep West Lothian residents informed about council services and the local area and also, it provides them with access to the council services that they need (for those who wish to transact with the council online). The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The use of laptops and better mobile phones has been welcomed and have been a positive when utilising these to support clients. What would be beneficial is if staff can access printing facilities out with their designated offices, which would allow for better use of time and less travel if for example partnership centres could be accessed by all staff for printing facilities.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Better use of technology could see council tenants reporting maintenance issue etc, through an online portal (rather than waiting 40 mins to get through on the phone). I think you could expand the online capability to cover the vast majority of the reasons a person may need to contact the council.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	And when considering technology upgrades, make sure they the software packages speak to each other and are compatible.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	New technology is good but be wary as integration between different services is particularly hard as there are so many variables. You may waste a lot of money trying to achieve the impossible. Basic things need to work if you implement them. I emailed the council earlier this year to join in the next council meeting and got no response.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Ensure proper research is undertaken and suitable systems are employed for all using them - otherwise it may be a saving to IT Services but add large amounts of unproductive time and effort to the staff using them. As staff costs are usually the greatest burden on an organisation these also need to be evaluated. Most organisations with the size of land assets WLC manage have a properly integrated GIS based inventory and management database, covering legal and management aspects in one place so that officers undertaking work can produce proper woodland / landscape management plans, including these aspects with all being stored in one place. Some, like that of Woodland Trust, has information from this connected to budgeting and accounts and contracts. I could arrange for a demonstration if this would be helpful. One-size fits all systems may in fact be more costly overall. Eg including trees and woods into a system for recording structures such as lamp posts, which unlike trees don't grow, may in fact be more time-consuming, not produce information in a format for applying for grants and therefore add staff time and costs elsewhere. We along with many other councils have found Confirm does not provide the GIS facility we need for Tree & Woodland management along with other semi-natural and formal growing landscapes. Packages such as TreePlotter / TreePlotter Parks / Easytreev are better suited for this. Have been trying to sort out a proper inventory of what areas of woods and trees WLC owns for many years, as this is the first and essential aspect of any tree safety / management regime. Data on current systems inaccurate and incomplete due to work being undertaken in a piecemeal fashion by those on "light duties" not necessarily suited for the job is not necessarily cost effective as it has to be re-done. Better to start using hi-res, up to date aerial photography and legal layers from Property (which need to be all on one layer!) and plotting areas and then going on site to ground truth. Need for key reference GIS data to be properly managed and updated - therefore need for a WLC wide GIS Manager and small team to keep oversight of this across the council - GIS is useful for Education, Social work policy etc as well as land based, roads / property / land assets as everything has a location. Not sure if members and Senior Management have had a general awareness training in the usefulness of geo-spatial data -	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Libraries are important no dispute there however we need to find a way to centralise the facilities and have access open to all... having worked in a temporary role within WLC I have seen a lot of empty space not being utilised to its full capacity. I have neutral politics on this issue however access and information is so important in today's political landscape I am loathe to propose one over the other what I would support with increased taxes local or national is a one stop shop that supports all the local communities eg: a dedicated service for people with mobility issues/mental health issues / no access to Internet forums etc. this might be run over 7 days a week with allocated days being dedicated to one specific issue and therefore reducing the amount of physical building's requiring heating/ lighting/ staffing etc if we centralised and combine specific days with issues and free or subsidised transport requirements then I would hope we could combine resources and efforts for the benefit of all in West Lothian while making significant cost savings ?	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The Council has a legislative requirement to provide library facilities and will review the most effective means of delivering this service, taking account of demand and opportunities to access activities which currently take place in libraries from other community facilities.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Save money by combining back office services with other authorities.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council has existing shared service agreements with some public sector partners and will continue to develop opportunities for further shared service arrangements with other public bodies.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	What do other local authorities do, what is the benchmark. Has any thought been given to have shared services between LAs? West Lothian do HR for South Lanarkshire and South Lanarkshire look after finance for West Lothian? Economies of scale and shared knowledge would improve services.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council has existing shared service agreements with some public sector partners and will continue to develop opportunities for further shared service arrangements with other public bodies.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Which services could join and be synergised to be more effective and allow significant savings? There must be a significant number that can be merged and adapted.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Impact on customers should be a priority - if technology is not able to meet their needs, then staff numbers should reflect this	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Consideration to using skills of staff to assist with any transition before the reduction in staffing. Lot of knowledge in the organisation that needs harnessed better,	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I would be careful on reducing staff. Sometimes technology is not the way forward and trying to get answers from human is needed	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	You need to be more involved with your citizens and asking them to be actively participating in their needs to make it better as a whole	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I tried going online but was refused as my password was not accepted. If you want to have more people contacting you online. this sort of thing will have to be improved.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council has made significant investment in the IT infrastructure and will continue to allocate appropriate resources to introduce new technology where appropriate. The council's ICT Strategy seeks to deliver change in line with advances in technology and changes in council priorities, whilst still having a clear framework within which to operate.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Cost of the school day - would be keen to hear how the council thinks we can run afterschool clubs and pay for buses to venues, with no budget for this?? This has led to pupils now not being entered for competitions and fixtures which pupils in the past have had the experience of.	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	Headteachers have responsibility for prioritising devolved resources to meet the curricular requirements within their schools and ensure the delivery of the Broad General Education and for opportunities for wider achievements.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I feel like use are and have spent money on centralised building for every town Blackburn partnership, bathgate partner ship building, does this mean fewer staff being in, would seem a waste of money for the building being used or half used, using technology is great when it works, face to face or calls will always work better especially for elderly	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The council continually invests in community facilities and has recently built a number of partnership centres with improved facilities for communities. The Council will offer communities the opportunity to access community facilities in partnership with other organisations. Community groups will have the opportunity to request ownership of properties through the provisions of the Community Empowerment (Scotland) Act 2015,
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Your systems are convoluted and plainly - prone to being fiddled! I've lost count of the number of times I've discovered one part of the council not talking to another - and 'empire builders' acting to protect their own territories to the defeat of purpose! Cutting the rot out is no bad idea; but I doubt it will really happen! - Too much internal corruption couple to a culture of denial, ranks closing and bullying of whistleblowers!	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	Thank you for your comment.

The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance. The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Please don't reduce staff numbers in the care sector, we need a higher staff to client ratio for proper care	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The scale of the further reductions required over the next five years will be challenging and the council will seek to use the existing range of workforce management and organisational change policies to deliver the required reductions in staffing numbers.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	If staff are working from home more often than not, then they should have a reduced salary to reflect the cost savings they achieve. Whilst energy bills are up, they are not as much as fuel costs. Particularly staff in IT who for some reasons get to work from home all the time. These staff have basically been given a pay increase. Are they working better? Are IT projects more effective? I think we all know the answer to that. Staff in offices and teachers, waste etc have all had a pay cut, effectively.	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	More money should be provided by the government. Local authorities should not be in this position. Services by the council should not be cut, if this continues to happen. Why have a council everything will be privatised.	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. The budget gap faced by the council is a result of funding being insufficient to cover the increasing cost of delivering services due to factors such as population growth and indexation. The council is subject to rigorous external audit and both Audit Scotland and EY have confirmed, over a number of years, that the council has robust financial management. The council regularly emphasises to the Scottish Government the need for a fair settlement for local government as well as working with COSLA (the body that collectively represents local government in Scotland) to emphasise this point.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The Chief Executives should take a cut in their huge salaries, for instance Graham Hope's salary is £144,927, two depute chief executives with £126,664 each, three heads of service at £103,574, one head of service received £101,636 and another three heads of service had salaries of £95,872....Overall the council's wage bill is over £200 million, so yeah, maybe take a wee pay cut as you make some cuts to our services?	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	The council recognises the importance of managing pay fairly and in a way that motivates staff to make a positive contribution and support the delivery of the Council's objectives. In order to comply with equal pay legislation, the Council is required to develop pay and grading arrangements underpinned by job evaluation. Annual pay awards are determined through national bargaining arrangements which help ensure that certain minimum standards are maintained in relation to pay levels.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	As we are on a low income we can't afford anymore price hikes, it's bad even with the gas, electricity & petrol prices going up all the time, to me it looks like the government is trying to keep the poor even poorer, what you should do is stop paying the MPs top money, & paying for all the expenses like the second homes cars & all that.	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	The council has no control over the pay of MSPs or MPs.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Please also work with the local councils round about, to ensure that there are facilities near by on transport routes. e.g. If you plan to close the pool in Linlithgow, please make sure Boness pool is remaining open.	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	The council has an existing shared service agreements with some public sector partners and will continue to develop opportunities for further shared service arrangements with other public bodies.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Who is carrying out the review on savings, I hope it's not the council policing itself as that may be a waste of time, Turkeys for Christmas springs to mind. I think that WLC like many other councils in Scotland need a shake up, similar to private organisations and less jobs for the boys attitude.	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Thank you for your response. Your comment has been noted. The budget gap faced by the council is a result of funding being insufficient to cover the increasing cost of delivering services due to factors such as population growth and indexation. The council is subject to rigorous external audit and both Audit Scotland and EY have confirmed, over a number of years, that the council has robust financial management. The council's aim is, and always will be, to ensure that West Lothian continues to be a great place to live, work, visit and do business. To achieve this aim we will continue to prioritise the money that we spend on services to make sure that our investment has the biggest and most positive impact on the community. As validated by external auditors and other inspection bodies, West Lothian Council continues to perform well against key performance indicators and activities. This will continue to be monitored and reviewed.

The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This is close to gobbledegook. If there is an impact on customers, then what kind of impact? Longer wait times for service response? Greater clarity is needed about what this actually means.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	How will that work? 'Restructuring' over- stretched services?	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I would be keen to know what impact this will have on customers? It's not clear in your description.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I don't like the reduced staff numbers, and I would like to know more. Are these people redundant? What would be the impact on the community?	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Can the use of external contractor service provision be quantified, and how is it implemented, managed and audited?	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance. There are rigorous internal scrutiny arrangements in place to assure the quality of our services and we are also subject to external audit and inspection.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Can you please elaborate on the statement "The council will also review a small number of externally contracted services, with a view to achieving cost reductions.". Are you looking at expanding or reducing these "externally contracted services", or are you looking at bringing these back in house?	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Am I supposed to be able to understand what this question is asking??!! So you're basically making cutbacks and you want comments on this? Unbelievable.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	can't comment as you have no specified which services will change;	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Information provided is too vague to make any informed comments. What 'impact on customers' is expected?	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Clear as mud what your talking about. How about putting a plain English document clearly stating intentions	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Not enough detail to judge the impact this might have.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	There are no measures detailed here to comment on	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I've no idea what this means.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Don't understand this issue	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Insufficient information provided to respond to.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I'm not sure what the question is.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I do not understand what this means in practice and how this will affect me	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Without detail, this is vacuous policy talk.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Don't fully understand the proposal	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Don't really understand what this means exactly! Would need more information and details to make useful comments.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It is difficult to evaluate without details. It sounds like some services will be cut, so bad news.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This is just words not a lot said here!	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I don't understand any of this	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Lack of detail in this statement	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Not sure what this means	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Further details required before comments can be made!	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The narrative is too vague to comment.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Unable to make provide a constructive comment as there is no detail as to what this would involve or how it would affect individuals, services within the Council, no details of costs to implement new technology.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Sounds like a lot of what we would call 'w(redacted)-speak'. A procession of words that mean nothing. A lot of that coming from the PM and FM this week. Consolidation . . .integration. . .impact. . .you may think these are fancy shiny impressive words. It's all rubbish. Fight harder for us. Stop short changing us. Stop giving the general public nonsense speak like above and give us honest, simple explanations. Your allowing us to be shafted, reducing the value of what we get for our taxpaying money. Criminals.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This whole evolution is littered with waffle. The council pays too many high (high-ish) salaries to largely unmotivated staff. The people that review these findings is most likely the cohort I'm speaking to. Address this wastage and focus less on more automated services that simply make the lives of us whom actually work very difficult as we haven't the time to hold for 20minutes only to be told another load of waffle (from the publishers of this 'consultation'.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It is difficult to comment when there is no detail of what this actually means.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This seems very vague, and I don't feel I can comment on it without knowing more details.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The wording of this question is poor. Public surveys should be clear and use plain English. As a member of the public, I have no idea what this means to public service and would generally agree to saving on something I don't understand if it can go to something that clearly provides value to the public like schools, parks, play areas, and roads etc. There is no obvious public service being lost here, there is a reference to impact on customers and seeking to minimise implies a negative impact, but why did you not define the negative impact? If this is to be a real consultation that is asking the public to weigh pros and cons and make an informed decision, surely you have to define the service or task clearly and define the pros and cons clearly? why would you not just save the £1.2 million anyway if you can't define the cons, why ask us?	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	dont really know what this means	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Unable to comment as you haven't given any information on the services affected or how they will be affected.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The format of this survey is poor and does not lend itself to true scrutiny of the proposals. The survey is badly designed and off putting to many given the large blurb of text under each heading - the language is in business speak which is essentially meaningless. There is a lack of clarity on the proposals and the reader is left to assume what the blurb is getting at. This survey should have been in plain English with examples of the proposals which would support greater engagement with the activity. There should be space for feedback on the methodology being used also - this has not been made available which adds to suspicion that the whole process is already decided, and course of action is already determined. The council and COSLA must do more to protect our communities and demand a fair settlement from the Scottish Government. This exercise highlights the political failure of the funding model and it will be the local community that suffers as a result. The end of the survey does not have a 'Finish' button, merely a 'Next'. Overall - very poor approach.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Savings good for the public but what does it mean for staff??	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	How can I comment when I don't know thd details of these changes. However, reduce the number of managers and put more 'doers' on the ground.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It is difficult to provide comment to such proposals when it is so wide ranging and doesn't include what these changes would look and to who. It would have been more beneficial to include what relevance this was to each department for a more informative response. Involving the key staff in this process rather than a top down approach.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Staff reductions will save money but will service standards be maintained. Will higher unemployment across the authority cost more?	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This is all very vague. A more detailed and itemised plan would need to be published on this before I could comment further. I think most staff work incredibly hard and are under pressure as it is without adding more to their workload, and this is not well considered. I am not a fan of externally contracted services. From experience, this has led to more problems than it solves at times.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Believe that the council already know what they want to do but are covering this up with fancy words.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It is disingenuous to ask people to comment on such a broad proposal with far too little detail for anyone to give an opinion on - it constitutes tick box consultation. It is difficult to argue with the broad principle outlined but it very much depends on how it impacts on people - reducing staff can often mean that the only method of communication is online and in many organisations this causes much greater inefficiency/no help at all for the customer/client.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Has costing for training and integration of systems been taken into account. Prior personal experience has been that very often insufficient budget is committed to this.; Is this consolidation to be internally hosted systems, or, out sourcing to 3rd party cloud based providers.; What is the planned budget for these services over 3yrs, taking account of proposed savings.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The description of changes is vague. What business support functions would this include and what would be the extent of staff reduction. Within Social Work there are already shortages of Admin workers which impedes services from being delivered. Greater use of technology makes sense as it can certainly be more convenient, but I worry about the impact on more vulnerable/impaired/older individuals who may struggle with using technology.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Its very hard to make comments on this as the impact is not known at this time for customers, if you had written the proposed impact on the customer it might be easier to make comment	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	This description is unclear	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	There's not enough information about this to be able to understand the proposed changes and comment on them.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Does reduction in staff also include school staff? I see that schools are already struggling to fill roles.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	How many staff members would lose their job through this? A reduction in staff potentially means a reduction in services. Your staff are already stretched trying to provide the services with less numbers. ; Why source external contracts when it could be kept 'in house'. ;	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Think this could have been better worded to show what the changes would look like and be more user friendly. The majority of West Lothian may not fully understand the jargon. ;	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The above statement is difficult to respond to because it is so general and gives no examples of which services might be consolidated, which types of staff might be reduced in number, or which systems might be reduced in number within the internal business and financial support functions that are provided to council services. More detail is required before consulting with the public on their response to proposed changes.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I don't think that this is the best way to start a public survey! The paragraph above states the obvious and gives very little information.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The survey wording is incomprehensible and will exclude significant numbers of citizens who will not be able to understand what I being proposed. Strongly suggest that the survey is re-written in the following ways:; 1. Proposals are put forward in plain English, avoiding jargon and public sector terminology.; 2. Engage a (non-public sector) copywriter to improve the clarity of the proposals.; 3. Explain how the estimated saving has been calculated.; 4. State the potential disadvantages of each proposal, as well as the potential benefits.; ; As it stands this consultation survey is not fit for purpose.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Not enough detail her to have any idea what this means for service users.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Without more specific info on the areas - I cannot comment on this section.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Is this cutting back on staff in schools? There isnt enough staff as there is.; How are we suppose to comment when it isnt clear!	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	; Having carried out extensive service redesign activities at each stage of the cuts over the years, I struggle to visualise how this is possible. Stripping out staff from services and trying to maintain the same service levels is impossible and there needs to be honesty about having to do less with less.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.

The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Modernising the council means less staff and less jobs. Why are we not given the figures for the cost of employing workers as a comparison? ; ; What happens to the old technologies?	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The lack of real facts and figures about what is going to change makes it a challenge to comment effectively. More information is required before any meaningful consultation can take place. We should be provided with a statement for each section and the option to agree, disagree or have no opinion. I would strongly urge the council to re-present this consultation in a more user friendly format.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Would this apply to schools? Teaching staff should be increased, not decreased, and increased use of technology ≠ instruction.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.

The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	More info needed, which services are affected, what does redesign actually look like?	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I feel unable to comment due to lack of clarity of what the proposals mean ie what is the impact on myself as a service user.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.

The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Insufficient detail on impact to make any assessment	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reading this sounds fair and it is a substantial amount. ; ; If reducing staff will this mean voluntary redundancies?	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Is this saving net of any write down of older technology and projects costs to set up new systems? Is the bulk of the saving from staff reduction? If so, how will you ensure that remaining staff do not have to take on additional work?	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The comments are in the form of a series of questions
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Resources could be trimmed up and scaled down all the old draconian ideas need thrown out.; The waste of money in all areas is a disgrace the private sector would not have this.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It is not so clear what exactly involves with this but outsourcing some services are usually possibly reduce some cost but massive decrease of quality.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.

Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Any attempt to reduce staffing, given the current difficulties in some key and essential services ability to recruit staff would be narrow minded and ill thought and would put additional pressures on an already depleted and demoralised workforce. I believe council services are best delivered by the council workforce. I am unable to provide further input as the level of detail within the estimated saving briefing doesn't allow me too.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	Reducing staff numbers will increase the amount of people needing support from the council and potentially sending more children into poverty when their parents loose their jobs	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	The language in the survey is not for the average people- it will put people off completing it or is this the idea?	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	I have absolutely no idea what this means. Far too vague to understand and interpret what you are referring to	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1A Service Redesign, Integration and Modernisation	It's not clear from above where the savings will be found. Please consult with plain language instead of euphemisms.	9. Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.

Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Ensuring that the management structure is efficient and well led will reduce any impact on service delivery.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Agree that management efficiencies require reviewing to get the best result for the public i.e. any duplication slimmed down to save costs and perhaps the council is too many chief's in management positions opposed to the indians - seems more and more that management are all tied up with other things that there's not the time there used to be for issues staff require resolving - as not able to get on phone so emails have to sent for replies for example 'in a meeting' . Think overall there is too much time taken up in management for staff's annual / flexi leave etc that could be better spent on the real work in administering customer service. Has to be more all hands on deck in carrying out the work being done	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	It is usually a case of too many people in top positions and lower level staff under pressure so agree streamlined management structure is key	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Less managers looking after more areas, as has been done in the education sector for years.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Has no direct impact to community but makes sense if there's the ability to spread accountability and decision making across departments. Would be keen to see this through natural movement of retiring or relocating staff.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.

However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Need to ensure succession planning, as many Managers are in the older age bracket, loss of knowledge and how do we attract/ retain younger staff, as we are unable to offer similar wages to external organisations	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	In order to support effective employee development, succession planning and to support reduction in costs of recruitment, adverts are often placed internally in the first instance. Where internal recruitment is not possible, then external appointments will be made. The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Better save on managers than workers	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Makes sense. Become a lean organisation and things typically work better. Decisions are made quicker meaning you become more proactive and less reactive.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Effective delivery of all current services is a must	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I would only be worried in that less management may mean less support on weekly basis from management and less personal one to ones and annual reviews?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Management demographics have changed and there may be a willingness amongst managers within the pensionable age groups to voluntarily leave the service creating both opportunity for others and restructure opportunities within service areas, this should maybe be explored.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again as long as the changes to arrangements and management efficiencies are implemented equitably, plus the impact these changed arrangements have on the WLC customers are clear (to the customer) and practical (for the customer) then in principle, a saving of £0.5 million is welcome and in line with good management practice.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.

However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	There is often a drive to reduce management layers and increase spans of control. Beware though that individual managers are not so overloaded as to not be able to manage.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	The departments are top heavy - the reduction of some of the more senior roles will fund more staff no.s on the ground to carry out the day to day tasks and have less of an impact on the level of service provided to the public	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Environmental Services and in particular "Roads" has too many layers of management and too many managers within that structure. 10 Superisors and 4 Roads officers to manage 50 workers. They also have a totally unnecessary "Planner" in addition to a "Senior Engineer" and department manager. In total, that's 17 managers directly in charge of 50 Road workers and that doesn't include Managers in post who are indirectly in charge. This insufficient business model is replicated in other departments too. It's really not that difficult to resolve.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	As long as the efficiencies do not impact on actual public services and response times then of course inefficiency must be addressed	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	As long as these measures lead to a measurable increase in service quality as measured before any changes are made they have my support. Metrics would be essential in this case.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	There are areas in the council where management is top heavy.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Focus on reducing/eliminating top-heavy management structures and greedy, bureaucratic tender processes that leave council departments forced to use contractors and suppliers which are often seriously overpriced.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is bound by regulations contained in the Public Procurement Legislation which set out the procedures to be followed at each stage of the procurement process leading to the award of contracts within certain spend thresholds.

Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	A flat management structure is desirable to cut costs at management levels rather than working staff.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Need forward thinking managers who will think outside the box and not continue with the excuse "that it has always been done like that"	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again makes sense, reducing the hierarchy and skill sharing across services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	The management of the council has been lacking for many years now, clear those that are deadwood (of which there are many) and empower those that remain to actively manage and lead those employees that absolutely need to perform better themselves	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Yes, normally too much middle management, especially those that have been promoted or moved sideways to get rid of them without redundancy. Try listening to the staff on the ground, they know which managers work hard for them, the public and the council. Do not keep butt kisses!	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Good to see cuts to management are nearly half the cuts to the staff budget. In my limited exposure to council management, they provide an even poorer quality service than management in commercial businesses.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	It's fair enough getting rid of management however we need to understand fully what, where and how the money has been spent.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Depends on level what impact but you would hope that this isn't a case of just of removing the post and expecting their direct reports to take on the responsibility instead as is often the case.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Always worth reviewing although very much a balancing act in relation to service delivery. Some areas are more management heavy than others and there always a need. Managing expectations is also very important in this area. Often the message is trying to offer more for less. I feel a more appropriate message should be around what is the best possible service that we can provide with a streamlined approach. Already Management and Staff are expected to be a jack of all trades and this causes significant pressures resulting in high sickness absence and low morale.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue. Employee wellbeing is a priority for the council and a range of support and resources are available for employees and managers to access.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Why are there so many people in the council receiving salaries over £100,000. A review of those jobs being cut should include the impact each job title has on the improvement of the lives of the citizens of West Lothian. I'm sure that those on higher salaries have less impact than those people on lower salaries, who are at the forefront of providing services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again why is a savings of £500,000 made anyway	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again, great idea but not an excuse to shed staff and move responsibilities around. It must be part of a larger, coordinated plan.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Surely looking at salaries at the high end of councils should be one of the first things to be looked at	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Makes sense but does the saving include the redundancy bill? If not the figure is inaccurate.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Too many unnecessary managers	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Less managers and more people doing the jobs - is just common sense.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	That's nice you are also sacking some big bosses as well as lower paid workers. ^sarcasm*	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	A good place to start	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I'm sure the savings could be increased if more upper management were removed rather than middle management, as I assume this is.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	See above, effective delivery becomes even more important.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	There are a number of senior management including councillors that could go. Employing more actual workers. Too many box ticking holding back the real work.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	No one should feel like their job is at risk but some departments I have no idea what all the managers within that service do.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This is a chance to modernise how the Council is run, with old-fashioned micro-management styles being phased out in favour of a trust model.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Also sounds like a step in the right direction	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I'm pretty sure that in this current climate there could be a lot of savings made on the very top tier of the council. The tone of the survey so far is staff cuts but I'm pretty sure it's not at the level where more money is saved through the higher salaries.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Within many teams in the council, there are a lot of levels of management, which seems unnecessary compared to other local authorities where there is one manager who supports various staff.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Yes cut the managers were possible	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I agree in principle with the review of management arrangements but disappointed there is no further detail on what this exactly means.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Can we please have more managers who have experience of the job roles and service they are managing so that staff have confidence in that person knowing what they are managing	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.

Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Do we need to employ people on inflated salaries to make these decisions? What exactly is their expertise?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Perhaps streamlining of the management personnel could help. Are there too many managers on inflated salaries?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This is where huge savings could be made. Looking at other proposals which have an impact on lower paid staff and a huge amount of services aimed to support children, senior management could and should be looked at. Huge wages and pension contributions go hand in hand with these posts. Cutting these roles make considerable savings with actual minimal impact on how the council functions. Senior management and executives in all public services are always left untouched. Justifying these roles will save millions and no one would notice any difference.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Sack the top paid management who do nothing but waste money on changing road signs etc, crax	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I would agree with this. Being more effective in management will certainly save costs.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I find the council workers, those you are in the civic center are not the most efficient. They come up with procedures and policies that take time and are not the best use of my time as a teacher. They do not consider the work-load of people like me but busy themselves with ideas that are not creating wealth.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This makes sense. Far too many managers and high paid jobs in the health and social care partnership. Loads of new jobs in health replicating roles in council. Does not make sense.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The scale of the further reductions required over the next five years will be challenging and the council will seek to use the existing range of workforce management and organisational change policies to deliver the required reductions in staffing numbers.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Doing an amazing job 👍	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This is a very fluffy statement without much detail. Decision making within the Council is already pretty slow (see planning application stages). There are already elements that could be drastically improved.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I imagine as in many organisations there are too many managers paid large salaries and not enough staff below to actually provide the best services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	With reference to the note above I am quite astonished to discover that the Council does indeed have a Management structure in place. In my experience there has been no individual who takes the responsibility of a Manager. The "buck stops at the top" after all. Too many Chiefs who have no control over their Indians in my opinion.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	There needs to be enough managers to provide support and direct staff.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Having less tiers in the management structure will certainly save money and ensure that everyone is working to the best of their ability and being productive.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	The organisation doesn't need to be too heavy with managemet. Efficient teams of capable staff will ensure work is completed with supervision.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This seems reasonable.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again streamlining exercise ensure quality of service is not impacted.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.

Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	More should be cut in this area and less on the above!	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Sometimes feel to many chiefs and not enough indians therefore things don't run smoothly.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This must be a fundamental aspect of any service redesign and digital transformation.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I think that it is important to ensure that managers can be present and available to make decisions, take initiative and support their team.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Removing many management levels allows information to travel between the customer to the management much quicker than layers of management going through red tape.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	How effective will it be to leave management levels as is with a reduced workforce. With so many 'managers' in the mix normally no one is accountable if things fall behind or don't get done. I think a more directly involved manager and a structured workforce, with less time wasted in countless 'meetings' would save more time and money in the long run	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I'm not sure what the total spend on management is in WLC - in the NHS it is now 48% of every pound received from the taxpayer. I'm hoping that this reduction in the council will mean the figures are a lot closer to say 15 - 18% of total budget.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I would imagine there are levels of management that could be refined. Care would need to be taken not to overload the ones that are left to a degree that impacts their ability to do their job.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	As long as management structure continues to be appropriate and robust then this is acceptable and necessary	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Agreed. If the work and plans are efficient and only need to do and not nice to do tasks are carried out this will save money and time.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again, happy with this	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	If this can be achieved with minimum impact on front line services and without putting too much pressure on remaining managers, then it may be a necessary evil.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	The council is over managed and spends too much in this area. Cuts here are a good idea, and doubtless could be even deeper.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Too many people promoted to high wage positions that don't deserve to be there. Slimline the management to ensure those in those managerial positions give value for money, work hard, deserve to be there and are worth their high salaries.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	£500k if you're doing an org design change I'd expect more but I suppose this is net of VR	1. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I'm sure more money could be saved at management level. Too many managers and not enough ground staff. Stop trying to change the world and just 'make do' for a while. If it's not broke, don't fix it! And save a fortune.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	this appears to be a sensible approach, however as before job loses are never desirable.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again, hard to comment when no details given. A cut to management level is normally worthwhile though.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Fantastic	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Flattening your structure is a good thing and hopefully empowers employees to make decisions and improve services. Make sure the development and effective management of your people is not lost if you're making your teams larger.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Have less managers at higher costing, stop expenses doe stuff that are claimed on.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	So that means reducing the management and realigning departments so that one manager is responsible for several departments. This will put pressure on all staff as tasks will need to be reassigned to lower level staff from management level, it is definately better than losing key staff as mentioned above but will cause problems just the same	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	To many bosses, workers leaving and no replacement being started	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This sounds great on paper but please ensure this is not to the detriment of staffing and teams working at an already strained pace.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	After reading the above, I will continue to trust your decisions in the areas I have no experience in , but thank you for the opportunity to co-operate !	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Maybe less management is needed to save money and more workers on the front line services so service does not suffer.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Good management is a vital part of service delivery, but WLC does seem to be top heavy in this area.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Some management savings may be needed however as per above savings could be made in other ways rather than job loss.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Sounds a good idea. Often there seem to be too many meetings which take away time from the day job which just seem to tick boxes and not achieve much	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Agree with statement. No other comment.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I support efficiencies in management arrangements. There is often in organisations too many layers of management, where delegated authority could effectively make decisions quickly and within agreed criteria.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Whilst cutting back on over-managed areas should be priority, i ask that within the current employment environment that do not loose experienced, knowledgeable employees with years of valuable time spent, who cannot be replaced.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I feel this could easily be achieved. The management structure of WLC is still way too top heavy, and could easily be made more efficient and cost effective.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.

Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	It is vital that the council chooses carefully their management teams as they will decide how efficient services will operate in the long run. Their role is key to the delivery of essential services and that these services will be available to all who require them which is so important.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Do feel there has been a lot of jobs within social policy that post / jobs not been rejected and more added pressure and added tasks to staff who are there	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	As advised, there are too many management levels in the council that is top heavy. If you empower your staff to make decisions you will see the need for the many management levels decrease. However, my experience is that the management will keep those who simply are 'yes men' and remove those who are challenging. If you want to make a difference, then ensure that your management will be those who have the skills to lead and empower services, that embody the skills that they expect in their own management teams, whilst being able to and supported in challenging those at the top. There are too many that stay quiet when the staff are in turmoil and too many still that report that there are no problems when the cracks are like canyons.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Reduce management by offering redundancy/voluntary severance.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Management savings/efficiencies is a positive aspect. However, for certain areas such as education/social care it is imperative that management savings are not made by reducing down the number of Head Teachers or Social Care Managers. Nor by increasing their remits (e.g. managing more than one school) as such efficiencies are more than offset by the increased costs generated with travel between sites and also result in a poorer service for the end-user.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Most management positions are wasteful; most employees can work with little to no management. I notice there is no mention of cutting MANAGERS, just other jobs and services. Cut the managers, save the world.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	If decision making involved less people, this would speed up response times.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Replace the current management with someone who doesn't throw money away on short term, pointless changes. The amount of money wasted through covid on traffic measures, road structures and daft social distancing signs was incredible. People are mostly not stupid and widening pavements was unnecessary. Common sense needs to return.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	There should be a better re-alignment of services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	The council is very management heavy. We need more workers and less management.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Management is top heavy. There are not enough levels between the shop floor and the managers. Distribute the responsibilities.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	There are various management structures throughout the council which are long overdue for a review. In my own department, management is you heavy and it appears that posts are just filled when someone leaves, rather than having a root and branch review of whether the management post is still required.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I already have 16 staff reporting directly to me so I dont think this can apply in my situation. Although i can see in other dept there seem to be as many managers and supervisors as there are staff.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Senior management grades and staff numbers need seriously reviewed. In planning and economic development there are far too many managers, often adding no value to service delivery.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.

Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Positive; To be effective this measure will require individual staff to take more responsibility for managing themselves and their daily workload. A significant burden on management lies in the manual processes required to transfer performance information into the performance management system (e.g. the manual copying of sickness absence data extracted from the payroll system into Pentana). It would be worthwhile considering separation of performance reporting from performance management	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	To many managers with very specific job roles/requirements with a lack of cross over with other managers. Reducing the number of hierarchy levels would help spread actual useful staff resources to the required departments.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	No issue with this proposal.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Remove meaningless managerial posts	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Agree, too many levels in management - i.e An Officer, A Line Manager, A Manger just a level above a Line Manager ????, A Head of Service then a Director - a lot of money to be saved here	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again benefit the cross the council strategy and streamlining people's position	1. The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	It's all very well streamlining management, however, what it is creating is a larger chasm of disconnect between the front line and those sitting behind a desk.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	The focus here is getting a structure were first line workers/customer facing staff are able to do more of the work, and that manager spend their time studying the processes and systems as they are working in real time and take responsibility for improving performance. This should mean more management resource is focussed on the delivery of successful services, and management resource that is further removed from the delivery of work/services is where the savings need to be made.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.

The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Unable to comment on the management structure as this is unknown to the public, but I'm sure everyone would be in support of efficiency.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Reduce managers an others work log .	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I would agree with a slimmed-down management structure should this not impact overall performance	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.

Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I am sure alot of staff would welcome changes to suit services. More Managers need to be involved and listened to and not only included when decisions have been made. Motivation of staff very important but some Managers so demotivated themselves its hard to motivate others.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	You do not need 2 heads of education and 1 head of social policy- you need 1 head of integrated children's services.	1. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I agree that the management structure could be reviewed as there are in some cases to many levels and posts for this level just seem to appear where it would be more efficient to add staff at an operational level. It would add to less confusion in decision making levels.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Management levels need reduced and streamlined, far too many seniors and managers and not enough frontline staff.	1. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	My understanding was that managers were to have at least 5 direct reports, our own structure was changed to reflect this. However this does not appear to be the case for many managers.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Council should consider reviewing amalgamating services.; Council should also make it more attractive for council staff to leave by offering enhanced payments above the contracted/legal minimum	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.

Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	My post has not been reviewed for a significant number of years. I am often given additional work to do which has increased in volume and size. Other posts have been reviewed and seem to be significantly higher grade for little or no management of staff. This should also be taken into consideration when reviewing management arrangements as well as volume of work!	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Support this as long as still enough staff to deliver services and more junior officers do not get overloaded	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This was done before and some of the positions have recreated. Need a good workforce plan and understanding of the business need, to enable management positions to be cut without experience and expertise leaving the organisation.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This seems a small number and perhaps there can be more efficiencies in this area	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Sometimes too many managers and not enough people on the ground working to provide real council services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	A rationalisation of management seems sensible, but I think it will be important for this to be coupled with a reduction in bureaucracy/ decision making by committee, through re-establishing a culture of accountability in management posts. I don't understand why this is not integrated into the 1A opportunity outlined above. A service redesign will naturally create opportunities for organisation redesign and removal of non-essential roles from the new organisation	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Management teams in my opinion are bloated and would benefit -in addition to the cost implications- from being more streamlined.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	If this means to reduce the number of management graded positions, I think this is well worth the savings.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Less red tape is a must!	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	management structure is weak, managers are currently doing too many tasks not allowing them to manage the process, the projects or the staff. It needs to have a structure and clearly defined realistic roles and responsibilities with managers having the correct skill sets.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.

Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Not enough, target could be higher	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	As the council will have less overall resources, the number of services delivered will have to reduce with services being reviewed based on the impact they have on priorities. This will include changes to service standards, the way remaining services are delivered and a reduced workforce. It is proposed that future spending will be aligned to agreed priorities. The focus will be on posts that support the priorities rather than whether they are front line or back office based. The council has one of the leanest management structures of any council in Scotland. The council has delivered substantial management savings to date.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	The creation of the new HO at Whitehill was overdue and I would imagine allow management and service realignment to ensure considerable savings.	1. This will include changes to service standards, the way remaining services are delivered and a reduced workforce. It is proposed that future spending will be aligned to agreed priorities. The focus will be on posts that support the priorities rather than whether they are front line or back office based.

Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	So removal of management posts is what this means?; Agree this should be reviewed, however this needs to be done carefully to ensure service delivery and remaining staff support. Succession planning, career progression and roles and responsibilities need to be considered otherwise there is a risk that WLC removes management posts which are required to ensure good service delivery and governance leaving a workforce which is stressed and the management remaining cannot undertake management duties as they are doing another role "actual service delivery", which would result in staff leaving and a brain drain from WLC. Management structure needs to be reflective of responsibilities and future council requirements as well as considering salaries to compete with other councils, public sector and private sector to be an attractive employer.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	The West Lothian Council structure is to bureaucratic. In every sector from education, housing, social work, financial services, HR function etc. This has the effect of having too many managers, supervisors and nowhere near enough front line workers. A balancing of chiefs to front line workers is needed. Along with a streamline of paperwork being completed in duplicate for no good end.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	A reduction of middle management, as well as pay cuts to upper management to help alleviate budget pressures would be the best option. A smaller distance from the top to the bottom will allow changes and feedback to be heard and delivered more rapidly with greater ownership.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Please looks as management spans and layers. Producers vs. Non producers.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Management is always too heavy - you need more frontline workers so if you can make saving fine	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Any changes to structure or services needs to be realistic and not simply a way to lose individuals or important part of the services. There cannot be the expectation for services to have less and achieve the same targets and outcomes they once did. If there is an opportunity for streamlining without those factors being affected then it would be beneficial.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Why is the review of management arrangements only going to be cut by 500,000 but education is 5million? Surely education is a priority and should have the smallest cuts possible? Will there be a cut in the number of managers, will those earning large salaries (I.e those "at the top") have their position and salaries reviewed?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I think streamlining management would free up more funds to support with education recovery, in the aftermath of the pandemic. Having fewer management positions that don't deal with people at a face to face or telecommunication level ensures messages are more consistent and that the chain of command is smaller between the people working on the ground and those making the decisions that directly affect them and the consumers.	1. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	managers remit need to be reviewed to ensure they are accountable for what they are employed to do along with team leaders. If managers took more responsibility for the services they delivered ensuring efficiency and effectiveness this alone would lead to reductions in costs.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Savings could be made by offering voluntary redundancy/early retirement making packages up to retirement age. Pretty sure this would entice staff especially long service and savings would probably exceed £500,000.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Management structures have to be evaluated and considered in light of need and workload. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	There are currently too many layers of management which makes decision making and responsive action very difficult. Resource realignment is a good approach but simply slimming down the management structure and adding more responsibility for fewer managers is not the answer. This approach should take account of the scope of different workstreams to ensure manageable workloads for managers. Previous restructures have resulted in fewer managers at higher pay grade - extra money does not equate to extra time or resource needed to manage multiple workstreams that do not align to meet cohesive outcomes.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	The same comments as part one, a reduction in charge hand/supervisors is needed as there are far too many at the moment doing the same amount of work as it used to only take 2 people. Drivers of crews could take on the role of charge hand for their crew and take on new responsibilities if needed this would reduce the number of supervisors or charge hands needed left in the depot sitting around doing nothing while being paid more than the crews out doing the actual essential work	1. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Have a close look at managerial and supervisory roles - where could they be synergised to be more effective and allow significant savings? Too often "on the ground" roles are taken away with a negative result on customers and not much impact in savings. It is the high earning jobs which require scrutiny in 2022 thanks to the growing ethos and practice of jobholders roles having devolved responsibilities and those involved carrying these out effectively without the high level of supervision/management of days gone by.	1. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Governance should definitely be reviewed and continuance of current governance arrangements dependent on proven and measurable improvements attributable to the governance function. Delegation of responsibility down the management structure should be implemented based on positive delivery of previous outcomes against targets. Targets should be set at the outset of monitoring periods and performance indicators should be just that, measures, and should never be conflated with targets.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.

However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	If you reduce salaries of those people who are supposed to managing things who do more harm than good you could make a massive saving. Put the money further down the line to the people bursting their backside every day getting paid pennies!	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council recognises the importance of managing pay fairly and in a way that motivates staff to make a positive contribution and support the delivery of the Council's objectives. In order to comply with equal pay legislation, the Council is required to develop pay and grading arrangements underpinned by job evaluation. Annual pay awards are determined through national bargaining arrangements which help ensure that certain minimum standards are maintained in relation to pay levels.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Not a lot to argue against here if you can do it so be it ; Management tiers in Departments should be three at a maximum	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Would agree that management be streamlined so that there is a shift in workforce make up that has more employed that actually do the jobs required. Should look at amalgamating departments and make managers more "hands on" so they have an understanding of what is happening. Do not just remove job titles but be better aware of what talent you have and nurture it to get the best person for a role.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again, as long as these changes would prove to be more efficient and are reviewed appropriately, then I don't perceive this to be problematic. I would like to comment that I don't know much about the structure of council services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	You have too many staff in managing, who aren't doing too good of a job managing and getting too much money for a job they dont do.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council has clear policies and procedures in place to support the effective management of our workforce. Many of our employees regularly go above and beyond for customers in the services that they deliver. Where any of our employees have failed to meet the expected standards, managers are required to take action, in line with our policies and procedures, to support, train or counsel employees in order to help them improve.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Agree again - management structures need regular review to keep them relevant and working efficiently.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	If this will stop stupid jobs worths wasting tax payers money so be it .	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.

Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Too many managers, not enough staff - it should be the priority when working on cost savings to reduce the number of managers, this is just a waste of resources and makes it even more difficult to make decisions.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Reducing middle management in order to maintain frontline services is a good idea.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	It's highly debatable as to whether current structures deliver effective outcomes at the moment. It is not clear what is being proposed by these measures e.g. addressing fragmented structure to eliminate conflicting arrangements or simply reducing headcounts to have more areas report to fewer managers	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Management services should start at the top. Realign boundaries cutting back on the amount of councillors. Thereafter look at all the consultancy positions and address the wasted there.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	To many managers not enough workers. Employ more daily workers for the jobs	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	There are too many managers/high level practitioners in Education (and possibly in other sectors of the Council?). These are a very expensive resource and can be ineffective due to the motivation to justify their position/compete with/confusion with other High Level Teams becoming a primary focus rather than that of truly supporting their real rationale/purpose.; For instance - do we need as many position holders such as Pedagogy officers, Equity and Excellence Officers, Health and Wellbeing Officers and Inclusion and Wellbeing Officers - do these overlap/compete? Shouldn't we invest in "in the classroom" roles which are dedicated to supporting children more effectively in schools?; How many of these positions are PEFunded - is there an inequity here - there should be more "on the ground" staff to support the closure of gaps and learning needs rather than "fly over" staff who focus on data and policies quite far removed from reality? Covid has created a real problem in terms of learning gaps and challenges around learning behaviour, emotional and social issues which are affecting all children drastically in schools today more than ever before. Is there an "Emperor's New Clothes" culture developing? Are we truly focusing on Getting It Right For Every Child or have the different lenses and the deep dives and the chiming obscured our vision and attention?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This seems sensible. A lot of sectors seem 'top heavy' - eg education - lots of deputies and headteachers (on large salaries) who do not teach any classes whatsoever	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Slimming down of management makes sense however if your talking schools they need non class contact staff who can deal with the ever increased demand for support with health and well-being issues, including mental health and disruptive/violent behaviours.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Review services and ensure they deliver. Health and social care have had enough reforms. Review structures of services out with, are senior managers actually needed?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	When services and duties are run effectively then this will allow the council to be productive. Any savings within the council is welcomed	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	If there are efficiencies to be made while maintaining services and duties, why not?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I'd agree with this suggestion, however, diluting the responsibility of managers covering already large remits and service responsibilities may only goes to weaken the workforce if the retained management don't have a good understanding of the work of services and their needs.; I have experienced this already through previous efficiency savings which ultimately led to an increased workload for all staff beneath.;	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This would help taking but would to make sure that staff have a manager that is contactable not one who is too busy and not really contactable because they are in meetings.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Sensible restructure can be effective but not if it means the top tiers getting huge salaries and keeping their jobs whilst lower level workers are made redundant leaving more work and pressure for those remaining. Unemployment will not help West Lothian	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	There are too many senior managers and not enough frontline staff which is putting pressure on staff there at the moment .	1. The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Agree with proposal- more qual balance in the neighbourhood management	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	If the services are being realigned then it is without saying the management arrangements would need to be in line with this	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	We have a duty to review at cost saving.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This is difficult to quantify as a resident- as the service provider we have to trust you to manage funds appropriately.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Important that decisions making process is transparent	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	As long as service quality is not damaged then yes that is okay.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Seems like there are too many levels of management.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again, making efficiencies should not mean more stressful workload for other individuals. All for making savings but not to the detriment of people's mental health and stress levels	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue. Employee wellbeing is a priority for the council and a range of support and resources are available for employees and managers to access.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Its great saying reduces staff and services and hope to NOT impact of the public but what about those staff that may be laid off or not replaced? that's an impact on them and the other staff who have to Take up the slack.	2. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	By maintaining current buildings and housing you can reduce the number of resources required to lay new developmental property. Already council decisions making is a timeous process, with a reduced budget how will this be affected?	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Cutting management is becoming close to impossible, the strain and stress on managers is already significant.	2. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I think there is a danger of slimming the management structure down to a point where it cannot work efficiently if there is any degree of staff illness or other issues keeping staff from their work. The slack cannot be picked up if there is not a certain amount of flexible staffing at management level.....or indeed any level.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	The council has already cut staff back to the bone through TYC. There are very few people left to deliver qualitative services. Employees are working long hours and sickness absence is on the increase due to stress and anxiety.	2. Employee wellbeing is a priority for the council and a range of support and resources are available for employees and managers to access.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again, nobody wants too much management, but we have seen too much of the "Tom Peters" effect, where management is stripped out and there is not opportunity to plan and guide and support staff endeavours.	2. The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Reducing line management does not always support effective delivery if the remaining managers are too busy to be good at the job.	2. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again, taking away staff (management or not) for education would be disastrous. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This really does not tell me anything, greater detail required please. Interestingly Parks & Woodland have over the years, had its management structure greatly reduced multiple times (redundancies, posts retired and not replaced, restructures, etc.) to the degree where it has become extremely challenging to continue to provide the many services we provide the public to the high standard that we are both appreciated by the public and staff are proud of. It is thanks to the commitment of the Parks & Woodland staff that the unit has continued to provide its services directly to the public, identifying issues, sourcing solutions and making things happen. I do not feel that this is fully appreciated by the Council itself.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I am concerned about resource re-alignment. What is the nature of this and how is it making things more efficient. I am assuming most people at the council are working very hard already at trying to achieve efficiency, considering previous cuts from previous years.	2. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	In primary schools management is already at a 'bare bones' level. In many schools there are real problems with supervision when management are out of the building at meetings or other events. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	In West Lothian schools, there are not enough Senior and Middle managers, compared to other regions. This leads to an over-inflated remit for each individual which is neither achievable or sustainable. This leads to burn out for staff and jobs half finished. Other Regional structures are much better.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I am not a manager so I can't fully comment but I know our school is much more efficiently led now we have more teachers in a promoted post and much more support is given to class teachers because of this. It would be dangerous to reduce the amount of quality leaders and managers.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Within schools there is HT, Deputy and principle teachers. ELC - Elcasm, eyo, nursery nurse and support. Elcasm were employed to support nurseries along with HT and Deputy. They were also part of management structure during term time holidays but they are often on holiday at this time too there for Nursery staff have to utilize other elcasms that are working but may have never met.	2. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I feel that with this model that council governance and decision making will in fact become less efficient as the few who are left to do so will have far too big a work load to get around to dealing with everything.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.

Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Does this mean we were inefficient previously?; The estimates savings sound made-up/aspirational.	2. Employee wellbeing is a priority for the council and a range of support and resources are available for employees and managers to access.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I think management structures are very lean across the council, particularly at senior level. I would not support further efficiencies at management level.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Making cuts which are not informed by genuine efficiency considerations would be false economy.	2. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	keep all staff	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again no loss of jobs.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	There is already a heavy workload with no expertise and rather bitesize training. Stripping back further on key personnel to support with their expertise is a real challenge and a risk of serious error being made.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has clear policies and procedures in place to support the effective management of our workforce. Many of our staff regularly go above and beyond for customers in the services that they deliver. Where any of our employees have failed to meet the expected standards, managers are required to take action, in line with our policies and procedures, to support, train or counsel staff in order to help them improve.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Reducing managers may increase inefficiency and cost more in long run, details would be required for clear goals	2. The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	There are far too many managers and not enough staff to do the jobs, services are decimated as it is.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Stop calling it efficiencies. that implies we are inefficient at the moment and plays into the hands of politicians who would see the end of public services. You can't keep cutting managers and expect services to operate. You need managers to be there to support their teams and support EMT.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This has also led to managers not having the knowledge or expertise in all the fields that they require for the responsibilities held by them. Prime example teaching with PTC of faculties not having expertise in the areas they are in charge of leaving teachers within their departments taking on additional workload.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Being an employee in West Lothian council, the delayering of the management structure has not led to efficiency instead it has led to increased workload and delegation to staff who are already under pressures to meet the requirements of their job role.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	There have been cuts to management structures already. all that has happened is that senior managers are over worked and are carrying more teams, and you cannot get support when you need it. This is causing increased sickness level amongst managers, and it is the managers that attend their work that are left carrying extra teams. The managers that are off sick are taking longer to come back.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	In the area I work in, management is already over stretched and therefore poor quality due to time restraints and work load	2. The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	My experience is managers have too big a team to fully supervise and manage while undertaking other duties. We need more, not less.; Overloading staff with a too heavy workload will just impact on the stress and possible absence of managers, resulting in the team being affected adversely too.	2. The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	There must be a risk that already hard working staff are put under further stress as a result of further efficiencies which could therefore prove counter productive.	2. The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	you cant gain access to any management, there is a high turn around of management, houseing officers and staff, with multipke interrims who cant follow up on anything meaningful due to the way the orgainisation keeps restructuring or moving , along with resources being taken away which creates lack of bandwidth to deal with anyones issues,	2. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Management savings in schools with less cover will only dilute the overall success of the individual schools, which in some areas fight daily challenges. Many teachers and managers in schools are not only providing education but emotional support caring for social issues and huge behavioural problems for the children. They are also charged with the support of parents who often need guidance on how to simply parent their children. Reduction in these areas will cause huge losses and overall displacement of the social issues educators face.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	More cuts in this area in my opinion will cause areas to be overseen by management who do not specialise in this area. Resulting in inefficient running of departments, unnecessary pressure will be put on staff who are seeking support and help from management who aren't fully knowledgeable on the area.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	The council has made savings in management positions over the last decade and scope for further savings is limited.	2. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again, do not cut schools funding. They barely squeak by as it is with staffing.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Management already overwhelmed - cutting back further is terrifying.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again, increased workload for management which will have an impact on services.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	The current staff levels are already putting employees under extreme pressure to try to continue to deliver service levels without the required resource. You cannot achieve effective delivery without the necessary staff. If staff are cut further then everyone has to be fully aware the service standards the public and councillors have come to expect. It's going to be a bitter pill to swallow but councillors are going to have to inform their constituents and acknowledge themselves that what they used to expect will no longer be achievable.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	How can this be correct!!! Surely this has always been the council's objective this sounds like cut the numbers but expect more from those that are left !!	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Management cuts in schools will not work with attainment being the priority	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I do not believe youth services should have any reductions in funds. It has already been cut to the bare minimum half of youth clubs across West Lothian were shut in the last savings and the very little that is left are over worked and over stretched. Too many kids not enough Staff or clubs!	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	The same goes for school's no cuts should be made to staffing here and more funds should be provided. Again, not enough staff and too many kids. Teachers and youth services are already heavily under funded. It would be an absolute joke to cut from here.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	How can you cut anymore	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The budget gap the council is facing is caused by increasing costs and a rising population combined with insufficient levels of government grant funding. This means that difficult decisions will require to be taken over the next five years about local services.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I believe that cutting back on staff only transfers the workload to others.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is proposing to achieve efficiency savings through transformation of services and reduction of duplication and will maximise opportunities to automate processes to reduce manual processes.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Re alignment of services has an impact on quality of services provided	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.

Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Stop paying ridiculously high salaries to senior managers	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council recognises the importance of managing pay fairly and in a way that motivates staff to make a positive contribution and support the delivery of the Council's objectives. In order to comply with equal pay legislation, the Council is required to develop pay and grading arrangements underpinned by job evaluation. Annual pay awards are determined through national bargaining arrangements which help ensure that certain minimum standards are maintained in relation to pay levels.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Where will this actually be cut from?	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.

However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Unable to comment, the management structure in my area is already quite lean with managers covering wide remits. If it were to be reduced, we need to reconsider the workload for managers and remove tasks which do not add value. In some cases greater admin support would enable managers to accomplish more.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again with a view to education, management is integral to be able to function effectively and allow teachers and staff to complete their job and ultimately support children in their learning. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Is it working already? (Serious question.) In other words, will these be a case of carrying on with cuts and strategies that have already been started during the past decade of austerity? And is this working? Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Which services? Which managerial roles will be amalgamated? Managerial skills require not only organisation skills but, in service delivery management, both knowledge & understanding of the service being delivered. Saving money in the short term can cost dearly in the longer term both to users AND the provider. Without an understanding of how existing management structures have been assessed & evaluated no informed comment can be made.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	have no solution on this saving	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.

Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	As above	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	As above, how many members of staff in the management structure will be lost?	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This would be an interesting re-structuring initiative. For obvious reasons, I instantly think of people losing their jobs to make these savings. For obvious reasons, I couldn't willingly agree with people losing their jobs without understanding details. Then, additional responsibilities being added to the jobs that are left. Again, without understanding the detail re current / future responsibilities then unable to make a valid comment.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Good, to many committees and sub committees only slows things up	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	What is the estimate based on back of fag packet or actual analysis. Restructuring moves but does not save cost	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	You need to ensure that support is still in place for managers, otherwise their workload will be overwhelming, causing more stress and management sickness.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue. Employee wellbeing is a priority for the council and a range of support and resources are available for employees and managers to access.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	The layer of teaching staff called professional learning officer should be removed. They should go back to being class teachers in schools instead of being based at the civic centre. This would save money.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	What are you actually planning? Is this a reduction in the number of higher salaried individuals?	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	If management in schools is to be reduced, this would have to be in conjunction with less paper work!!	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	How will this affect the most vulnerable, for example those on child protection register and those receiving care packages and those with additional needs?	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	not sure where you could reduce management and still be effective in running local services	3. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	See above. How are you going to improve governance and decision-making if you have less staff resource? If the workload/statutory duties of the Council isn't going to change, then you are surely just going to increase pressures on remaining staff, which is likely to lead to issues with governance and performance.	3. The respondent advised that they had no comment to make or posed a question of the measure.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Would this involve cutting management positions, or increasing the scope of existing roles?	4. The council is already doing this.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Without having a full understanding of the management structures which would be affected, makes it difficult to comment fully - staff and staff groups need to be fully supported and have the management structure in place to do so	4. The council is already doing this.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I have witnessed poor choices within the management and decision making in regards to job responsibilities. Please consider management actually meeting staff for meetings in regards to changes as staff have some very good ideas.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Less beaurocracy , streamline decision making process but greater accountability.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Effectively guaranteed working hours/standards being rigorously carried out personally- no more significant anomalies in audits of work.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Stop wasting money on fancy projects.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	It seems to be that all the resources that support the general public are being cut, cut, cut. Surely the starting point should be the high salaries at the top, the new buildings that have sprouted all over the place all the junkets the high heedjins seem to go on, why are these never reduced as this would save loads of money. It seems cut off the support for the general public but make sure the council are kept in comfort and excessive business jaunts and expenses seem to be very over the top. You cant expect the general public to make sacrifices if the council leaders are not doing the same	4. The council is already doing this.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Frontline staff still need support from management for them to carry out their duties.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	How can already stretched managers take on any more responsibilities. Is their health and well-being being considered?	4. The council is already doing this.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue. Employee wellbeing is a priority for the council and a range of support and resources are available for employees and managers to access.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I would love to see the widest possible adoption of home working where possible to reduce traffic, cost of running offices etc.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Offer voluntary service widely to reduce headcount.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I think the council should be reviewing job descriptions, terms and conditions and holding people to account. People should be doing the job well and they generally do this if they are coached and had an interest in the first place. It is well known that people stuck in with the council because of their pension not an appetite for the job. This will mean absence and a getting by attitude. Managers need to be proactive but supportive and be skilled in coaching but know when enough is enough.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Managers all need to know what the council's objectives are. Too many make their own decisions and go their own way, poorly affecting staff and customers	4. The council is already doing this.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	can only pair back on management to a point - they need the time to provide the support to ensure that staff are working effectively	4. The council is already doing this.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This seems a rather insignificant amount relative to the over needed sum. If it means, for example that the highest earners in the council are, for example, having their salaries capped, this would be an equitably thing overall.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.

Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I personally feel that managment need to be able to provide the same output in regards to workloads.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Managers need to be paid in respects to their new or altered roles, not adding on additional workload for free.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Effective delivery if council services? They couldn't even keep the grass cutting up to standard in the summer! The place looked like a jungle in some parts as it was so overgrown! Drivers couldn't see at junctions for overgrown trees etc so I can't see how changing things now are going to make council services more effective! They haven't been effective for years!	4. The council is already doing this.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use all responses to the consultation to support the review of priorities and commitments.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Look internally at staff and see who are good efficient workers and are they very necessary, and there will be those who are not, is the role a created roll and can be done without, if you cut staff make sure you keep the good ones and be rid off those who are not, from the top all the way down to the bin men.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council has clear policies and procedures in place to support the effective management of our workforce. Many of our staff regularly go above and beyond for customers in the services that they deliver. Where any of our employees have failed to meet the expected standards, managers are required to take action, in line with our policies and procedures, to support, train or counsel staff in order to help them improve.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	governance committees should be approving decisions based on a high level of due diligence	4. The council is already doing this.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.

Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Although savings are crucial, It is very important that the council ensure that the management structure continues to support effective delivery of council services and statutory duties.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Still waiting on pay rise to be fixed and payed	4. The council is already doing this.	The council recognises the importance of managing pay fairly and in a way that motivates staff to make a positive contribution and support the delivery of the Council's objectives. In order to comply with equal pay legislation, the Council is required to develop pay and grading arrangements underpinned by job evaluation. Annual pay awards are determined through national bargaining arrangements which help ensure that certain minimum standards are maintained in relation to pay levels.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Unfortunately we have not much say as we are not in control of funding, the whole world is in a bit of a state due to Covid and mismanagement at local UK and Scottish Governments. Although we realise that cuts will be made, it is a very depressing read with cost of living, Covid Recovery and world events, Leaving EU etc. My answers will be mostly similar throughout this consultation as I would not like to make decisions as when it comes down to it, people will lose jobs. I believe that we have to support Economic Development and Employability, we need to try and invest!	4. The council is already doing this.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Will this include Senior level managers and not just managers working in day to day settings	4. The council is already doing this.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I think WLC need to be really clear what they want from management arrangements. Present a clear set out outcomes based on identified community need and work back from there to create a model that will deliver these in partnership with council services where appropriate.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	For management to be efficient they need to be experienced in practice	4. The council is already doing this.	The council has clear policies and procedures in place to support the effective management of our workforce. Many of our staff regularly go above and beyond for customers in the services that they deliver. Where any of our employees have failed to meet the expected standards, managers are required to take action, in line with our policies and procedures, to support, train or counsel staff in order to help them improve.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Autonomy (with governance), Mastery and purpose. Seems there is a huge disconnect between the councillors getting what the people want doing and the number of vanity projects popping up. I have been on at the council for over a year at publishing and being transparent on the street cleaning schedules. Seems that the council or schedule has little to no common sense when they should step up on services and when they can ease off. Its like we have people who do nothing but sit in an office all day planning as oppose to just being out and observing the things that are not right.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I refer to the management question, it's important the right people are in the right job, making the right decisions instead of being short sighted	4. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Worked for WLC in a temp position during Covid 2021-2022 never having worked for a local authority before and omg if this was a private sector company you would be bankrupt/sacked in 6 months !!! Sorry gotta tell it how it is guys. I liked the people I worked with on a personnel level but jeez ask them to do an excel worksheet not gonna happen 🤖 I am not a PC whizz kid (too old) but even I know how to do a v - look up !!! Get a grip of your IT u need to pay the £££s to contractors to set this stuff up and make it accessible to the PC/app novices in the first instance then take it from there ... having worked in the Covid test centre not everyone is digital savvy please allow an option for the digital novices etc	4. The council is already doing this.	The council has clear policies and procedures in place to support the effective management of our workforce. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Seek out exceptional managers and leaders. Give employees responsibility and create capability at all levels.	4. The council is already doing this.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Must keep enough workers on the shop floor	4. The council is already doing this. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Does this mean reduction in manager level staff? How are you upskilling other team members in effective decision making at all levels?	4. The council is already doing this.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	It is important that children have enough teachers, class room assistance to support their new learning.	4. The council is already doing this.	The Council meets national class size requirements and supervision ratios.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I have heard ideas of sharing head teachers. We do not support this move as it could affect the outcomes of kids in West Lothian adversely. West Lothian is not a test tube for such experiments. We absolutely do not support changes that reduce the amount of teachers or teaching assistants in any West Lothian school.	4. The council is already doing this.	Shared headships are an established practice within West Lothian schools, and have not had a negative impact on attainment or quality of education.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	How about looking further into the structure of road management services. Council workers for road digs, traffic management, pot holes bad road resurfacing. It would seem there is an over staffed issue here. Many times I have seen and it is widely seen by others. 5 men on the job but only 2 working. This is actually a laughing point by many. West lothian Council can't staff there schools but can pay street services to sit and watch the show.	4. The council is already doing this.	Road repairs: the council has a requirement to fill potholes within a prescribed period of time for the safety of road users. Therefore, it is necessary to undertake temporary repairs to ensure the road is safe before undertaking permanent repairs.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Remove community councils, they are a waste of resources and time	5a. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because the council is required by law to deliver this work.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	A synergy which would also help "close the gap" in education is to reduce the vast amount of senior posts which "advise" (RICs/EOs/Pedagogy officers) and redistribute these to posts like teachers and support staff who actually teach and support in the classroom and/or use these monies to provide funding for specialist places for the many pupils who are currently in mainstream schools and need so much more support.	5b. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is likely that the costs of this proposal would outweigh the benefit or requires additional expenditure.	West Lothian Council has a lean central education team whose support is valued by schools and is an integral part of the raising attainment strategy.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	More people out of work.	5b. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	More redundancies	5c. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is not consistent with the council's values and priorities.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Putting management duties onto workers is too much.	5c. The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Some senior management should re-apply for their jobs and only those who meet the standards should continue to be employed. Some roles could be incorporated into one role.	5c. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is not consistent with the council's values and priorities.	The council has clear policies and procedures in place to support the effective management of our workforce. Many of our employees regularly go above and beyond for customers in the services that they deliver. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Pay Managers Less	5c. It is proposed that this suggestion is not taken forward because it is not consistent with the council's values and priorities.	The council recognises the importance of managing pay fairly and in a way that motivates staff to make a positive contribution and support the delivery of the Council's objectives. In order to comply with equal pay legislation, the Council is required to develop pay and grading arrangements underpinned by job evaluation. Annual pay awards are determined through national bargaining arrangements which help ensure that certain minimum standards are maintained in relation to pay levels.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	another restructure??? Perhaps overdue , but evaluation of previous restructures should be carried out,actually assessing roles rather than looking at technical staff as like for like. The past two or three restructures have not addressed this issue. Many parts of the service 'grade' and value staff very unfairly e.g/ certain 'admin' staff are absurdly undervalued and payed and grading should be far more flexible	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Hi in my service you reduced management I now manage 2 x staff groups however instead of streamlining paperwork etc. so I don't have to repeat the same processes I still have to do 2 x same paperwork making it cumbersome.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Up to now it seems that any resource realignment just means more work is put on to managers - that's been my experience anyway - HR do less and less and Managers are expected to do more -	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Systems that are put in place to facilitate these changes are clunky, not intuitive and result in more work and checking for managers, systems are normally designed with the biggest focus on Monday to Friday 9-5 staff- CSC staff operate 24/7 365 days a year and MYHR does not fully cater for this as Managers and staff can be on different working patterns - the system also does not accommodate all of our working patterns and relies on manual intervention which means that it is more work for managers Senior Managers are stretched too thinly and this means that they are not able to spend time with their teams, becoming remote and not able to offer support to staff who are having to handle increased workloads and deal with customers who are unhappy with the service provided as the organisation now needs to say " no " more often.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council has made significant investment in the IT infrastructure and will continue to allocate appropriate resources to introduce new technology where appropriate. The council's ICT Strategy seeks to deliver change in line with advances in technology and changes in council priorities, whilst still having a clear framework within which to operate.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	No recommendation. Just as a note i know my manager has had to take on additional work, and I dont feel my (or any other manager I have contact with) has scope to take on any extra works. However, I know that the duplicated works caused by TMS and MyHR and an impact, maybe consider streamlining this into one service to reduce "duplication" of work, same can be considered for staff who have to book leave on TMS and then again on MyHR.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council has made significant investment in the IT infrastructure and will continue to allocate appropriate resources to introduce new technology where appropriate. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Stop topping up higher earners wages. Do not spend any more money on bins. Do not take full services off the vulnerable, only cut things a little bit.of each. Ask companies rather than chuck food away to give it away to those in need. People are suffering with mental health and I feel its due to the way things are in life.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	We are already very lean in terms of our management structures compared to other councils. With fewer managers we need to review the tasks we are asking them to do.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again unaware of management structure. It would be useful to the public to know who heads what department though. This would obviously put a lot more work on less people though and I would worry if this would be detrimental to the public.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	It would be good to see details of plans, will this result in job losses, will staff on the ground increase or will more automation mean less staff.	6. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This is a mammoth task and I believe a lot of changes to services could be detrimental, however, many of the services could be made more efficient with the help of those who work in that particular area. E.g Ask the employees who work in various departments for their opinions, ideas and knowledge.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	You should be supporting and training the managers you have to ensure that they get the best from the teams they are managing rather than having to do so much reporting and being too far away from the teams they should be managing. If you remove them then they will have even less time to support, and performance manage the teams they have to provide the best value for money	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	council must stop leaning on acting positions within education, doesn't support staff and has lead to significant hardship for some who have been on acting contracts for over 6 years and then seen them removed.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Number Crunchers' with no real understanding (and probably no real desire to achieve this) of how grass roots services work are never going to be the most effective managers of services. The fundamental raison d'etre of Social Policy services is to assess each client AS AN INDIVIDUAL, and provide bespoke and meaningful intervention which is informed by the assessed unmet needs for that individual client. It should not be a 'one size fits all' approach which is dictated by the expectations of those manifestly unqualified to comment. Less influence from the rarified atmosphere of the boardroom and more autonomy for, and trust in managers who possess a practical understanding of how services actually work would go a long way to facilitate effective delivery for the clients.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	We need to ensure that a reduction in managers does not leave us with employees managing areas that they have no knowledge in. Relevance and experience are important and should be considered when we make efficiencies in management.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	There is a lack of a 360 degree performance review - it is all one way. Middle management does not work - they have no authority to make any changes / answer any questions / don't mentor. Unclear of what their responsibility is - it is either delegated up or down and then left with carrying out trivial activities.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Managers are still working from home I believe in some instances. Surely in this environment we now need to have the managers on hand to be available to support colleagues as numbers on the ground are dwindling. Do we have too many managers?	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This must not create more hoops for the customer to jump through and must still give ample opportunity for management to speak to customers if needed	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Will the public get notice of what all the changes incorporate and how it is all going to work before plans are finalised.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I'd suggest decision-making meetings were more productive. I have witnessed few of them and they have not run with structure that save time, money and actually have decision-making outcome. Consider e.g. SPRINT method.	6. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	A lot of managers' time go into HR stuff like filling in paperwork, chasing ppl for things etc - I wish the system we have in place could do that to free managers' time.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.

However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Need to ensure that enough management support is in place for employees to work effectively - and that processes like our governance process does not get impacted by these changes.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again, this current consultation process would be the ideal forum to feedback to customers on the savings made during this realignment process - allowing residents the understanding of how this has been beneficial and the estimated financial savings.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I think it would be wise to be mindful of redundancies which may be incurred due to management efficiencies as you could lose the most experienced staff and lose money or 'break even' but lost a wealth of expertise. Wage gaps and banding should be reviewed with transparency on why certain people receive certain salaries.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Investment in ensuring staff feel valued and are able to make a meaningful contribution in their roles will help.	6. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Have better ways for internal colleague's to move up the ladder, provide training for all employees and better communication between departments, departments working together to help each other	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I struggle to see how this can be achieved without reducing the scope of services delivered. As a manager within the council, I cannot see how reducing the number of managers is possible as most are overworked at present. Reducing the administrative burden on managers would help but every new policy/procedure or protocol seems to add to the already significant workload for managers.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Working conditions for those within the management team must be considered.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	The most effective services are where people are able to speak with someone who can assist them - rather than being asked to press a button, hold, leave a message, send an email. Please remember that the people who answer your telephones are actually more efficient than those who wade through emails.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Management efficiency is more important. Need to train up the management in order to improve. Fresh talent people could hire in order to improve efficiency	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council has clear policies and procedures in place to support the effective management of our workforce. Many of our staff regularly go above and beyond for customers in the services that they deliver. Where any of our employees have failed to meet the expected standards, managers are required to take action, in line with our policies and procedures, to support, train or counsel staff in order to help them improve.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Whatever changes in management arrangement shouldn't overload the manager, the responsibility need to be cascaded down so that team members can take part and own part of the responsibility. This requires a good communication between management and team member.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Senior management should be more accessible to taxpayers.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Front line staff need support and guidance and direction from management - it is important to recognise that a reduction in management may put additional pressure on already stretched teams which may result in staff turnover. Recruitment is already proving difficult this may add to it	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This service doesnt work and isnt accessible to people, especially people with learning or accesibility needs. people need a face or voice to speak to that can offer you the support you need more effectively.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	If re-aligning services and teams within those services, could there be potential for shared services here? This may bring a front end saving benefit, however runs the risk of losing vital expert knowledge and could also bring with it legislative challenges through sub par performance.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council has existing shared service agreements with some public sector partners and will continue to develop opportunities for further shared service arrangements with other public bodies.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Having worked in the public sector for 46 years performance management can deliver benefits - clear expectations and good management of delivery, with appropriate support or sanctions as necessary - act quickly - don't spend six months thinking about it. Do not however simply cut to save - that doesn't typically end well if people end up feeling the service they need isn't being delivered and resort to finding their own solutions where they can.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	It will be essential that throughout this process staff are supported, which starts with being kept informed, and that they feel they are valued and not just a means to tick boxes of targets.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.

Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	A reduction in management staff would require far greater support to any retained so that they can effectively manage and support services better than has happened when previous arrangements have been altered.; Managers should know the operations of the services that they manage inside-out and this is definitely not the case.	6. The respondent suggested an improvement. Officers will consider how this could be developed.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Stop being corruptable and get proper quotea and tenders. No back handers. No fancy dinners and sweeteners.	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The council regularly reviews the governance arrangements that are in place in order to ensure that there is good management, effective stewardship of public money, good levels of public engagement and that the desired outcomes for stakeholders are achieved.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	As said, maybe (redacted) and (redacted) slush fund colleagues take a "living wage" like all of us mere plebs?	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	The council recognises the importance of managing pay fairly and in a way that motivates staff to make a positive contribution and support the delivery of the Council's objectives. In order to comply with equal pay legislation, the Council is required to develop pay and grading arrangements underpinned by job evaluation. Annual pay awards are determined through national bargaining arrangements which help ensure that certain minimum standards are maintained in relation to pay levels.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Terrible level of service delivered across the board.	7. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Things like fireworks/bonfires should be banned due to the mess that they expect the council to clean the mess.	7. The respondent's comment was either not relevant to the question, inappropriate and/or contained personal and sensitive information.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Council bigwigs should take a pay reduction instead of over working and under paying the average council employee.	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	At the moments the pay for west Lothian leisure particularly management is not good. the majority of our duty managers have left due to this reason. our pay has gone up but not enough with regards to the work load they have now been asked in take on. compared to the lowest rate of pay it is only a difference of £2.42 which for what the jobs are is not adequate.	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	If you didn't exist and were replaced by burgh councils for each of Livingston, Bathgate, Linlithgow, Whitburn, Armadale, Broxburn etc, I am certain this is the kind of cut that would never be considered or necessary. My suggestion is recommending to the Scottish Parliament that West Lothian Council (and all other council) be broken up into councils closer to the average size of a council in Europe, and not the current model which isn't remotely local.	8. This suggestion is out with the responsibility of West Lothian Council. Where relevant, we will forward these comments to our partner organisations.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Cannot comment as statement is ambiguous! Does this mean management jobs are okay, we will just sack the workers?	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	As with previous statement it is not possible to comment without more detail being available.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	"Some management arrangements" and "resource realignment where appropriate" - this question is exceptionally vague and provides insufficient information to allow any comment to be made. It is disappointing though if a lean management and governance structure has not been implemented fully at the council already	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again, this isn't consultation its telling us what you are going to do. What will impact on customers, WL residents, be? Needs to be far more detailed. Above statement is just waffle...	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This point completely goes against the first point?!?	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again no details what arrangements and what changes to services. A consultation is supposed to detail options so the public can offer informed opinions and/or alternatives.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Some management arrangements - this is not clear and is vague	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures, staffing requirements and terms and conditions of employment. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	It is not clear what management arrangements will be reviewed nor at what level.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Tue above doesn't provide any detail. What do you want us to comment on?	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again, there is no detail. This could mean anything - your "management structure" could be having one person overseeing all departments, I am sure it doesn't but it seems whoever signed this off should be one of the managers at the council who should be made redundant.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This statement could not be more vague.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	There is already a huge gap in delivery of council services. If you could be more specific as to what the 500,000 cuts are and not discuss in such vague terms then as members of public in the local council area we could make a more informed decision. Its all too vague!	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	More details required.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	So little detail given here that the consultation feels meaningless	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	What arrangements - this is very vague to make any comments.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	What will the impact be?	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Can't comment without the full facts	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This is so vague it's hard to comment on. 1A commits to reducing staff numbers but this bit commits only to 'where it is appropriate'?	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Another nice big number to put next to another load of (redacted) explanation. The above paragraph of prose means nothing to me. Word salad. I'm guessing it all means job losses and lower wages. For the poor people. Not the ruling classes.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Efficient managers are required to manage. Again too little information	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Don't understand this issue	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Can't determine what this actually means as no detail given	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again very vague, what are you proposing????!	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This seems like jargon, I dont understand this proposal.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This doesn't make any sense. It's very confusing.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I would need to see details before commenting. The description here is too general.	9. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Not enough actual information provided to make an informed comment!	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Don't fully understand the proposal	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	A very vague description, hard to know what is being proposed.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again,where are the reviews? What departments? This tells me nothing.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Unable to make provide a constructive comment as there is no detail as to what this would involve or how it would affect individuals, services within the Council.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	It would not be right to offer feedback without a sound understanding of the services this relates to.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again there is a lack of information on specific changes.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Without more detail impossible to comment	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This is so vague as to be useless. How can you expect comments when there is no detail.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Not clear what this means.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Not enough detail to make constructive comments.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	The wording of this question is poor. Public surveys should be clear and use plain English. As a member of the public, I have no idea what this means to public service and would generally agree to saving on something I don't understand if it can go to something that clearly provides value to the public like schools, parks, play areas, and roads etc. There is no obvious public service being lost here, there is no reference to impact on customers, why did you not define the real impact? If this is to be a real consultation that is asking the public to weigh pros and cons and make an informed decision, surely you have to define the service or task clearly and define the pros and cons clearly? why would you not just save the £500,000 anyway if you can't define the cons, why ask us?	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	dont really know what this mean	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again lacking in detail to give educated consideration	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.

YCYS 2028 Consultation Comments and Responses from Officers (Phase 2)

Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	The format of this survey is poor and does not lend itself to true scrutiny of the proposals. The survey is badly designed and off putting to many given the large blurb of text under each heading - the language is in business speak which is essentially meaningless. There is a lack of clarity on the proposals and the reader is left to assume what the blurb is getting at. This survey should have been in plain English with examples of the proposals which would support greater engagement with the activity. There should be space for feedback on the methodology being used also - this has not been made available which adds to suspicion that the whole process is already decided, and course of action is already determined. The council and COSLA must do more to protect our communities and demand a fair settlement from the Scottish Government. This exercise highlights the political failure of the funding model and it will be the local community that suffers as a result. The end of the survey does not have a 'Finish' button, merely a 'Next'. Overall - very poor approach.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Unable to comment again due to lack of available information.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Need more information.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Very difficult to make any comment without further detail how this would work in practice, affect services, staff etc.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I mean do you actually care what anyone thinks because the wording is not clear or easy to understand for this with no background in this. Again how can we comment with no details no transparency.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again just say where your actually making chances too? Make it simple for people to understand better.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I am unable to provide further input as the level of detail within the estimated saving briefing doesn't allow me too.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	No idea what this means as you have not actually said what you will do. Significant amount of jargon. Plain English required. Essentially you are cutting jobs!	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	How much did the council waste on this? It's vague jargon that is not intended for the community at large to easily understand. Blatant transparency is the way to go.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Honestly, I think these questions will be confusing to most people. There is no information here on what change will actually happen to save £500,000 so I don't feel I can comment.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Impossible to comment on this as the statement is ambiguous and does not state what would actually be changed.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	I am not sure what you are asking	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This proposal is poorly described and so it is difficult to comment effectively on it.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Not even sure what this means , review of management arrangements , eg managers work less hours or take over more than one section. How can you estimate savings if its just a review	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This statement gives no indication of HOW the Council will ensure the 'effective delivery of council services and statutory duties' while seeking greater efficiency, nor what 'greater efficiency' means in this context.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again, see above. Your description is so vague it means nothing.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again, a weeping, vague statement. More detail would be appreciated.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Difficult to say much based on the words above other than OK	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	More detail is required on how this will work. I am unable to provide comment as the proposal is vague. What are the changes proposed? How are resources to be "re-aligned"?	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	It is disingenuous to ask people to comment on such a broad proposal with far too little detail for anyone to give an opinion on - it constitutes tick box consultation. It is difficult to argue with the broad principle outlined but it very much depends on how it impacts on people - reducing staff can often mean that the only method of communication is online and in many organisations this causes much greater inefficiency/no help at all for the customer/client.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	difficult to provide specific feedback without knowing the actual detail around the proposed plans.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.

Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again, it is not clear what management and what the projected impact would be. Depending on the nature and extent of the restructuring it could have little impact on services or lead other workers within the Council to wasting hours of work (and therefore Council money) trying to get decisions or services.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This is as clear as mud. What does this actually mean in practice. There is nothing here that could allow for any meaningful comment. As per 1A, there is an increasingly high risk that there just won't be enough people left to do the work required. Better management of the budget would mean that fewer jobs would go.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	As the council will have less overall resources, the number of services delivered will have to reduce with services being reviewed based on the impact they have on priorities. This will include changes to service standards, the way remaining services are delivered and a reduced workforce. It is proposed that future spending will be aligned to agreed priorities. The focus will be on posts that support the priorities rather than whether they are front line or back office based.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Does this mean the current framework is inefficient? The statement is far too vague with far too little detail	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	This sounds confusing don't know what you want us to say	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	As above -how is it possible to have an opinion on this when it's as vague as 'some management arrangements will be reviewed' ?	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Which management arrangements will be reviewed and what services will be changed? From where, and to where, will resources be realigned? Without knowing the answers to these questions it is impossible to evaluate with the proposed changes.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	If you don't tell us which efficiencies you will be managing, how can I comment.; ; Prevention and good maintenance are better than cure or replacement.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Like what??? You are asking for comments but not giving an explanation? There does seem to be a lot of managers on high salaries, along with councillors.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	The format of this survey is poor and does not lend itself to true scrutiny of the proposals. The survey is badly designed and off putting to many given the large blurb of text under each heading - the language is in business speak which is essentially meaningless. There is a lack of clarity on the proposals and the reader is left to assume what the blurb is getting at. This survey should have been in plain English with examples of the proposals which would support greater engagement with the activity.; ;	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	The above sentence is not very clear. Not sure if you are talking about reducing the number of managers. I am not sure how this works in all the departments but in my current role I dare say that the number of managers are too low and due to this they are unable to fulfill basic duties such as peer checking which has a knock back effect on the quality of work some people do and also the inequality between employees.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	As you don't say what the changes are it is impossible to say whether they will impact positively or negatively. Without specifics this is impossible to comment on.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	There are no details in this statement. How exactly does the structure change? Sack all the middle managers and give one person £500k per year? Again there are no specific details to give a qualified answer	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Not sure exactly what you mean, just hoping services will not become unreliable and harder to access.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	The lack of real facts and figures about what is going to change makes it a challenge to comment effectively. More information is required before any meaningful consultation can take place. We should be provided with a statement for each section and the option to agree, disagree or have no opinion. I would strongly urge the council to re-present this consultation in a more user friendly format.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	If the management arrangements are still to be reviewed, now can you estimate the savings?	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Narrative is too vague to comment on. No details have been given how management arrangements will be changed and the impact this would have.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	As a resident I do not understand what this will mean to the services I receive due to the vague and broad terms used in this consultation document.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	As a resident I do not understand what this will mean to the services I receive due to the vague and broad terms used in this consultation document.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Insufficient detail on impact to make any assessment	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again difficult to comment with no details provided	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Without detailed information I don't see how I can comment on this or what you are expecting/wanting from comments.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question. Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Again it sounds good though vague as no detail however sounds good	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	What arrangements will be reviewed? How will these be more efficient? Again, there's not enough information here to provide a comment so I'm assuming this is not a real consultation exercise, but merely one that you can say you did. If you really wanted to do a co-creation style budget then you would be out and about consulting with people giving them full information, not asking extremely vague questions with no detail.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Don't fully understand as not enough details given as to how this estimated saving would be achievable, if it means looking at the number of senior positions within management structure being reviewed with aim to reduce numbers of staff being paid high salaries then I would agree to this being looked at.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Any savings shouldn't be done at expense of providing reasonable services for the customers.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment, the council proposes to use responses to the consultation to support the review of council services, prioritisation and decision making.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Consultation very difficult to understand	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Some management arrangements. No comments. We don't know the arrangements	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	There isn't really enough information provided in the description above to comment on.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	Please consult with plain language instead of euphemisms. Remove diversity and inclusion roles. Simply collect and publish data.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1B Review of Management arrangements	It's not clear from above where the savings will be found.	9. The respondent made a comment on the survey question.	Thank you for your comment about the survey, the council will carefully consider all feedback and use it to review and improve our consultation approach.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This is a very welcome change and the budget saving is an added bonus	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Agree with adopting new and existing technologies. It is vital that systems are integrated and supported following implementation. This will ensure any new technology is fully utilised and the benefits are realised.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	There should always be option for those who don't have access to IT to speak to someone.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Great as long as menus more navigable than current multi click cyclic options	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As long as customers can access, and in case of issues with the automated technology there is an option of talking to someone, or leaving a message with guaranteed response this would be a sensible change.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Effectiveness is a much better objective than 'efficiency'. Are all current systems working for staff and customers? There is a lot more we could do with our smartphones, for example, but we're not able to as they have limited function.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Services being run are within areas of severe deprivation and social depravity. Customers who use these services see them as a lifeline, they cannot work digital technology, either not possessing the means or the financial ability to sustain this.; The council provide a face to face service which must remain intact in these times of social angst and worrying cost of living crisis.; People need that contact and reassurance from a person rather than a faceless machine. The idea of digital contact is overall a good idea but this must be carried out slowly and within the means of the public who are using these services in the present time.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I work in IT so support this, but accessibility is key e.g. for older people who are less confident in engaging with digital delivery should not be excluded.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Automated systems are great as long as it is easy and straightforward to use.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Supported, most people have embraced changing technology due to the COVID pandemic.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	More investment into digital services is definitely beneficial to all concerned, there is so much Tech out there which could ultimately benefit people who wish to remain in their own home for as long as possible, Investment to help trial particular pieces of tech will ultimately lead to savings in the long term.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This is important but you need to remember that not everyone is IT literate or wants to be - it's not just about age of the user, a lot of younger people wouldn't know how to use some systems to get information or request services	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Repurpose before replacing.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I agree with this suggestion. It has been challenging to achieve savings from digital transformation in the past and I believe that this is due, at least in part, to (i) Service areas not having the relevant skillset to implement these sort of projects and (ii) NIMBY'ism from Service areas (perhaps related to (i)). Stronger leadership is required from EMT to deliver these savings.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Danger will be introducing digital solutions (which is the way forward) but retaining all current platforms as well - this is not possible with resource levels, puts stress on staff, pressure on the services and does not "guide/encourage" customers to move to digital platforms.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I personally prefer online services, but have family members that can not access online and there needs to be a human option also	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital transformation has progressed significantly during Covid, driven by practitioners. Map this, share best practice and then assess what is performing and how to roll out.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital Transformation should not be about cost saving but about culture change.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	all sounds very good - wonder what customers think about it? will you get their feedback from your online form? or will some older and less able people be once again side lined as cannot complete online forms/surveys	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	There needs to be faster progress on this.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Some customers don't like digital technologies so hopefully there will be availability for those to still have face to face help.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The savings Benefits everyone	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Ditto cloud services	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Sounds good but be sure to take other councils previous experience as learning. Sometimes this outsourcing can really not work well as was the case with Edinburgh Council a few years back in some of their services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	We do still need people in jobs though	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The future is in digital transformation and so should be supported.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Again, customer and employees must still be able to an actual person when the need requires.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As above, greater access to services online would be advantageous and less reliant on people to answer calls and make decisions. Local hubs could be retained within existing services to help those not in the position to access services online i.e. libraries or equivalent	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	High quality technology that is responsive to need required	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Whilst it is true to say the way customers access services is changing, there is a danger that this proposal could result in people being left behind. Many older, vulnerable people are not digitally active and rely on "old school" means when accessing council services. The drive to efficiency should not be at the detriment of service users-it would be interesting to see what proposals were being suggested.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Services still need to be available to people who do not have online access	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Technology comes at a cost in procuring, developing, maintaining, and doesn't necessarily deliver savings in time or energy. Automated processes don't automate themselves. It needs to be carefully considered to ensure best customer service can be maintained.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Technology use must not be at the cost of providing human interventions for more complex interactions and those which cannot be self-served.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The Authority must also start to use, and not be averse to, technology, such as Apps.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Must always ensure there are telephone and digital options for the vulnerable customers	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Staff will need to be trained on using the digital services themselves then trained on how to help customers access and use digital resources.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Ensure full training is given on new technologies to get full benefit from them.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The council must provide proper IT support to staff and allow for digital transformation, however the current access to online applications is difficult to navigate for staff never mind our customers, the council will need to look at better approaches for carry out work electronically by providing devices for customer to sign from an email or a hand held device that allows for this also. hybrid working and providing IT systems to complete these remotely would also help for tenancy sign ups.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital services have their place, however I hope this is blended to afford those who cannot use digital technology the opportunity to access services face to face.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I would imagine some of the savings would be transferred to the public.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Agree with delivering multi-media customer services, a lot of our Customer's chose to send SMS or email rather than speak on phone due to mental health, the younger generation are clued up on all this but you still need to think about our older Customer's who do not use the latest form of technology.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	There is very little detail contained within the narrative to make an informed comment. Suffice to say though that this should be a feature of a progressive and forward looking business and should not be the consequence of a need to save money.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital services are not always as effective as 'human people' - it is good to interact and engage with people rather than a computer screen or an automated service - yes it will be effective in some cases, but not all - this has to be thought through and implemented carefully - no one wishes to see people lose jobs	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The implementation of greater automated processes - is now common - however there should always be an option to speak to a human in case of uncertainty and the "wait time" for access to a human intervention should aim to be within a few minutes.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Again if IT works well then it would be a good way forward, however there has and will always been poor connections, and faulty systems which means systems down for several hours and even days. Peoples need to hear other people, we need to connect more and not through IT but through person to person . I know this will be challenging due to the economy but we must persevere.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	If it eorks	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Comment does not make sense
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Technology is a great way to help provide services, if done properly. However, there must always be someone we can talk to if the automation fails or does not meet customer requirements. Ensure the elderly and vulnerable are considered front and centre in development of technologies.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Remember that older people and vulnerable people prefer real people to people interactions rather than automated or online alternatives.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Agree with this, overhaul the council website and provide automated access to more services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Good to see the council keeping up with the times ..	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	yep,but older people may feel left out!	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital services are fine when they work roll out of digital services will not support everyone there must and should be an allowance to allow people to interact on a face to face personal basis	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	1c is the best option as it doesn't reduce public jobs and still is a saving even though it is the lowest option	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	How do you cater for those who are not able to access online services, or are not technologically minded and have no concept of how the online world works?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This should already be a strategic priority to keep pace with technology and shouldn't require citizens to be consulted about it as a high level principle. It would be more appropriate as a consultation question if the specific processes that are to be targeted were outlined.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Only if the solution works on phones and tablets unlike the Confero system that needs a PC or Laptop	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Automatic process is great only if it works and we'll thought through. It's nothing more frustrating than going into an automatic loop. In reality, it cannot completely replace human staff. There are situations that you just cannot choose from option 1 to 6. It needs to be explained with context.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I think this is a good idea but the needs of those customers who do not have access to the internet needs to be taken account. I think any changes should be clearly communicated to customers to ensure that those customers who can access services digitally can do so, freeing up phone lines and staff for those who can't.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	More people are making greater use of digital technologies so this seems an appropriate response in this current climate.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Access to the website pages should be user friendly and not complicated... not everyone is computer savvy.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council website is intended to keep West Lothian residents informed about council services and the local area and also, it provides them with access to the council services that they need (for those who wish to transact with the council online). The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Why have you not already done this?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Care must always be taken to put the customer at the heart of digital modernisation. The risk of the less tech literate losing access to services must be avoided.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Care needs to be taken not to exclude those who are not technologically literate - the elderly, those without access to devices.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Agree although more detail required to ensure adequate balance of digital and non digital forms of service access and engagement are available to meet needs of ALL service users.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital is the way of the world now and is good for cutting costs.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As per answer number one. I work in education and getting parents and carers to engage with these systems can be very challenging	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Makes sense, self service is the future	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	100% behind this, though provisions must be met when these services fail or if there are items that come out of left field.; Once more though, have effective managers of this, do not utilise costly third parties for anything past the sizing opportunities. Get all software and hardware solutions in-house as quickly as possible.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This makes sense.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I agree, but there must be some provision for the "non digital" section of the community to also be able to access services	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	West Lothian council will need to ensure that there multi system has the answer for everything, also east to use as not everyone has access to internet so there must also have staff members to answer calls	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital transformation is all very well but many elderly tenants cannot access digital technology, nor can they often hear the automated options on telephone lines etc so if they have no family, it is almost impossible for some to engage.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Whilst digital solutions/new technology mostly does help to streamline functions, sadly sometimes it makes the process more complicated, and we are slave to the system capabilities rather than improving services. We have a number of systems within the Council that are unable to communicate with each other causing more frustrations and not really improving the user experience. I think it's a common myth that if we introduce a system, it will make things easier and reduce the need for staff, sometimes that is not the case, and we shouldn't just think of modernisation as introducing more technology to replace people.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Agree but needs to be full end to end ; But where needed have human available	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digitalisation is the new way. Many services have accelerated in this area due to Covid and we should continue to progress with this in areas that work well. Just need to be careful around assuming everyone can manage with this and not everyone is able (not just older people)	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As long as the council remembers that some older residents are not fully IT literate and may struggle if all services are move online.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Technology used well but wisely. No big systems whereby people wait long periods to get through to the appropriate department.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Yes technology can help but you need real people to do things	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	More digital services are sensible, providing there are sound business continuity measures in place in case of electricity failure or cyber security incidents. It is also important to remember the needs of those in our community who cannot use digital services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.

We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	An efficient service would be ideal	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Must ensure accessibility to all in solutions provided	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Why are you only looking at this now. You've been wasting money up until now by not doing this.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council has already made savings through digital transformation and the proposals are designed to deliver further savings
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Technology is only as good as person using it! Please remember not everyone has access to technology.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Good for those that use IT, elderly people may struggle	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Many people who access council services as vulnerable and have limited computer literacy and often just need human help. This isn't the worst odea but the reliance of technology reduced the effectiveness of council services. ;	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital is the way forward however many older customers and customers experiencing severe poverty also have no access to wifi or other forms of contacting online	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I am trusting that this is not double-counting the first item. I would say that talented digital transformation specialists can be expensive- I am one myself - and if there is not a plan, or the plan is not 100% bought into, the scope for improvements in the short to medium term is poor.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Technology is great in my opinion - but as the saying goes - 'to err is human, but to foul things up completely requires a computer'. My experience of many firms like Utilities and similar is that if you have to phone, it is a nightmare to resolve as Customer services people generally don't know how to resolve the problem if it is a technical one.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Automated processes do save staff time and money, but when it affects front facing savings, there needs to be a good customer service vehicle to resolve problems when they go wrong - and automated processes DO go wrong. Technology is great in my opinion - but as the saying goes - 'to err is human, but to foul things up completely requires a computer'. My experience of many firms like Utilities and similar is that if you have to phone, it is a nightmare to resolve as Customer services people generally don't know how to resolve the problem if it is a technical one.; ; Have you thought about providing a 'live chat' facility where it would help customers speak to someone without phoning?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I'm all for processes being digitalised but at what cost to staff cuts at the level where lowest paid workers are employed.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I agree with your conclusion that more and better IT needs to be in place, but the council must not lose sight of the many West Lothian people of a certain age and over who either don't have access to IT or the knowledge or ability to use it. They are still out there.....please dont marginalize them still further.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	There should be consideration given when changing to digital and online services for customers, that not everyone has access to digital platforms for many reasons. Just now, we are in the midst of a cost of living crisis and are coming out of a pandemic, all of which has had a massive impact financially on people who may have already been struggling. People may have computers and other devices such as mobile phones and tablets, however, may not be able to afford to pay for wifi and internet connection. Older people do not necessarily know how to work computers, mobile phones or tablets and therefore are at a disadvantage of services being offered. All of this should be considered before changing services offered to digital.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Again, this is moving with the times and needs to be grown beyond £500k saving if there is a return on the investment made	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	People should be pushed harder to self serve digitally. Makes sense.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Definitely but make sure it's supported. Too often your phone lines go down so there is work required there.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Very much in favour of digital communication, appreciate this may not be easy for everyone and its crucial to make content accessible, but I find it much easier.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I agree that digital transformation is essential for delivering modern, responsive services to customers. The council has too many processes that are outdated. Hopefully this will be delivered with insight from customers on how they want to conduct business with the council.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	While digital solutions can improve access to services for some, they can be unsuitable for certain customers, e.g. the elderly and those without easy access to technology. Therefore, access to services must still be accessible to these customers through more traditional means.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Great idea. Just make sure that there is access to a human as technology cannot replace a human making decisions.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	It is difficult to provide substantive comments on this proposal as there is little concrete detail. The aim of the proposal seems reasonable, particularly relating to the greater use of technology and there are good examples of this currently in use, e.g., the booking of a bulky uplift can be made using an electronic form. However, if an increased use of technology is to be made, please do not forget those who do not have access to the internet or who find technology challenging (not always the elderly). There are times when people wish to, and need to, speak to a human being.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This makes sense to automate processes and applications where possible. There must still be some form of human interaction where required if the automation fails or does not deal with exceptional cases or circumstances	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This is appropriate - there should remain an option for those who are not digitally literate to access services so a streamlined, non-digital option should be available for our vulnerable communities.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	See previous answers. Only things to add is they need to be user friendly and stable. Also need to take into account not everyone uses technology or has varying degrees of competence so there will always have to be the option to talk to someone.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Technology is important, but no match for a person. You need to train staff to use technology and not focus on reducing staff numbers	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	needs to be consideration given for those who do not have the ability or finances to have tech at home	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Automated responses and facilities such as digital chat can be very effective. They require a great deal of sophisticated programming to make them work efficiently and effectively.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Important that the Councils needs of those residents who are digitally excluded	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Please remember that there is still a number of customers who cannot or do not use online digital solutions	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Great idea to widen options for points of contact, but I would hate to lose the actual people who are there to answer calls on general enquiries. They are very nice and understanding and you feel like you have been heard when dealing with that initial contact.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Yes digital enhancing seems to work better	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	When savings are estimated what are the costs? Digital transformation has to be handled carefully as so many IT projects exceed budget and don't always function optimally. There is a need to balance perceived benefits with the fact that people would still like to talk to human beings, and with the fact that not everyone is equally comfortable with technology or equally connected (e.g. have to avoid digital disenfranchisement).	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The general public and particularly older people will always value face to face contact with a service rather than a computer screen with boxes, which usually doesn't provide the answers to their questions. So digital solutions alone may not be the right solution.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	There still needs to be people in call centres etc for customers to speak to. Automated services are fine but speaking to a human can never replace speed and streamlined digital services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Again, just a worry about lots of job losses. While saving money and making a more efficient service sounds good I do wonder if this will ultimately lead to more money being needed in other public areas to support families who have lost their jobs.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	It is important to move with the times while also being mindful of those within our community who may not have access to online services or who do not feeling confident communicating in this way.	1. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This is fine for a lot of the public but not everyone has access to ICT, particularly older and more vulnerable members of the public. This could make some people very isolated.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Happy with digital services	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Improvement of technology is a must - as us reducing areas like technological hardware repair and re-use rather than buying new and also exploring sustainable models for powering the increase in technology	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Be aware that not everyone in the community can use digital tools - children, disability groups, elderly. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Whilst I see it as a good thing that accessibility is At the forefront here, it needs to be done right. As I found lately when my local taxi company went fully automated to book, it doesn't always work. What would be a 5 minute call can take 15-25. I worry that if everything is automated with the council systems, if I have some query that is out of the norm I could be waiting days to get a response. If the system is designed properly and tested to destruction before blindly rolling it out I would see that as a progressive and cost saving step forward	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As long as the savings mean that those without on line confidence or contact due to poverty, or age in many cases would then get a better service in person	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital transformation is key to reducing cost. Make sure the systems put in place are fit for purpose.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I already dislike the Council's approach to customer services with regards to increased use of IT. We go to great lengths to provide information in different languages, Gaelic signage evident in many areas, sign language, different fonts etc. etc. and a seemingly inexorable drive to hone our IT expertise to streamline information delivery. However, in this sea of technology, we discriminate against a great number of West Lothian residents - generally those over the age of 70. The best method of accessing services and seeking help for the elderly is by phone. I hope we still provide for our elderly residents by providing telephone access. By not doing this, we are discriminating against them.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This is a good idea. The digital revolution is allowing businesses and service providers to provide better services at radically lower costs in almost every sector of the economy. The council should be no different	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	OK. But there must be a fallback as not everybody has computer access.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As long as there is still access for those who are not digitally literate such as older people.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This idea does sound achievable but at what cost???? Do the employees who were doing the job get redundancy packages or are they transferred into another role? I worry that we might become too dependent on technology and loose, that personal interaction with human contact.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This is sensible, but access must be maintained for those who struggle with digital access for a range of reasons.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As mentioned previously, please consider those with less/ no access/ lack of confidence with regards to technology and the Internet. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Introducing automated processes and software such as import email modules will definitely increase the speed in which queries can be dealt with and customers can have a resolution to important and time critical issues, but there still needs to be staff easily available to people who need help and cannot easily use new technology. There is also the issue with any of these new ways of working of problems with simple things such as getting files uploaded without causing problems with attachments being blocked etc. It is fine putting a process in place asking people not to upload anything over a certain file size but most people dont understand this and will just take a photo on their phone and upload. In turn this slows down the process instead of speeding it up as there is no human intervention to help.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	After reading the above, I will continue to trust your decisions in the areas I have no experience in , but thank you for the opportunity to co-operate !	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	One thing that many customers feedback is that they would like to engage with a human rather than automated responses / interaction therefore customer needs should be prioritised.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This could be a positive step for WLC. So many companies now use technology to access their services. I will now always use an online chat function for enquiries or online booking to access a service (gas boiler service, prescription, GP appointment, mobile phone query etc) rather than calling or emailing a company. It may not be everyone's preferred choice but it is a move a lot of companies have made and its quicker to access services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As long as these digital solutions work, and when they do not, there is a way of contacting someone to take action	1. Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I agree that a digital transformation is needed in certain areas.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Whilst I personally have no issue with this approach it is not helpful for the older population who may be technically illiterate	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Agree on the whole but the council must not lose sight of the fact not everyone, especially the older and less affluent members of our community, have access to or are fluent in the use of IT. Systems must ensure that, for example paper applications etc. are still available where wanted /needed / required. There needs too, to be a voice at the end of the phone for people that want /need to speak to a staff member.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Agreed. Nobody wants to sit in a phone queue for ages and get an ill informed response. Digital services give consistent and correct responses.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Again, its of utmost importance that people with any difficulty or disabilities are supported to enable them to access any of the services the council provides that they need.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	People access services in different ways and it is important that choices are still available for customers. New technology is very easy to access and is a much more efficient way of working. As a result services will cost less to run with fewer staff required. We need to be careful however that everyone can access services easily. In my experience working for a charity services are delivered over the phone and in person most often. The important point is that clients have the choice in how they access the services that they need and what is more comfortable for them.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I believe the council is already on this journey and doing well, therefore continuing to invest in digital solutions is a positive.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The provision of digital technology like Borrowbox or Libby for library customers is brilliant-technology at its best. But the Cloud Library App isn't great. Provision of new technologies is only good if it actually works well-this applies to all services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	That sounds all and good, if the nature of the service is suited to "digital solutions". ; ; Is West Lothian Council considering removal of any services from within the Parks & Woodland unit and, if they are, what services?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Whilst technologies may be an efficient way of working for many people, there are still people, often vulnerable people, who are unable to manage in this way. It is vital that they are supported by staff who can speak to them and give them additional support as required.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This is fine in principle but a lot of the elderly, low paid people etc don't have access to computers and like to speak to people face to face. A personal service being taken away.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Yes, this will be needed at some point and will lead to further cost savings in the future	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	If there are more automated services, the staff will be able to undertake more task on their own, but this may decrease efficiency. Maybe not by a massive amount but staff doing more little things themselves eventually does add up. They may want an increase in pay for taking on more tasks and as previously mentioned their efficiency may decrease.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I agree that there should be more digital systems in place as they make things much simpler and quicker, but will the benefits of this outweigh the benefits of job creation? With the cost of living being so high people cannot afford to lose their jobs. Will the savings made really compare with the damage of unemployment? ; ;	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	While this is likely to stream line many processes and make them more efficient, it is important to consider digital access for all, including access to devices as well as access to the internet/broadband	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Making more services online would be more useful.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Costs on meetings and travel could be reduced with the use of technology.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	West Lothian Council talk about investing in digital solutions but are not efficient at training their staff to use the technology. Training staff on the use of digital solutions would certainly make things more efficient.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I agree that we can put as many services as possible on to a digital platform. However, we must still provide help and support for those who cannot access services digitally. i.e. those with difficulty reading and writing.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Technology is great for helping out the customers but there must always be a human face for those who require it	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	If you ACTUALLY invest in decent software then it ultimately saves you money in the long run. Too many systems are just awful and don't do what people need them to do. Seemis is the best example of this	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	key for ongoing delivery of education. west lothian academy is central to this and maintain breadth of choice and opportunity	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	To achieve efficiencies and have effective deployment then there needs to be resources to work on projects to enable the transformation and it needs to involve the practitioners.; ; General concern where resources are reduced as outlined in section 1a/1b - then more difficult to achieve as many projects to date have relied on officers trying to maintain standard of service and performance in their key role.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As long as staff engaged with the transformation actual know the inside out of the jobs/roles, the actual usefulness of transformation will be slow, long, and maybe painful for both staff and customers.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Certain jobs could be replaced or reduced through technology. However, supporting elderly and ASN people should be considered.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Customers must be given guidance in regards the use of the new technology	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Technology should be used to cut staff time but allow staff to be able to get on with the back end work that is sometimes left due to the time available to complete tasks and that certain figures are not captured to provide this.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.

This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Definitely a positive way forward	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This is a relevant initiative in a digital age when funds are low. However, excessive reliance on technology in the field of education should be avoided at all costs.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital transformation is important, however, we need to remember with digital technology comes a skill gap, which requires to be filled. In bringing in new technology we also need to make sure we have the right staff in place to support that technology. We also need to support our customers to be able to use and access any digital services we bring in. Without this, we will make no savings.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This makes perfect sense however, not all customers have access to IT and personal contact with Council staff is a preferred option for some and should still be an option.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Not all tenants will be able to use digital means to contact the council. I feel that we must keep a point of contact for tenant who do not have the means to contact digitally.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	IT needs to be set up to allow this more model ways of working. Often digital improvements for customers and services are not taken forward as they are classed as not being digitally secure. We need to invest in this before we can save.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	We need to keep in mind the age range of the community and many in WL are of elderly age, utilising online services will not be an efficient or effective move. These services are excellent as long as they are running, we need to maintain a strong real workforce that can actually provide some interaction to the public.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Again, fine in theory but needs of those without digital skills must be taken into account	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital is a great way to share information, courses etc but does not replace actual staff. Then there is time allocation for staff to access online or produce online material for the; Public.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Please ensure this is tested out properly and fully supported by the right number of staff. There's nothing more frustrating than when something doesn't work, or your circumstances don't fit into a specific category and you need to speak to a person to discuss and there is no-one to help you.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Yes - automation and standardisation of systems and processes is important.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Opinions on this above. The younger generation will happily use the online services however this can not come at a cost to the older generations relying on local drop in's and real conversation with real people.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	These technologies need studied, not just bought because its the in fad .	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This works as long as alternatives are offered for those who can't access this .	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital first is a must but this must be balanced with providing a non-digi approach for those who can't/don't access services in a digital way. This includes my own mother.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I would agree in theory however there should always be a point of contact via phone or in person that would allow you to see someone if you feel the digital platforms are unable to deal with your request	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Again, sounds sensible although I hope the reduction in staff would not result in compulsory redundancies and that I could still speak to an actual person when I needed to.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The council are seen to cut costs but at the cost of our customers. It is paramount that the customer service area is not reduced in numbers as we still require the face to face interaction however streamlining giving a customer the option. We are currently looking to develop this as part of my stream work and we have solutions to help support staff but not reduce the quality efficiency and the customers journey and experience.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council continues to offer different kinds of access for customers. This can be speaking to someone in person through an office, by telephone through the contact centre or digitally through our website or other online portals.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Be careful about getting rid of your staff who do the real work. Remove layers of senior managers.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Yes, this cost saving of £502,000 needed, please proceed with these changes.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Technology can always make for a more efficient service. However, need to take into account those who are unable to use technology and have some alternatives.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Again a review of internal systems is overdue as again there is a lot of duplication of work	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	It is great that technology can provide WLC residents with new ways of accessing services, however we have to be mindful that certain demographics either unable to access technology, do not trust the technology or are fearful of using it, especially the elderly.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Agree and think there is significant advances still to be made in moving to digital. However, we have to be clear that this is not in addition to all other ways to access the council and we should aim to streamline these.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	There needs to be clear thought about people who are not ready for complete digital solutions as in the older generations and those with complex needs. In this case you need staff with excellent customer service skills and enough of them to allow this section of the public to have faith in the system.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This is a good idea as the public become more and more tech savvy, you want to still be able to go about daily business but do tasks easily and remotely.;	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	A step towards more digital platforms for council services is a positive one, however the lack of provision in our older population does concern me in terms of library services and support for people who prefer to talk to someone face to face.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	While the implementation of efficient technology is generally welcomed it should be remembered that not everyone has access or can utilise technology and we are still in an era where face to face interaction is required. In time this will continue to reduce as generations pass but please remember there will always be vulnerable people who require a personal interaction.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The digital transformation is entirely necessary.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Agree as long as people who do not have access to a lot of technology (e.g. older people) are not excluded as a result of this.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Agree with this measure but considerations are required for those with additional needs, disabilities, those with no internet access etc	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I agree with using technological advances to make savings but please remember those people who don't have access to the Internet and who aren't comfortable with technology.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Agree with this.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	If the technology is accessible and fit for purpose then this makes sense. Should not just be a digital version of a service - must be digital by design.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Has WLC taken account of customers who are "digital averse", and what mitigation steps has it in place for such customers?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I think this is absolutely necessary and one of the only ways that councils will be able to address budget shortfall in the long term.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital transformation is the future.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digitalisation is increasingly the way forwards, providing that a safety net is in place for those residents who cannot access services digitally - by reason of digital access, digital competency or limited literacy.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The proof of the pudding in any savings programme is the quantum in manpower reductions and savings in contractor expenses that the measures generate. This is not set out in the consultation so other than support in principle it is difficult to comment on these proposals in detail.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital transformations are a suitable response. As in many industries, these can increase productivity and support consistency.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	With today's technology I think this is a good thing but older people may not know how to access these sort of services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This is a great idea, but you need to remember the older population many of whom do not use technology and those in poverty who cannot afford the technology.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Which services? How will user need be identified, and user experience maximised. What budget will be allocated for ongoing support and improvements - improvement to digital services needs to be ongoing.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Ok as long as the technology has the expected outcome.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	It is not clear. Are the estimated savings of £502,000 the savings that will be achieved after you have invested in these new digital solutions?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The comment is in the form of a question

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	How much is the initial, investment in these digital solutions and what are the anticipated lifetime operational costs? Is the £502,000 the net annual saving when all investment and operational costs are taking into account?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The comment is in the form of a question
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Please ensure that any digital public interfaces are optimised for tablets, phones etc.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital services must be secure and monitored to ensure they are functioning correctly.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	There must also be availability for people who cannot use or access a computer to go and get things done.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I consider digital transformation a good thing for council staff and some of the public, but you must also be aware of the ageing population in West Lothian who cannot access a computer and therefore cannot use these services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	More efficiency for less cost this should be implemented asap	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Please take into account that that is not all residents and rhat those that can't access due to ability or finances are as entitled to access services ad those who can. In a lot of cases, the people who are unable to access digital support are the ones most in need of services	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This sounds fantastic for people who are able to access digital communication.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Encompass technology for most council functions for payment of accounts to reporting faults, changes in circumstances	1. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Most people now prefer online access as it saves wiring in person or over the phone, as long as there is support for those who either don't have internet access or who can't manage to use the internet say via libraries/community hubs this could work well	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Keep IT simple so as many people can use it as possible, don't get too carried away with visuals and making it look top of the range but unusable.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	While consolidating and saving money we must still strive for a customer facing environment for customers as not all customers use online facilities and can find them obscure and confusing	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	More than happy to use these digital services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I understand that by having more automated systems it will save the council money but you have to take into consideration the effect it will have on peoples mental wellbeing.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Remember to keep it simple! And make sure you have excellent Project Management and are tracking anything that slips - jump on it right away. No excuses from anyone.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	A real danger here of losing touch with our residents if this goes too far to fast.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Understandable that processes will update with technology, just remember an ageing population need to feel that they can contribute and contact the council.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As before ensure staff and services available for those who cannot use or afford up to date technology	1. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	There needs to be consideration for the elderly within the council where technology and automated services may not be as accessible. This could result in a whole section of residents unable to receive the support or services they require.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Only if it works and is continuous updated. Computers aren't as good as people	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Technology is the way to go if it saves money, but some provision for elderly people has to be made for face to face delivery	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Absolutely technology will help with efficiencies as long as technology is first class and supported. Also for those guiding customers to these digital/online processes are kept in the loop and as up to date as possible. Technology could be used a whole lot more than is used currently. West Lothian seem to be behind other Authorities. Home working also seems to be a lot more successful elsewhere.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	If the population is aging digital solutions may not be the best use of funding to allow them to access. Council however should be remaining up to speed with new solutions which could provide better service to all. Reducing staff may not be the best solution	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Putting things online does not necessarily make them more accessible so attention would need to be paid to design, access requirements, digital skills gaps and digital poverty. This kind of systems change would need to be designed alongside the people who use it, and come with a huge lead-in in communications and preparation.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Fine for younger people but I worry about pensioners as my mum does not have a computer and cannot work one	1. The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I think this is definitely required but in a digital age things are getting more expensive and will prove harder to make savings.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Believe the Council should move with technology and keep up to date with how people require to interact with the Council while also taking into account people's abilities. Are the estimated savings taking into account the investments cost for new technology	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	We could certainly do more with Customer Portals and sign posting to provide efficiencies - this has been talked about for many years.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Happy for new technologies as long as no impact on jobs.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Any improvement in digital solutions is welcome, however there is no replacement for the value of speaking to a 'real' person	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	In theory this could be good, but some people are not confident with technology, some don't trust their private information on systems. Also speaking to customers face to face, giving the personal touch is often needed to calm a situation rather than an angry keyboard warrior. I do agree the investment in technology has been very effective through the Covid period allowing us to work more efficiently.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Need to be mindful of those that struggle with the internet, we are inadvertently discriminating against them by making it more difficult for them to use our services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Technologies need to be efficient and people friendly.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This would work if everyone had access to the internet and email. Or support to help people do this.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	COVID19 highlighted that for the majority changes can be made e.g. working from home, online meetings.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As mentioned previously not everyone has access to or has knowledge of digital services. These are often elderly people Councils should provide access for all people in the area and provide alternative access means. Councils must ensure robust IT oversight and speedy corrective actions where necessary.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As long as services are not negatively impacted this seems fine. I am dubious however that a multi media service would match the service offered by a human being in most situations requiring nuance.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital is good only if all have access and ability - we must remember our elderly community who cannot often access digital services. Sole digital is not acceptable.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Its important to embrace technologies that enhance and improve the experience for everyone.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Seems sensible to review the internal processes to see if efficiencies can be used. This option provides no detail of the likely impact on a west lothian resident, therefore very difficult to provide meaningful feedback.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As long as this is done over a erupt of time to allow the public to change their ways of doing things	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Sack humans rely on machines	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Some things would be good however not everyone has access to digital and some older members would struggle to use them to report things to the council	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	More online friendly user systems needed.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Need to have an easy to access backup provision for those not able to use online services	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	We need to see more of this, going forward....certainly would help our customers, if we had "fast-food" style walk-in; ordering points in customer centres	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital solutions are great. However, we cannot choose our customers & we then have to provide some alternative provision for those vulnerable people, or to people without the means or capabiity to access these.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	If you are going to do it spend the money and do it well. Poor automated services are frustrating and stressful.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Yes, this is wise but it's very important not to lock older people out of accessing the services as they may not have a smart phone or be computer literate.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Customers must be able to choose the formats which are best suited to them.; Having personal experience of companies with robotics used to answer questions as opposed to having members of staff is an area where the council should exercise caution. By doing so is likely to lead to more complaints.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As long as we can access easy help when the system is down	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	It's good that the local authority can offer support if a customer cannot apply/engage online, but it does take more staff time to support this. Online learning for particularly the elderly population should be the focus, along with ensuring people have access to the internet.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Although this is positive for the business, reducing staff numbers is concerning as it puts our jobs at risk. ; In addition, not all customers have the ability to use technology confidentially and it may not be accepted well by those in this category unless the council will still be able to offer some level of support to customer that are digitally excluded.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Please ensure staff are included in training as this can be overlooked but staff still expected to be able to complete and assist. This has happened with previous training i.e. told to "read the manual"!!	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital technology is of course the way to go. My concern is how do customers who are not tech savvy access services. Technology is not infallible how would customers be supported?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital streamlining but also thinking creatively and outside of the box.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Automated services/online services are all great and can help provide efficiencies if they work. Xcite is a good example of when they don't.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Yes to technology but not at the cost of a human service. The much valuable services from advice shop and connect etc	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	We need to consider the impact that digital only services may have on our customers who are not technologically minded. This could cause more harm than good.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Council needs to improve the output of digital transformation efforts. Important value is added from resources the council already has in this area as this will be critically important area for the council over the next five years.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	again this sounds like a good cost effective idea but I worry about the people who would be made redundant due to these changes	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Why wait. Just get on with it now	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Generally this is acceptable but there still needs to be staff to help out those citizens who are unable to go digital for financial, health or age reasons.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital progression is by far a more efficient way to provide our services in this day and age.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Technologie is great as long as it is working. Again, well trained ppl to make and fix technology in appropriate time scale not to causa backlogs etc.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I agree to this as long as there also remains an option for residents to reach an actual person to speak to, as all digital services do have limitations	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Again if this is implemented and works 100% in isolation and not double systems old and new then great but it has been in the past that this was not the case. GDPR is also a concern and needs to bring confidence and ease of use when client engagement is involved with this.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Cost saving is a very attractive influencer that any government institution and other organisations would like to discuss and achieve, but it can lead to other issues and real consequences if not carefully reviewed and planned accordingly.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	More technology is fine, but let's not forget there are still people in the community who either cannot or have not the means of dealing with digital services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	All companies are looking at digital transformation. What provisions will be put in place to support vulnerable customers?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital is the future but must be overlooked and kept upto date and ust friendly.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As before, greater use of IT should lead to efficiencies.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Modernising the council and the way it interacts with its customers and the way that customers can engage with the council is a positive step forward. Within the private sector a number of innovations have been deployed, of which some have been controversial (in the short-term), giving savings delivery and further opportunities. This should be replicated within the council to build on tried and tested models. For example removal of cheques and cash handling, more online information/self-help, less staff involvement in processes, chat bots, social care technologies etc. The proposals seems like something that should be happening as part of usual council business change/modernisation and not requiring specific consultation. However, a positive step in modernising as long as council officers are willing to adopt and implement (themselves as well as promote).	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As long as access to services is not compromised	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The council needs to embrace digital transformation, automation and better use of data, not only to deliver efficiency but also to deliver improved services for our customers. We have experts in transformation, service design and automation who are able to assist service managers with this work.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	If digital happens it has to be very user friendly and taught to those who are digitally naive.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Welcome anything that can be one self service / online, reducing anything sent through the mail.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Ideal but please allow for 60 plus 70 plus and 80s and people with disabilities who don't know how to use social media internet etc let alone mobile phones	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Move with the times	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Need to consider aging population in any decisions and that they may be limited with access to technology.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Yes, but must be accessible to all, especially older age groups.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As mentioned above, reducing essential personnel can cause more issues than it solves. Training these people in digital solutions so that their jobs can be streamlined but still part of this process, which for some is vital to have someone to support, would be a more viable solution without the loss of jobs.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This seems to be a sensible way forward provided it doesn't disenfranchise people who prefer face to face interaction.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	i would be happy to work with an electronic to get the answers I need rather than a real person	1. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I would be happy to have an electronic device to get the help I need.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Again, efficiencies should be found where possible but the councils customers needs should not be ignored. The majority may be of an older generation who are not as familiar with technology as some members of the community so it may require time to transition services to the desired position.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As per first comment, digital first is great as long as it works and you can get in contact with someone when needed	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.

We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Again with modern technology employee levels inevitably fall that is the nature of the beast. But in business the once the initial set up costs are done the savings soon outstrip the costs	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Ok but remember that older people can't always use IT well	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Beware hidden costs and future ongoing developments needed. Ensure competitive but careful tendering and realistic planning to keep to budgets.	1. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Investment in automation will be crucial to ensuring the council can deliver its services efficiently in the future. Developing customer service channels will also help to support those who need it at the point of use, no matter where they are. Web chat and similar could help to provide this.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This is fine for me but not for some elderly people that are unable to access services online. Also, online services ultimately have to be managed by people. When I book repairs online, inevitably, I get a phonecall seeking to confirm bookings so wouldn't it be more logical just to have the phonecall.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	GDigital solutions have their place however there are many people who are unable to access services due to capacity issues or affordability. Others may nstruggle with communicaton issues and become frustrated, there is a place for face to face engagement	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Highly support the digital journey, but not all people have the skills to go on that journey with you	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I think in certain areas within services that WLC still struggle to fully utilise the full opportunities to utilise digitalisation for the end users. Initial investment will be higher, however processes will be improved and savings made.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Agreed. Although access needs to be in every area. le dedridge, murieston, Ladywell craigshill.; For those who are unable to walk far and cannot afford to access public transport	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Definitely a great approach to embrace this and make savings on salaries where possible but this will need to be done tactfully, ensuring that remaining staff are properly trained to assist people with all of the challenges and to feel empowered in their own work and ability to embrace the changes and thrive in their role.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	this is good, this is how our customers now work and if we can match the demands or go past the demands then it will come out well.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The council appears to have been slow to automate. In the main, customers should be encouraged to access services in the manner cheapest for the council. Most customers will be happy to self-serve if the systems or information is easily navigated to support this. As long as the increased choice and accessibility doesn't end up requiring a higher cost base to support it.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Need to ensure that new IT services are fit for purpose, quick and easy to use. You also need to ensure that someone will answer the phone when needed when IT goes wrong or does not direct you to the correct department	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Essential	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Though this would be great, it's only as good as the digital processes put in place. You can't just change something because you can - you need to look at ways of changing the processes that take the most resource and planning.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This is only appropriate in some areas, where a push button option is appropriate.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This could be very beneficial providing there remains access to human support for those not computer literate.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.

The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Need to be able to meet the needs of people who are not savvy with tech (such as the elderly). A hybrid model where people can speak to a human also need to stay.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This has to be done now or later anyway.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Move to electronic services	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	No everyone is online, especially older people. This sort of changes should be as well as and not instead of.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This is good however how will it impact the elderly?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Someone has to manage this and an outsourced team will manage the software	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Of course online is the way to go and money needs to be invested.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	If investment is to streamline processes and save money, OK, but have to bear in mind that not everyone is digitally aware so would still need alternatives in place	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As indicated above not all have access to digital inclusion, so balance needs to be struck, potentially advancement of more online would be beneficial and progressive, again balance to be achieved as long as measures to do not exclude those unable to access.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I agree with self service and digital approaches for those who are able to engage in these	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Cheapest IT does not mean more efficient or effective service- needs to be systems /services that are viable and reliable	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	yes modernise, cut meaningless jons	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	its very important to give customers different channels to engage	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Not all customers are at ease using digital technology a friendly voice at the end of the telephone is also very important to our customers.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Shame this is not a std response every year. Technology should be used always to reduce costs and improve what services we get.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This is a good use of technology. How will those customers who either don't have access to up to date digital systems or are unsure how to use them appropriately access services.	1. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	while i understand digital access is a progression and has its benefits, not everyone has access to digital platforms ie internet, computers, mobile phones. in the present financial climate and cost of living crisis the number of people having access may drop so there has to be provision in place for customers who require direct contact with staff	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Agree. There needs to be more investment in council IT systems as current systems are poor and out of date.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Using bots to do jobs of people is fine, where that is appropriate. Ensuring those with digital poverty are not left behind is essential, especially where they need to access care provision or other means of supporting themselves. Places like the advice shop and other front facing services should remain as much as possible person focused, to gather information and properly advise, with better linking between services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I think WLC should be moving forward with technology but always be mindful that not all or WLC residents can use technology due to age, cost etc and still require face to face assistance	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	We have to move with the times and digitalisation is a way forward. We have also to be careful of too much cuts	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I appreciate that digital & technical advances must be explored and embraced. There is always a challenge in how the "end users" will be able to cope with advances in technology.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital processes need to be simpler. ; ;	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This is fine as long as people can use technology. No everyone can do this and need to make sure that you don't isolate people. ; ;	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	There are a lot of digital innovations that can be employed but I would not want to see that happening at the detriment of vital services provided in person.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Ideal for people with online access, however, the cost of living crisis will mean people switching off from data etc, meaning people will be unable to access services. If rolling blackouts do come to pass, how do people contact in emergencies. Also older people rely on face to face services as a point of contact.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I think we should look at the digital platforms the council currently use??? Involve the IT team to re design software to reduce cost and implement the same amount of information going out to the public	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This sounds very reasonable but It is disingenious to ask people to comment on such a broad proposal with far too little detail for anyone to give an opinion on - it constitutes tick box consultation. It is difficult to argue with the broad principle outlined but it very much depends on how it impacts on people - reducing staff can often mean that the only method of communication is online and in many organisations this causes much greater inefficiency/no help at all for the customer/client.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Long over due, digital options may cost in the short term but will same a lot going forward	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Again, long overdue. We live in a changing world.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	New systems must be fit for purpose. It is essential that users still are able to access services through non digital or automated means. For example, if you require people to make appointments to attend offices face to face, then you must have an appropriately manned line to do so, it is inadequate at the moment.;	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Although automated services are efficient not all people, e.g elderly /disabled may struggle to use these and possible not have access to them, I think this need to be taken into consideration.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital is good for some but some older people still need face to face contact.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	More digital	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I hope careful thought is being put into the potential negative impact on customers who are not able to utilise technology to access services (ie elderly).	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As with 1A, a good idea in theory but with the caveat that it doesn't exclude the most vulnerable from accessing services.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital technology is good, however there is times when a person to speak to is better than an automated system	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Agree that digital transformation is required but this has to be done with enough time and training to allow staff to be fully comfortable with systems prior to rolling out for public use. Continue to have the option of face-to-face support for people who aren't regular users of digital technology.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This makes sense provided that digital services are truly accessible and provide the service as designed. What about the digitally excluded?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	You need to ensure that the staff are capable of using digital systems and that new systems are used to their full potential. Too often new systems come in and only part of them are used for whatever reason.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Again sounds good and will be required for future but please don't forget the value of face to face work.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	More digital access for customers is the way we interact with our customers. But we can't leave those that are not computer literate, have no access to technology or like doing things 'the old-fashioned way'.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	While it is useful to have services available online, it must be remembered that not all members of the public can afford to be online or have the literacy skills to understand. I know that face to face appointments and telephone calls may still be available but are much more difficult to access than before.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Only works if your end user has access to on line services etc. Elderly people are at a loss if they cannot use these	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital transformation must be supported with high quality staff training and ongoing support for both staff and customers who interact with digital interfaces.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Robotic Process Automation & AI are technologies that have to be considered as part of Digital Transformation. Changes to back-office processes and the way people work can bring fundamental benefits in reduction in staff costs and further efficiencies.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Please ensure that the services are easy to use and also ensure that some customer service advisors remain for our more vulnerable customers: not everyone will be able to use the council's automated platforms and will need a real person to speak with to ensure they can get access to the service(s) they require.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Again, digital transformation has been on the agenda for some time and many benefits to customers have been achieved so struggling to see how much more can be done. If the council is serious about digital transformation, its own internal systems should be the focus as they are a significant barrier to efficiency.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Make any enquiries easier and ensure that people can access all information with the use of one click	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As much automation internally & externally should be used.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Although agree that there is a need to make best use of emerging technology, the Council website is not user friendly and is clunky and difficult to find anything. There is too much reliance on the website compared to developing smart phone apps to, for instance, report potholes and fly tipping with location tracking or Streetview. This does not need to be developed from scratch as there are a number of other LAs doing this already and would no doubt be willing to share expertise on this. ; Using the phone service has you going through automated option which rarely gets you to the right people and can take so long people give up. Is this tracked to improve performance?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council website is intended to keep West Lothian residents informed about council services and the local area and also, it provides them with access to the council services that they need (for those who wish to transact with the council online). The council will continue to review processes, procedures and methods of service delivery to support improvement and efficiency in services whilst delivering on commitments.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	But also take into account the older demographic that may not have access or understand new tech.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	More use of digital solutions is welcome. You should look at using smart apps instead of relying on just your website which is quite difficult to navigate and find things. Some of the webpages are clunky and need reviewed,	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Only concern is that the access to services does not exclude elderly who are not as proficient with technology	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Further development of digital technologies is very important	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The council needs to forge ahead with Digital changes - automation and use of data should be a priority for improving services	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	We have to go digital to reduce buildings and travel. It is more cost effective.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This is good, however it needs to be acknowledged that there is a large demograph within West Lothian who will not be able to engage digitally. Additionally, any digitally provided service must have a smooth process behind it, with clear steps identified in order to alleviate any frustrations regarding a "less human touch"	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Agree. Also need to support those without access to technology or who find it difficult to use.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	If implemented properly this will be beneficial but companies all over the world have attempted and failed due to poor planning where they haven't considered the impact on the customer or researched the things that are asked most often or may require human help.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Provision of digital services should not be to the exclusion of analogue services	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	yes save but what is the cost of this saving?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I'd also like to be able to speak to a person about my queries, chat bots might be nice but it is not as intuitive as a human.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Right to invest but not everyone is digitally literate so don't forget them	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This sounds good but to do it properly will surely be very expensive in first place. Is this properly costed?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	A reduction in staff costs'- fortunately, technology does seem to have latterly gotten better, with gains in performance at quite possibly lower expense.	1. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Whilst digital services are more apt for many residents in West Lothian for many this is not something that can be used. Those with literacy issues, the elderly and those who can not afford to access digital services. My concern would be that those unable to work with the digital life would be left further isolated.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	good, your website can be "clunky" at times. However a more streamlined online access to the council shouldn't be an excuse for not being able to speak to someone.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I've found that the council's digital solutions, at least in relation to recycling, waste disposal, and also planning permission applications, have generally been user friendly and fit for purpose over the last three years. If digital solutions can be applied to other areas of council business while still maintaining functionality then this could be an area in which saving could be made. However, the acceptability of any changes depends on which processes or services might be automated and that is not explained in the consultation so far.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Services will need to be reviewed end to end and not just tinkered with around the edges if proper long-term transformation is required.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Systems changes inevitably involve a period of uncertainty, teething troubles - good communication goes a long way to helping with this and users more likely to be patient if they know what to expect (so, thanks for being open about an impact on customers). I appreciate that reducing staff numbers saves money but often such short term 'gains' for the organisation are lost when people with expertise and experience leave (these can't be replaced by a system).	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Copying my comment from IA as there are similarities: I think that digital solutions can be beneficial, however, staff 'on the ground' who know current systems, it's pros and cons, what works and what doesn't need to be listened to. Consultants may need to be brought in to co-ordinate systems changes but I've worked in big organisations that pushed forward big changes to systems where the consultants offered 'shiny baubles' but end product wasn't fit for purpose. Do not dismiss anything as 'just' operational!	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital transformation is definitely required to ensure continuous improvement. Similar to comments in 1A, there could be a risk that additional requirements from a digital perspective puts increased pressure onto current systems etc.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	That's fine for those members of the public who can access services online, for example. The technology should be a tool to aid people to do the job, not to replace people.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This is the key to providing council services	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This sounds reasonable but hopefully due consideration will be given to customers who cannot access technology	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Updating technology to meet customers' needs is a good idea.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Sounds like a plan that any modern business would implement when there is a budget deficit. WLC should be no different	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I would fully support this, though it remains important to be able to speak to an actual person when required.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I think that it is very important that the council invests in robust and use friendly digital services to ensure that customers can engage with the council in the same, simple ways in which we can in many other sectors.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	More and more people are using digital means to pay for services. I think this is a good way to save money.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As per above IT cost to implement, does your saving take this into account?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	How much needs to be spent to adopt technologies needed as apposed to the savings its estimated to save?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Again sounds reasonable	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This should be done but you have to bear in mind that some people are not digital savvy so they will still need help which should be available to them	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I agree with modernization till a point that it does not negatively effect the customer journey and does not leave the vulnerable behind.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The elderly residents need to be prioritised in the planning of this as they get left behind because they do not use the latest technology.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	We definitely need to be better equipped in schools with more/better digital technology, however this should be along side teachers not instead of. Children wouldn't cope without a teacher to guide and support them. We saw the effects of this in lockdown.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is working to ensure access to devices where relevant
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Agree with this proposal as long as an option is available to speak to staff if people need it.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	In order for technology to take the place of human labour, it needs to be fit for purpose. Surely there needs to be significant investment into the technology to improve what is already in use? How much investment will be required to save £502,000?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Fine, if people have access to the technology. What if they don't?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	One of the Council's strengths is it's customer service - ensure digital offerings are properly supported by expert staff.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This is fine but there are households that don't have easy access to internet and emails	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital. Technology- give customers the option of these and good old fashioned ability to speak to someone who is actually able to help.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	If services are maintained on a more efficient way, then fine.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As long as there remains a way to speak to someone if needed, this sounds fine. It is important, however, to remember that in some instances, people feel more reassured speaking to someone in person, particularly if there is a potential financial impact to them personally. Also, accessibility options need to be there for those less able/familiar with technology.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Technology is fantastic when it's working however you will always need a backup of people with pens & paper in case it all goes wrong	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I think this is a good way to save but it needs to be accessible for everyone and older people or those with disabilities may need support	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I agree with this proposal as long as online is user friendly with clear explanation	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	It is essential for the council keep up to date with new technology but relying on technology in place of in person or phone conversation may alienate members of the community such as elderly and those on low income.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I agree that the council should improve how they use technology and should increase automation for customers.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Please still allow those older or vulnerable users the options to speak to someone direct	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Such savings won't come immediately, indeed investment in digital services could result in costs increasing before decreasing.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I feel excellent websites and technology serves a lot of the public. A small help desk in the local library or partnership centre would be good for older people or those who don't have a device.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Greater use of digital services should be considered	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	More use of digital and technology is the way forward but also need to ensure no one left behind, so not digital or nothing	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Effective use of modern technology is essential for excellent service delivery.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As long as the system covers all types of responses.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	There must also be provision for people to access services without technology, for those without. It shouldn't be difficult to speak to someone on the phone, for example, when required.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital services can be a good thing but there are people in West Lothian who are unable to use these technologies , elderly, people with learning difficulties	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This sounds reasonable and in time with current digital progress worldwide	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Having access to more meetings on teams rather than face to face will save a lot of travelling and also reduce the need for so many pool cars and claims for mileage	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Not enough progress has been made by services in this area. Still too many paper-based processes and inefficient and expensive systems being propped up by services who cannot make the time to review their processes.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Although there is a need to move forward in the digital age an automated service can be problematic for the elderly, people with learning and physical disabilities. People who find it difficult to use an automated system may feel there is a barrier between WLC and themselves. Automated systems need to be user friendly and less time consuming to access the service required.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digitalisation can be very useful and some customers will prefer this however we must not isolate those that do not have access to use these services, are not comfortable with them. ; ; Sometimes you actually need to speak to a human being.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Be good to have up to date digital services	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As above it hard to say without more information but digital 'solutions' often hinder the customer and move the issue further down the line. We have all had to go through frustrating automated systems when it would be simpler to speak to a person or given up on doing something because the automated process isn't fit for purpose. I'd be wary that digital transformation, done badly, won't support some people, usually the old or less able.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	A good idea though has the risk of anyone who is unsure of using technology is marginalised.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Although this can produce great savings not everyone has access to online facilities	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I think automated services can be useful to handle general enquiries but do believe that there is still a large requirement to talk to a real person and that it needs to be an easy process to do so, especially, but not exclusively for those not so technologically minded like many of the elderly	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	100% improve digital services and remove manned helpdesks	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I don't think investing in automated technologies will necessarily lead to a reduction in staff costs but it will likely make processes more efficient and take a lot of manual, time consuming tasks away from staff which will allow them to spend their time on more important areas and allow us to streamline a lot of work that is carried out on a day to day basis. We may even be able to remove some systems due to automating workflows which would lead to a reduction in cost. From a customer point of view, they would receive faster replies/processing of requests which is always good	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As said, while more people might be accessing digital services, there's a sizeable proportion of the population who have poor digital skills and/or no access to technology - how will these people be considered in any move towards technology based solutions? What is the satisfaction rates with proposed technological solutions? Things like chatbots can be frustrating for customers.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Explore all digital means as a cost saver.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	More online forms/enquiries/requests/payments, but still have the ability for people to complete paper forms/face to face/telephone enquiries as not everyone has the means to do things online	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital transformation is certainly the forward as long as consideration is given to customers who struggle with the technology needed	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This seems a sensible approach and important to link in digitally in a way that the general public are comfortable with. However, recognition that some groups struggle with digital platforms and the cost of living crisis is likely to mean some in the community won't have internet access at how. So arrangements must ensure no one falls between the gaps.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	A positive move but the sections of community that struggle with access to technology should not be forgotten. Our hardest to reach and most deprived communities have to be supported more as the cost-of-living increases. Possibly through more services in those communities and not less	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Yes this is essential. Using consultancies based in Scotland with local capabilities and local skills to partner with.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.

This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	You need to ensure that there are alternatives for people that do not have access to computers, and cannot access your buildings.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital communication is great when you can find what you want, but a nightmare when you can't and wastes so much time. Other ways of contact must be in place for those who can't cope with the digital world.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Everyone uses computers now so having more digital services is always going to be better and quicker. That would decrease a lot of cost on staff and paper, postage etc	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This is entirely depended on the stability and accessibility of the digital services and whether or not ENOUGH manual services remain to support customer who can't or choose not to use them	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	There are still a few older folk out there who do still like paper. I am all in favour of digitising as much info as possible providing all contact details are up to date.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Try getting up-to-date tech	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Again, depending on the digital solutions implemented additional technical resource may be required to support and maintain the solution	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The council will adopt technologies that will deliver automated processes.... ; Everyone hates automated services when they want to speak to someone. Explain why automation is necessary or you will get lots of complaints. Don't automate things that are irregular, it is too complicated and wont work.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	More digital transformation sets up for future	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Perfect for customers who work and cannot access services who work 9-5 but need to have support in place for elderly and for when problems arise.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Of course the Council will need to 'go digital' [even more than it has already] but at every level and in every service please test all services with 'how is this for a non-digital or digital dinosaur customer/service user?' I reckon that some of us could be around for another 15+ years and we are very slow learners. In stressful situations and difficulties our digital confidence evaporates and sometimes this can seriously impede access to services/information.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Once again reducing staff is not the way forward and the idea of it absolutely disgusts me while we are going through so much hardship. The council should be looking to improve their current technologies as they are shoddy at best	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Not going digital and making your processes more efficient now will cost more in the long run. More efficient self service, via intuitive digital customer journey design will take a lot of pain out of the way people interact with your organisation and the many areas within but you have to get it right - people are used to slick customer journeys nowadays.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Money will initially need to be spent in this area in order to ultimately cut costs. The technology must be fit for purpose and effective.; Staff need decent technology to work from home with.; As much as possible systems need to be digital.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Encouragement of the use of on-line enquiry forms with on-line maps and photos etc added. ; ;	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This is all very good but with an ageing public they need people not automated answers	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital Transformation has benefits but there also needs to be ways for older people and other harder to reach people, who do not have or know how to use technology, to have an appropriate level of access to council services.	1. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Similar comment to above, digital transformation is to be expected, but the intuitiveness of some online provisions is not there. As a digitally savvy person, I struggle. How will you ensure those less familiar with digitisation can use the services they need?	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Agree that we need to move with changes in technology, but please do not do so at the expense of the many you serve who cannot adapt to technology. There needs to be an adequate mix of ways of working until the generations catch up with technological approaches. And it can be more efficient to just talk to someone to get the answer that is needed, so please keep options available.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	If the Council's very limited ability to answer phones is any guide, you will have to improve implementation of digital solutions significantly.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council continues to offer different kinds of access for customers. This can be speaking to someone in person through an office, by telephone through the contact centre or digitally through our website or other online portals.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Being honest but respectful, staff that are needed to use phones or speak to people face to face, don't always have people skills, so reducing this could in fact allow companies and individuals use services provided by the council more effectively	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council continues to offer different kinds of access for customers. This can be speaking to someone in person through an office, by telephone through the contact centre or digitally through our website or other online portals.

The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Through the Council's Business Gateway Service support is tailored to meet the needs and requirements of individual businesses.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Agree with this, however, services need to be better aware of the package of support available in order to review the way they currently maximise the use of digital solutions.	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	this is forward thinking as in todays world automated processes and multi-media customer services are the future, unfortunately this does have an impact on staff and it is inevitable that there will be some reduction. I would believe some of this may be covered by natural attrition with staff leaving or retiring	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This works if there is proper investment in the technology and staff available when the technology fails, or where people without access to technology are appropriately supported	1. The respondent advised that they agree with the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The cost of modernising any service must not be borne by making cuts to deliver said efficiencies.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance. There are rigorous internal scrutiny arrangements in place to assure the quality of our services and we are also subject to external audit and inspection.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As stated above: If more technology is being brought in, rather than staff, not everyone is necessarily able to use these technologies, whether they have digital skills or not and many don't have any digital skills.; Plus, using more technology drives people out of jobs. This may save the council money but won't help the workers, especially in the current economic climate and will drive up the unemployment figure in West Lothian	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The more and more we go down this route, the less faceless we become to the public who should be encouraged to deal with us directly as it will add additional mental health problems if you take away them being able to see someone - have a chat - gets them out their house for a bit of sanity. They used to say robots will take over and if feels like we're heading down that route just to be able to tick a box and get rid of staff just like that after them possibly working for years working their socks off delivering the service that the public want. There are thousands of the public who can't manage on line forms new technologies and have problems with disabilities / health issues etc who rely on us to help them get what they are entitled to so that's a big problem and if it's hard to get further information from them to complete applications for benefits etc so what's the chance of automation working	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I think this organisation is sadly lacking in this area. It seems that we have constant system issues with our existing systems with long winded and time -consuming workarounds often being put in place, there is little or no discussion/consultation between service areas resulting in multiple systems which do not integrate with each other and do not take into account the needs of the customer. The current process to "automate" some CSC calls seems to have changed course and is now about improving forms on CRM- how is that even classed as automation, in fact this is a step backwards and not forwards as the web browser version that we are moving to is unable to handle e-mail traffic. How will this facilitate the required savings and reduction in staff needed to meet those savings?	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.

The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Not everyone is digitally confident and pushing more services this way could alienate the elderly and other vulnerable people in the community	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Again what would happen to the people currently within these jobs? Will they be redeployed elsewhere within the authority structure.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As a wlc tenant I prefer speaking to customer service agents via the phone rather than using the online options and I am concerned for the older generations who are not confident with digital technology will they still be able to access services in the way they are used to doing so	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	You have not explicitly said how you intend to do this.; Staff redundancy? Would cost an enormous amount of money. Technology costs a lot of money. Lot's of nice words but no actual strategy.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council has made significant investment in the IT infrastructure and will continue to allocate appropriate resources to introduce new technology where appropriate. The council's ICT Strategy seeks to deliver change in line with advances in technology and changes in council priorities, whilst still having a clear framework within which to operate.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The council has already cut staff back to the bone through TYC. There are very few people left to deliver qualitative services. Employees are working long hours and sickness absence is on the increase due to stress and anxiety.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is committed to working with employees and trade unions in managing changes to its organisational structures and staffing requirements. The council will seek to achieve agreement to change through constructive and open dialogue. Employee wellbeing is a priority for the council and a range of support and resources are available for employees and managers to access.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Automated technologies are not always accurate. You can't replace physically speaking to someone, there is also a lot of time wasted on waiting to get through, the device not understanding etc. Older people likely to struggle.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As before, the people on the ground are best placed re this. They know the information they need. The public hates automated systems for a reason, they don't work properly with Scottish accents. Nor do you necessarily have a menu that gets the person where they want to go. Elderly members of the public do not like using these services, they want to talk to a person. False economy.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Eventually good for service, but probably fictional savings as the cost of automating the services will far exceed expectations unless properly estimated by an experienced team without ulterior motives.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	You provide services, services are customer focused, digital transformation is not always the best way to go, as many private sector organisations have discovered. The services you provide require people to provide them get rid of high salaries with least positive impact and the provide better customer focused services.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council continually reviews service provision using our Best Value Framework to ensure that we deliver value for the public and continue to achieve the expected levels of performance. There are rigorous internal scrutiny arrangements in place to assure the quality of our services and we are also subject to external audit and inspection.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	IT alone is not the solution. Large parts of the public still cannot or will not engage via online services. They must not be excluded.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Not everyone is comfortable with all the digitalisation taking place - "real" people cannot be replaced purely by going all digital; Reduce the top tier of all management positions - too many are duplicated	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The team I work in is already fully online. So I would struggle to understand how further cuts can be made through technology. Our customers are also feeding back that they would prefer not to deal with us through self service and automation as much of the legislation we deal with is very technical and will vary from job to job so cannot easily be dealt with through tick boxes and online tools.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Saving £502,000 but how much to set up? Joke	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Again where and how? Not enough information. Are you getting rid of call centre, customer information centre and library staff and forcing people to contact you via chat, email and via the website? If so, this is NOT inclusive and will impact the elderly, disabled, carers, low income families and people with limited computer literacy.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Imagine the worst person with technology that you know, now assume a large number of people relying on your services are even worse with technology. This just passes the burden on to other services to provide assistance with the technology.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	cutting cost and council jobs to line your own pockets is not the way to go with many of these services unaccessible	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Ehat about the elderly that do not have access to computers?!?	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	What exactly will change? Everything already is by email or phone. Will there now be FAQs and nothing else i.e. no human contact? If so dreadful idea both I terms of job losses and assistance for vulnerable members of the community. Basically emergencies will end up with Police or some other body just passing on costs.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Need to remember an ageing population do not always have access to or knowledge of how to use systems. Continually asking people to go online for information is not good customer relations nor is the continual arrangement of having to make an appointment to go and even hand a letter in to council buildings. E.g. Arrochar House.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	We still need to provide face to face service with customers. Not everyone wants to use technology or is confident using it, including staff. Face to face staff training instead of links galore in Objective	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	People need answers to questions, not an automated response, you are dealing with clients who may need reassurance to individual questions, not fqa's.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Some people will not be able to access services digitally and so some face to face contact must continue. Also, there has to be robust back up for when the inevitable failure of the digital service occurs.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Not everyone has the skills, the equipment or even the inclination to go digital. Council services need to be accessible by everyone.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Customers may still need additional support to access services, not all people are comfortable using digital solutions.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The Council website and customer dashboards etc are at present ridiculous and totally ineffective. For example, reporting housing repairs is so pointless and longwinded and basically involves adding a step of filling out an online form and several days later receiving a phone call from council staff to actually book the repair.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council and its housing services are in the process of improving online services for tenants. The council successfully completes over 100,000 repairs on average per year. For urgent or emergency repairs we recommend phoning the contact centre directly for a repair booking and assistance. Where the repair is non-urgent there can be varying lead times as staff manage work across our 14,000 homes and deal with external pressures on the service
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The labour-Tory council coalition has some serious questions to answer if this goes ahead.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Automated do not always offer good customer service and can lead to frustrations and causing further customer complaints.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Again, similar comments to part 1A. This strategy is great in theory but not in practice. The council end up wasting more money on systems that don't work and lead to an increased level of staff involvement to fix these issues or work around it and are stuck with the system. Either that or the system gets replaced prematurely because it doesn't work and for the same cost, we could increase staff wages or hire another member of staff.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Also, what happens to customers who can't or won't use technology. It isn't just older people who struggle, there are plenty of younger people that do too. Whether its lack of access to technology due to income or difficulties using the technology. Do they just fall by the wayside? Who does that help?	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Despite the rhetoric about digital, the council needs to do more in this area. I don't believe that the money we have invested in digital has been money well spent - there has to be a cost/benefit analysis to ensure we are delivering actual transformation and not wasting money "playing at it".	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I personally do not think that by using more systems and reducing staff that the council will be more effective. In previous years we have invested in new systems only to find out that they are not compatible with other systems we currently use. sometimes it can take twice as long to do simple tasks as you need to input info twice into 2 different systems (TMS and MyHR are the systems I am aware off)	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	More staff cuts when most people are already struggling. Digital solutions are only any use when they work.....much better dealing with human beings than computers.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Will there be enough staff to allow those who are not digitally literate to be able to get help when needed, as well as someone to take a call if the technology doesn't provide the help or answers required?	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Again, this will only work if the technology is good enough. They buffer too much as the server can't cope! A lot of devices are old & unable to operate properly as well as not having enough.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	There is nothing more frustrating than making a phonecall to a council service only to be put on a loop of automated voices and choices. It is not more efficient only hugely irritating and totally counter productive in terms of efficacy.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This is rubbish , what people need to talk to are real people as older folks have real problems along with disabled and people with learning difficulties and the last thing they need is more automation .	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Not everything is accessible online. Not everyone can do it. I've just spent a day with a blind customer and training our dept up on digital and accessibility. West lothian Council is not ready for this. Too many older people, less advantaged people. ; I want paper things, I want things offline and in person. By the way, I am a product owner for a digital app across Europe and council has a long way to go before this can even be thought about.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I appreciate the savings however as I said previously not everyone can use technology therefore you are discriminating against people who cannot use the technology	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As a customer as well as an employee of West Lothian Council Digital Automation makes people feel that the Council does not care when the only contact you can use is the digital portal. For instance if your bin is not collected for any reason the only way to report it is through the WLC website. Now if this has happened multiple times in the last six months there is nowhere to report repeated and systemic problems too except by talking to your local councillor and I am sure they have more important work to be doing than bin collections.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The answer is not to constantly cut the number of staff and make things digital. Without adequate staffing, there is no opportunity to develop or provide learning at an acceptable standard. Current staff are in burnout and leaving the profession at an unprecedented rate due to impacts on their health and wellbeing. The job is not sustainable and I have considered leaving the profession myself due to this as it is taking over my home life as well.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Automation = Robot programmes. Councils are designed to provide services and require one to one communication. Automating/replacing frontline services will (especially with the older generation and those with cognitive impairments) have a significant impact on these client groups ability to understand what stage an application/enquiry is at.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	You cannot match the service you currently provide whilst cutting costs, decisions should be made as to what we can no longer provide to ensure that what we do provide is of an acceptable standard and useful. There is no point in investing in technology without ensuring support networks are available otherwise the service is only available to those who can work it out.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital solutions are great when they are effective. We have already seen a move with training towards video recordings and online modules. This is not and has never been a quality learning experience and it seems to me the council does not value quality - they value cheap solutions that tick a box regardless of the impact on improvement.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	See answer to 1A. The council must realise that IT, if not properly designed is very poor in dealing with the variety of demand that residents place on a service organisation such as the council. Digital solutions need to be supported by easy to access help of a trained human being(s) if the drive for digitisation is to be successful. It is crucial that services are designed to be accessible from the client's point of view, and for ALL of the community who need to access them - as its more likely that those most in need of council services will also have a significant barrier to accessing digital technology. It is crucial that saving do not cut the capacity for this support to be offered.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The key factor in pupil development, support and improvement is working with qualified teachers and supportive adults. Pupils learn best when directed and supported by a trained, nurturing individual. This cannot be achieved through technology. In fact many pupils are "tired" of this approach due to online learning and lockdown. They lack motivation to complete these tasks and much prefer the social and human side of learning.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Try actually hiring COMPETENT people from within the community! - Digital transformation happened 20 years ago! Multi-media? You've never been interested in the input from genuine experts in the past - you don't know who to ask or what to ask; instead it's yet another area where cronyism rules and you expect to be able to tick-box your way to rote solutions; that never work!	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Not all people are tech savvy. This goes especially for our older residents who much prefer to talk to and to see real people.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital Transformation is a mess so instead of handing out more and more well-paid jobs and promotion to the digital team, Get rid of that team and let services need to be able to make decisions and move forward. We don't need a team of staff "consultants" who earn far more than they deliver	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The digital Transformation team has not achieved one single saving. Any minor improvement to service would have been achieved if services had been resourced properly in the first place.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Take an example, there is a big surge in online mental health apps and the like, partly because of Covid and cost of living challenges but also because the NHS mental health services aren't adequately funded or staffed. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	It depends how far behind your systems are. There is always room for improvement but please bear in mind my earlier comments on inclusion and accessibility.; Be honest about your own experiences with the Digital Transformation in the real world. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I do not agree with more automated services as they only stress people out. There are elderly people who just do not understand the automated systems, people with severe mental health issues who become more anxious because they cant speak to an actual person	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	NO, this won't happen. There is utter inequity on provision of technology within the council already- for example 3 new secondary schools- half empty with state of the art technology and other schools scrambling around with old tech that barely works. This is bump without clear strategy-	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Again, how is this all going to work with the energy crisis we are facing. Automated services are fine while they work, a nightmare when they don't and how are they going to work if we are facing rolling blackouts over the winter? Please do not underestimate the telephone. I find nothing more frustrating than trying to speak to a human being while faced with press option 44, when you have already been on the telephone for sometimes an hour.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I am not in support of making it more difficult to raise concerns with an individual person. The council must prioritise this service particularly for the elderly or those without internet access.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Your automated services are already appalling. Being a full time worker I have found reaching the council sometimes impossible - especially when I have my own time limitations. I'm assuming this makes the future even more bleak?	2. Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	In my experience since covid, it can be really difficult to get the support you need which decreases efficiency and increases other services work loads when services cannot be answered within a timely fashion or clarity comes from 'teams' rather than having a named contact to seek advise and support from.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As a disabled person with limited digital knowledge and mental health issues I struggle to use technology outside of the home, whether shopping or banking or other day to day functions that force the use of digital technology, I prefer the Human touch where at least if I have an issue I can ask questions and get a real answer and not be told that my question has not been recognised, maybe if the council employed and trained people who are there to help and not just direct you to the council website etc etc then maybe things would improve, what happened to good old human interaction? this would be a good place to re-employ the council members who are losing the council money.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital Access to services is already poor. Too much emphasis to make person to person access harder and then claim those services are not being used.; Fed up of being told all questions answered on websites. No they are not and there should be some access to a human to deal properly with enquiries.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The council doesn't have enough money to buy decent IT hardware or software. We can't rely on the rubbish that is peddled to the public sector. The new CRM and Itrent are good examples of the poor software packages on offer our price range. It has already been shown that automated processes need just as many staff to keep them going as they were designed to replace. And the most important point - the customers can't or won't use the technology. So, the most vulnerable in our communities miss out.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	In my service, customers cannot reach daytime service staff as they are instead offered a voicemail facility or email which leaves them frustrated. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Not necessarily easier for everyone. Sometimes want to talk to a human being.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	still want to be able to talk to a council staff member instead of being on hold for so long	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I don't understand how this is different/ not incorporated into the 1A programme outlined above.	2. Your response will be forwarded to the relevant council officer for consideration.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Older people like to see someone in person or on the other end of a phone. This might suit the young, but hinders older people and those with global learning needs or certain disabilities or language difficulties including English as a second language.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Merely digitisation is not enough. Booked a bulk uplift several weeks ago , didn't turn up, had to call twice to be told they will turn up following day. Waste of my time, waste of council call handler time	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	The current services with the reduced level of staff are inefficient so how would replacing what's staff you still have left make these services become efficient once again ? As both a resident and worker it is already difficult to get communication with regards to services without further reduction. This is also a concern for the elderly population of West Lothian who will now not be able to access these services due to inaccessibility.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	To associate automated services with accessibility is a great misconception. Many people with barriers, either age, additional needs, or quite frankly with unique circumstances can find automated services frustrating and overwhelming. In such instances, service users may simply avoid using services they previously would have if they've become automated.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I have used your online system and at present it is poor and confusing. You cannot assume that everyone has digital access especially the elderly who could feel intimidated by these systems. If everything goes digital what about the health and well-being of people who may only get human contact by arriving at council offices. What happens when systems go down. Shouldn't be relying on everything going digital.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	the salaries within the digital transformation team are enormous in comparison to the service provided or the outcomes achieved to date. What has been achieved that the team are rewarded with promotions ? The savings to date were handed out to services and the DT team achieved nothing. There's a saving straight away. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Nothing ever gets done if you contact the council electronically. In our experience you either need to go in person or wait an eternity on the phone so it will only get worse if you go even more automated.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This approach will adversely affect the most vulnerable individuals and families in the area. The ones least likely to be internet savvy or even have access to wifi. This is likely to be a false saving with other staff required to support vulnerable individuals to engage with digital services instead.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Thank you for your comment. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	People still need face to face with the Council. Trying to push more & more into digital makes the Council as a service less accessible for all and very impersonal.; In certain services blended working is best.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Again heavy investment in technology would be required - current systems are insufficient so a complete overhaul of what we have now would be required. How many times do the web forms currently available for customers and online payments go down at the moment? What do customers do when new on line services go down? They call in looking for the service to be provided or to make a payment but will there be sufficient staff after a saving of £502K to provide customers with a service. ;	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Not everyone is comfortable using technology and prefer to talk to someone face to face to resolve issues. Plus, a lot of tech help is useless, eg: phone lines, you don't get anything resolved, the systems are often down. People feel confident talking to a person for certain issues, rather than a machine. Feel that person to person issues would get resolved easier.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Very concerned about this point in relation to "greater use of technology to deliver the curriculum". Online learning is not the answer for our young people and nothing replaces face to face lessons and input from a qualified teacher in person. It has negative impacts on children and staff mental health, even for short periods of time. It increases the workload for the staff and causes technical issues, anxiety and concerns for parents to fund the technology to access these lessons. Not everyone can afford the technology, it is not always possible to have stable connections to the internet and ultimately ends up having to have an adult around to support the child rather than it being an independent learning task! ; ;	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As per my response to 1A, If things can be automated for staff to use then that's great but if its to replace staff then I'm not convinced - typically technology isn't a human and can misinterpret questions thus requiring the council to then spend on outsourcing a helpdesk which would ultimately cost them more than the staff they have let go of. Or only a few staff are retained who then take on the jobs of 2 or 3 staff that have left causing burnout (sick leave) or resignations. I still prefer to go to a human on the checkout in supermarkets because there's always an issue with the self-service checkouts, that only 1 staff member are manning, and it ends up taking longer and is frustrating!!	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	As stated previously, across services it is increasingly difficult to get to speak to a person with more and more services being reliant on people going online, filling in forms or working their way through computer checklists. This can be extremely frustrating for customers and can disadvantage those without access to technology.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Or you could keep staff and cut them at the tops salaries	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council regularly reviews the organisational structure and operations for efficiency and effectiveness. There are statutory functions that the council must, by law, have in place. However, where there are opportunities to streamline business processes and reduce inefficiencies, the council will act appropriately to ensure that we are operating as efficiently as possible and delivering value for money.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Digital "solutions" have NEVER created greater efficiencies and repeatedly indicate the raising of further "tech" complexities with the advent of increasing the computerised diversity of data acquisition. How and what estimated savings of £502,000 are being discussed here?	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Our customer interactions and feedback clearly show that people are increasing choosing to use our digital services. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Lot of rubbish	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The comment is not detailed enough to allow a response
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	A lot of customers have no Internet access	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Some people would rather speak to someone as try and work out a system. Older generations don't always trust technology.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Same comments as 1A. WLC is becoming more and more distanced from its customers. It is already difficult to contact council staff and get to speak to someone who is able to deal with your query. This is even worse if you are someone with disabilities who finds the use of technology and being stuck on the phone for ages etc too difficult and don't have anyone to support you. People who most need help are at risk of becoming more and more vulnerable with the current proposals.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	what digital transformation? To date, that has amounted to; creating a specific team to write reports, fiddle about with a few things that are easy and don't save any money. Introduce other types of e forms that we had anyway, increased the amount of systems we use....the list goes on.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	This is unacceptable and children should be taught by specialist members of staff rather than through digital forms where less support can be provided.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	Customers who transact with the council through digital services return positive feedback on their experience, however, we will always look for ways to improve the customer experience and welcome feedback on how we can do better.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Always a concern are residents who are unable to access technologies either due to a lack of access to technology or a lack of knowledge of how to use technology. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Again this is presumptuous and discriminatory. Those with learning disabilities, no digital literacy and no access to online faculties therefore face access issues. Providing a service which only meets the needs of the able majority is not providing a public service.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I disagree with this. The worst thing ever invented was automated processes. Please do not reduce staff for this. The elderly will not be able to access multi-media customer services without training and you are at risk of isolating the most vulnerable. I say this from experience.	2. Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	; ; The most effective services are where people are able to speak with someone who can assist them - rather than being asked to press a button, hold, leave a message, send an email. Please remember that the people who answer your telephones are actually more efficient than those who wade through emails.	2. This offers customers greater choice and flexibility in the way that they access services and we are working to increase our use of technology across the council and improve the efficiency of our processes and response/resolution times for customers.
Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	I have concerns about digital by default unless accessibility is taken into account from the start. More details are needed.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council will continue to offer customers choice in the way that they access services, including telephone, face-to-face, email and contacts via the council website. We understand that some customers may find digital services challenging and there are alternatives in place to allow them to continue to access council services in other ways. The council must though find ways to reduce operating costs and make our processes more efficient and this will involve supporting more customers to move to digital services and making better use of technology.

Modernising our council	1C Digital Transformation	Investment in digital solutions will not be sufficient on its own. Ongoing commitment to maintain and support these services will be required on an ongoing basis. It is not clear that digital solutions deliver a low cost solution. Often the cost is simply transferred to profits for private sector organisations based outwith West Lothian thereby creating a net flow of revenue away from the local economy.	2. The respondent advised that they either did not agree or did not believe the council should consider the proposal.	The council is actively reviewing the number and usage of systems and applications that are in place as part of our plans to rationalise systems and improve our management of data and information.
